WORKING PEOPLE PLEASED WITH ACTION OF COUNCIL UPON THE GAS QUESTION

Their Part in Bringing Matters to a Focus Was an Important One—Company's Belated Reply.

The action taken by the city council on the gas question will be gratifying to the members of the several trades unions in the city, and especially to the delegates from these unions to the central labor body, who were instrumental in having the matter taken up by the city council. The report which will be made to the Trades Council at its meeting to be held this week will be interesting, and at the same time demonstrate that the representatives of that body have accomplished something along the lines laid down from the beginning.

When the gas grab matter was placed in the hands of the legislative committee of the central labor union, it was the intention to have the city council back up its action in the passage of the ordinance restricting the price to be charged for natural gas. The citizens' committee was formed later on and the Trades Council committee connected itself with the organization, believing that much good could be accomplished in this way also. It has been shown they were not mistaken. However, the plans of the latter body changed the arrangement somewhat, since the citizens' association resolved to ask the city council to assume the responsibility of a concentrated movement to stop the proposed increase. For that reason the mixed committee of business men, councilmen and workers was appointed. It was through the persistent efforts of these men that the council has taken the stand for an injunction.

A member of the Trades Council who is one of its representatives on the citizens' committee said to a News Review reporter last evening:

"It was not the intention of the legislative committee of the central labor union, nor is it the purpose of the body as a whole, to go to any expense in order to secure the court decision. It is the opinion of the members of the Trades Council, who, by the way, are all citizens and many of them taxpayers, that the city, through its legislative body, was the proper power to back up the ordinance restricting the rates.

"The action taken by the council at its special session Saturday evening was nothing more than had been expected of it, and did not cover a particle more ground than it should. The citizens have a perfect right to demand and receive protection at the hands of the city council. The move of the gas corporation to foist the unjust increase upon the private consumer was as unreasonable as it is inexcusable, and the workers of the city, as well as the citizens generally, did not ask too much when they called upon the city council for relief. To the present the members of the council have responded nobly to the demands of the people, and it is to be hoped they will continue as aggressive until the gas companies are either put out of business or are made to realize that they are not bigger than the city of East Liverpool."

The following letter was received from the Pittsburg office of the gas corporation yesterday, and to a majority of citizens seems like a superfluity at this late date:

BIG TREE FELL UPON A FARMER

Hugh Rose, of Highlandtown, Crippled For Life By An Accident.

Salineville, September 1.—(Special)—Hugh Rose, a prominent and well known farmer residing near Highlandtown, met with an accident Saturday that will probably leave him a cripple for life. He left his home for a tract of timber to fell trees. While cutting down a large oak he failed to reach a place of safety, and a huge limb of the falling tree struck him on the shoulders and grazed his back down to his lower limbs. He was running away from the tree when the accident occurred.

After he had collected his senses, he walked, with much difficulty, for a physician to Salineville. An examination revealed that no bones were broken but the back of the man was somewhat bruised, and his kidneys were strained. He was very sore and almost unable to move yesterday.

Groundhog Hunter Near Wellsville Comes Very Near Meeting Death.

LEGS FILLED WITH SHOT

While hunting ground hogs near Wellsville yesterday afternoon, Ollie Pinkerton, a prominent young man of that city, was painfully injured by the accidental discharge of a shot gun in the hands of Jesse Graham, his companion. Pinkerton's limbs were literally filled with shot and while the wounds are not considered dangerous, they are of a serious character.

The boys had been creeping along the ground, Graham, with the gun, in the rear of Pinkerton. Graham stumbled and in trying to recover himself, both barrels of the gun were discharged. With a groan young Pinkerton sank to the ground and Graham, badly frightened, hastened for assistance.

The wounded boy was taken to his home, where Dr. Hutchison rendered medical attention. It was found that 19 of the shot entered the calf of his right leg and 17 entered the calf of his left leg. The shots were removed and Pinkerton is showing signs of improvement.

Liberal Offer Made by Senator William Flinn to Rev. H. C. Chambers.

POPULAR YOUNG MINISTER

Whose Home Is in This City the Winner of a Seminary Scholarship, Now in Receipt of a Greater Gift from Wealthy Pittsburgers.

The many friends of Rev. Hubert C. Chambers in this city will read with interest and satisfaction the announcement that ex-State Senator William Flinn and Mrs. Flinn, of Pittsburg, have given their pledge to support Mr. Chambers in mission work in India for life. Mr. Chambers was graduated from the Allegheny Theological seminery last May. He will go into foreign mission fields for ten years before he returns on a furlough. Mr. and Mrs. Flinn have agreed to support Mr. Chambers while he is engaged in mission work, and as he goes out to make the cause his life work there is every likelihood that Mr. and Mrs. Flinn will support him in that work during his lifetime. Mrs. Flinn is a member of the United Presbyterian church. Mr. Chambers will leave for his future field of labor some time in October.

Mr. and Mrs. Flinn selected one of the most promising young men of the denomination to send to the India field. Mr. Chambers was the winner of the Thomas Jamieson scholarship on church history, which was awarded for the first time during last summer. The scholarship is valued at about $150. The award was for the best work in the department during the course of three years. Mr. Chambers was one of the principal factors in forwarding the missionary conference which was held in the seminary last spring, which has revived in the church in this community the interest in foreign missions.

Mr. Chambers was born in East Liverpool, and was graduated from Westminster college, New Wilmington, and then entered the seminary. He was married a short time ago.

The scholarship won by Mr. Chambers was given by Mrs. Thomas Jamieson, widow of Thomas Jamieson, of Pittsburg, who was anxious to help the students. Last year Mrs. Jamieson gave $10,000 for four scholarships in theology. Old Testament work, New Testament work and church history. Rev. R. W. Walker won the Old Testament scholarship; Rev. George E. Raitt, of the Sixth church, Pittsburg, the New Testament scholarship; Rev. A. H. Baldinger the one in theology and Mr. Chambers the scholarship in church history.

CRUELTY AND ABUSE CHARGED BY WIFE

Mrs. Henry Barth, of Teegarden, Tells a Sad Story in a Divorce Petition.

Lisbon, September 1.—(Special.)—Another divorce petition has been filed by Attorney Lodge Riddle, of Lisbon. The plaintiff is Hattie Barth, of Teegarden, who desires legal separation from Henry Barth. They were married August 12, 1894, and have three children, Floyd, Josephine and Mary, of whom the wife asks the custody.

Mrs. Barth charges extreme cruelty, alleging that on June 15 last her husband dealt her a blow on the shoulder and again in July struck her in the chest, pushed her off the porch and continued to abuse her until she was obliged to flee to a neighbor's home for protection. On August 24, she says her husband struck her in the face and pushed her against a stove. She further says that on numerous occasions her husband has called her vile names, reflecting on her chastity.

The defendant has been enjoined from disposing of farm implements, live stock and crops, valued at about $300, pending a hearing of the case, the defendant having petitioned for alimony.

HIS OBJECTIONS WERE ALL IN VAIN

BITTER TALK TO MAYOR

Newton Croxall, the young man who was arrested Saturday night while in a disorderly house in Jethro Hollow, and who was fined $50 and costs upon his plea of guilty, protested strongly against the amount imposed. He was not alone in his protest; his father, Newton Croxall, the West End councilman, also taking exceptions to the fine.

The councilman appeared at the city hall last evening and assailed the mayor in very strong terms. He said that the reason the mayor had fined his boy so large an amount was because he wanted to get even with him for introducing the police ordinance. He also said that he had heard that Chief Wyman had made the remark that he would not rest until Croxall, Jr., was again behind the penitentiary walls at Columbus. The mayor and chief were indignant at the accusations and were not slow in telling the irate councilman so.

Young Croxall acted in a manner when arrested that would have warranted the mayor in imposing the full penalty. He called the chief every vile and dirty name that could be imagined and topped it off by striking him in the face.

People in the vicinity of Jethro Hollow are pleased and think that they may get rid of the disorderly houses.

Since the houses have been running so openly property in that section of the city has deteriorated in value at least 500 per cent, says a prominent man, and unless they are made to leave the property will be absolutely worthless.

CRIP CAIN IS CAUCHT AND PROBABLY BOOKED FOR THE PENITENTIARY

Has Made Life a Hell For Two Women Besides Being Declared Guilty of House-Breaking.

The prayer of Milo ("Crip") Cain that he be given a free ride to the state capital, which he has been heard to utter several times of late, will very likely be answered before snow falls. He is now in jail charged with housebreaking, which if proven—and there are two witnesses who swear that they saw him commit the act—will undoubtedly give him another taste of the life behind the big stone walls.

Cain was arrested last evening about 9:30 by Officers Woods and Bryan and taken to the city jail, where a charge of drunk and disorderly was registered against him. He is an old offender. Being a cripple, Chief Wyman was on the verge of giving him a tie-ticket this morning when a woman in tears walked into central station and declared that she wanted to prefer a charge against him. The chief listened to her story.

The woman was Mrs. Hugo Stahl, who, it will be remembered, came to this city last October in search of her husband, who had deserted her and their two small children. She was penniless and friendless upon her arrival and for several weeks was dependent on the township authorities. Being energetic, however, it was not long until she procured work and a Mrs. Hughes, of Dewdrop alley, taking pity on her, fitted up three rooms and gave them to her at the very small rental of $5 per month. Since locating in that house the woman has cared for her little ones by hard toil, washing for a living.

Upon the arrival of Mrs. Stahl at the Hughes home Cain was boarding there. Mrs. Hughes had also pitied him because of his crippled arm. He was not a boarder long until he started to abuse his landlady, and Mrs. Stahl says, treated her most shamefully. She would flee to the rooms of Mrs. Stahl for protection. Cain carried on in that manner until he was run out of the city by the police for his attack on Officer Aufderheide.

After staying away until he thought the matter had died down Cain came back about 10 days ago and, it is said, he has made the homes of Mrs. Hughes and Mrs. Stahl a veritable hell since then. Time and again he has gone to the house in a drunken condition and abused the pair awfully. Once he told Mrs. Hughes that if she did not give him money he would kill her and bury her in the cellar. Only last Sunday night he applied at the house for admittance and when refused he began to storm around until the women were so frightened that Mrs. Stahl secured a gun and would have shot him had he not run.

It seems that he was drunker than usual last evening when he made another attempt to get some money from Mrs. Hughes. She heard him coming and locking the doors ran into the home of Mrs. Stahl. Cain broke down the screen door. While he was still storming the officers reached the scene.

Mrs. Hughes is lying deathly sick at her home and Mrs. Stahl has just recovered from a week in bed. Mrs. Stahl wanted to prefer a charge against him, but Mayor Weaver though it best to have Mrs. Hughes do that, and the chief executive went to her home shortly before noon today with the necessary papers.

Mrs. Stahl imparted startling information to the mayor when she said that Cain had told her many times that he had committed enough deeds to insure his incarceration in the penitentiary for life, but that the mayor was not slick enough to land him. He is now landed.

The boats were jockeyed around the starting point for several hours in hopes that the wind would raise and give them a fair chance for making the race within the limit, but the sea remained calm and it was decided to call the race off until tomorrow.

Va., came to the Hotel Maine in Bridgeport Saturday night and inquired for a man by the name of Smith, who was here with the carnival company. The proprietor knew the girl, and suspecting that all was not right, informed Marshal Thompson. After giving her her supper the marshal purchased a ticket and put her on a train, telling the conductor to see that she was taken to her home.

"The girl left home, leaving her parents under the impression that she was going to visit relatives at Coshocton, but instead of changing cars at Mingo, she came on to Bridgeport. The young lady is rather fast and has been corrected several times by her parents for such actions."

Since the houses have been running so openly property in that section of the city has deteriorated in value at least 500 per cent, says a prominent man, and unless they are made to leave the property will be absolutely worthless.

CRIP CAIN IS CAUCHT AND PROBABLY BOOKED FOR THE PENITENTIARY

Has Made Life a Hell For Two Women Besides Being Declared Guilty of House-Breaking.

The prayer of Milo ("Crip") Cain that he be given a free ride to the state capital, which he has been heard to utter several times of late, will very likely be answered before snow falls. He is now in jail charged with housebreaking, which if proven—and there are two witnesses who swear that they saw him commit the act—will undoubtedly give him another taste of the life behind the big stone walls.

Cain was arrested last evening about 9:30 by Officers Woods and Bryan and taken to the city jail, where a charge of drunk and disorderly was registered against him. He is an old offender. Being a cripple, Chief Wyman was on the verge of giving him a tie-ticket this morning when a woman in tears walked into central station and declared that she wanted to prefer a charge against him. The chief listened to her story.

The woman was Mrs. Hugo Stahl, who, it will be remembered, came to this city last October in search of her husband, who had deserted her and their two small children. She was penniless and friendless upon her arrival and for several weeks was dependent on the township authorities. Being energetic, however, it was not long until she procured work and a Mrs. Hughes, of Dewdrop alley, taking pity on her, fitted up three rooms and gave them to her at the very small rental of $5 per month. Since locating in that house the woman has cared for her little ones by hard toil, washing for a living.

Upon the arrival of Mrs. Stahl at the Hughes home Cain was boarding there. Mrs. Hughes had also pitied him because of his crippled arm. He was not a boarder long until he started to abuse his landlady, and Mrs. Stahl says, treated her most shamefully. She would flee to the rooms of Mrs. Stahl for protection. Cain carried on in that manner until he was run out of the city by the police for his attack on Officer Aufderheide.

After staying away until he thought the matter had died down Cain came back about 10 days ago and, it is said, he has made the homes of Mrs. Hughes and Mrs. Stahl a veritable hell since then. Time and again he has gone to the house in a drunken condition and abused the pair awfully. Once he told Mrs. Hughes that if she did not give him money he would kill her and bury her in the cellar. Only last Sunday night he applied at the house for admittance and when refused he began to storm around until the women were so frightened that Mrs. Stahl secured a gun and would have shot him had he not run.

It seems that he was drunker than usual last evening when he made another attempt to get some money from Mrs. Hughes. She heard him coming and locking the doors ran into the home of Mrs. Stahl. Cain broke down the screen door. While he was still storming the officers reached the scene.

Mrs. Hughes is lying deathly sick at her home and Mrs. Stahl has just recovered from a week in bed. Mrs. Stahl wanted to prefer a charge against him, but Mayor Weaver though it best to have Mrs. Hughes do that, and the chief executive went to her home shortly before noon today with the necessary papers.

Mrs. Stahl imparted startling information to the mayor when she said that Cain had told her many times that he had committed enough deeds to insure his incarceration in the penitentiary for life, buf that the mayor was not slick enough to land him. He is now landed.

BOYS ARRESTED BUT RELEASED

Wellsville Lads Were Suspected of a Burglary Near Empire.

Acting Chief of Police Canaday, of Wellsville, went to Toronto this morning to identify three boys who had been placed in jail there charged with robbing a confectionery store at Empire. The lads had been dismissed before the arrival of the officer. When arrested the trio, who are from the ages of from 10 to 15 years, had $20 in money, a razor and other weapons.

The police think they may have been implicated in several recent Wellsville burglaries.

Lisbon, September 1.—(Special.)—The Youngstown & Southern Railway company made its first payment of $10,000 yesterday on the coal lands in the vicinity of West Point, which were purchased some time ago.

This is looked upon here as conclusive evidence that the company means to push the work of construction from Lisbon to East Liverpool as fast as is practicable.

ENDED IN A ROW

Base Ball Game Between Salineville and Bergholz Led to Blows Being Struck.

Salineville, September 1.—(Special)—The Salineville ball boys went to Bergholz Saturday to play a game with the team of that town. After the fifth inning the game broke up in a free-for-all row, among the spectators. M. A. Poole, of Malvern, who was playing with the Bergholz team, was struck on the head with a ball bat, inflicting a scalp wound.

The row started over the decisions of the umpire, who immediately left the field when the wrangling commenced. The score stood 2 to 0 in favor of Bergholz at the end of the fifth inning.

President Thomas J. Duffy, of the N. B. of O. P., announced today that another meeting of the conference committees to consider the wage scale has been arranged for Tuesday, September 8. Several of the conferees have been absent from the city, making an earlier meeting impossible.

While it has not been officially announced, it is the general understanding that the Brotherhood has rejected the propositions submitted as a result of the other conferences. Upon just what lines the committees will now proceed is not known.

The Reliance Accordingly Missed Another Chance to Beat the Shamrock.

Sandy Hook, September 1.—(Special.)—The last race between the Reliance and the Shamrock, to have been run 15 miles to the leeward and return, was called off this afternoon owing to no wind.

The boats were jockeyed around the starting point for several hours in hopes that the wind would raise and give them a fair chance for making the race within the limit, but the sea remained calm and it was decided to call the race off until tomorrow.

On the Run for an Hour on Account of Bibulous Ones.

For more than an hour last night the patrol was going at its best. There were telephone calls from all parts of the city for it and Driver Bryan kept his two whites in rapid motion. The occasion for the unusual activity was bad cases of drunks.

Timothy Strain was landed by Officer Morris. He was very disorderly. Chief Wyman allowed him his liberty this morning when he agreed to leave the city.

Jim Pesiley was taken by Officer Dunn for being drunk. He was fined $2 and costs and upon paying secured his release.

Lisbon, September 1.—(Special.)—The case of Judge Byron S. Ambler, of Salem, vs. the Townsend Coal company, of Washingtonville, has been appealed from the court of Justice H. L. Ingledue, of Salem township. The plaintiff sued for $250, held to be due as royalty for coal mined from the farm formerly owned by W. H. Walter, under a contract made November 1, 1896, between Mr. Walter and D. M., Frank L. and D. E. Stouffer, the contract having been assigned later by Walter to the plaintiff. Interest is also asked.

Judgment for the full amount was rendered by default on August 18, and the defendant appeals from this decision.

There will be music and other attractions, free tickets to the theatre for subscribers, and a wedding in the base ball park. STILL LOOKING FOR MAN NAMED SMITH

Southside Girl Found in Bridgeport And Sent Home By the Marshal.

Is Miss Gromo, of the Southside, still looking for the carnival man? Apparently so. The Wheeling Register of yesterday says:

"Cora Gromo, a young girl whose home is at New Cumberland, W. Va., came to the Hotel Maine in Bridgeport Saturday night and inquired for a man by the name of Smith, who was here with the carnival company. The proprietor knew the girl, and suspecting that all was not right, informed Marshal Thompson. After giving her her supper the marshal purchased a ticket and put her on a train, telling the conductor to see that she was taken to her home.

"The girl left home, leaving her parents under the impression that she was going to visit relatives at Coshocton, but instead of changing cars at Mingo, she came on to Bridgeport. The young lady is rather fast and has been corrected several times by her parents for such actions."

The plaintiff sets up wilful absence and gross neglect, alleging her husband deserted her September 4, 1888, and contributed nothing to her support since. She also charges her husband lived in unfaithfulness with Lauie Belle Camp at Paris, Pa., for several years.

Two children born to them are dead. She asks, with the divorce, for her maiden name, Caroline Swearingen.

REFUSAL TO ENJOIN COLUMBIANA TELEPHONE COMPANY.

City Colicitor Metzger, of Salem, Says the Case Will Be Taken to Higher Court.

Salem, September 1.—(Special.)—Judge George F. Robinson, of Ravenna, before whom the application for an injunction to restrain the Columbiana County Telephone company from increasing its rates for service, was argued on Saturday, has rendered his decision, refusing the injunction. The information reached Salem this morning, in a letter from Judge Robinson, addressed to Carey & Mullins, attorneys for the telephone company. No opinion was given, the judge simply stating: "I have refused injunction in telephone case."

City Solicitor Lewis P. Metzger, who prepared the petition in the case of Farmer & Getz against the telephone company, states that the matter is not ended and that the case will be carried to a higher court.

Chris McTaggart, the man who was so badly beaten by William Bridge three weeks ago that he was compelled to stay in a hospital for nearly two weeks, appeared before the mayor this morning and had a warrant issued for Bridge, charging him with assault and battery.

EAST END

Says His Health Is Bad, But Trouble Between Himself and Landlord Is Reported.

Lemoine Wilson, the liveryman, who came to the East End from Salem several months ago and has been operating a stable on Virginia avenue, is preparing to quit the business, owing, he claims, to ill health. He stated this morning that his health has been bad ever since he came to East End and that he was quitting the business upon the advice of a physician. The vehicles used at the stable will be stored away and the horses turned out to pasture.

Another reason is given as the cause of Wilson quitting the business. It was reported this morning that Wilson had been having trouble over the water rent with the family of John Forbes, from whom he rents the stable. Just what the trouble was could not be learned but it resulted in Forbes refusing to continue renting Wilson the stable.

Wilson has had considerable bad luck since he took charge of the establishment. Upon two occasions he has been compelled to seek the aid of the law and in a number of other instances the rigs from his stable have been damaged.

AWAITING NEWS FROM THE MOSCOW OIL WELL

Stockholders of Rock Run Company Hope to Hear That Operations Have Been Resumed.

The stockholders of the Rock Run Oil and Gas company are anxiously awaiting news from the drillers at their new well in the Moscow, Hancock county, field that the tools have been recovered and that drilling has been resumed. Had not the loss of the tools occurred the well would have been drilled in one day this week.

Quite a number of people in the East End are interested financially in another local concern, the Ohio Valley Oil and Gas company, which is now drilling two holes, one of them on the farm of Richard Laughlin near Ohioville, and the other in the shallow field around Marietta. The first named well is now down to a depth of about 400 feet and barring accidents should be in some time next week. Mr. Laughlin, who has had two decades of experience in the oil business, is confident of striking the fluid in paying quantities.

Exercise Will Take Place at the Park Instead of at Pan American Lodge Room.

At the special meeting of Pan American Court, Tribe of Ben Hur, held last night, it was decided to alter the arrangements previously made of the exercises attending the presentation of the banner to the tribe by Supreme Chief Grard, of Crawfordsville, Ind. The presentation will take place at the park instead of in the hall of the tribe in the Larkins building, as was at first decided. This change was made because many of the members are desirous of spending the evening at the park on the day of the presentation, which is also the day of the tri-state picnic of the Ben Hur tribes.

T. W. McCain was selected to respond to the presentation speech of the supreme chief and as he is an eloquent talker, the task will be accomplished in commendable style. The committees from the local lodges are hard at work to be in shape by Thursday to help entertain the visiting members.

PINKERTON - WELLINGTUN

A Pretty Home Wedding Unites a Worthy Young Couple for Life.

One of the prettiest home weddings which has taken place this season occurred today at the home of Mrs. Emma Pinkerton, on Pennsylvania avenue, at which time her daughter, Miss Permelia, became the wife of Charles J. Wellington, of Alliance, the ceremony being performed by Rev. G. W. Orcutt, of the Erie street M. E. church. Promptly at 12 o'clock the bridal party entered the parlor to the sweet strains of the wedding march.

The bride is one of East Liverpool's best and fairest young ladies, and has for some time been the organist of the Erie street M. E. church choir. She is a musician of ability and has a host of friends who regret her departure from our city. She has been employed for about two years at McCrorey's store, where she has lately held the responsible position of cashier, she being one of their most trusted employes.

The bride carried a beautiful bouquet of bride's roses and was attended by Miss Julia Thomas, of Martin's Ferry, and Miss Janet Hill, of this city, each of whom carried a bouquet of beautiful flowers.

The groom was formerly employed in a local newspaper office, but now holds a position as linotype operator on the Alliance Review. He is a very prominent young man of that city and has bright prospects for the future. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Wellington, of Lisbon.

Immediately after the wedding ceremony the guests were seated at the table, where a seven-course dinner was served.

The residence was beautifully decorated throughout with palms, cut flowers and potted plants, and the parlor was a bower of perfect beauty.

About 50 guests were present to witness the ceremony, many of whom were from out of town, among them being Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Wellington and family, of Lisbon; Mrs. Martha Fife, of Dungannon; Mrs. Amelia Thomas and daughter, of Martin's Ferry; Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Hoiles, of Alliance; Mr. and Mrs. John Pinkerton, of Bellaire; Mr. and Mrs. Will Fife, of Dungannon; Mr. and Mrs. Will Hill, of Salineville; Miss Emma Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. John Henderson, of Martin's Ferry.

The newly wedded couple were the recipients of many handsome and costly presents. Mr. and Mrs. Wellington left on the afternoon train for a visit with friends in Lisbon and other towns, after which they will go to Alliance, where they will make their home.

The latter is to handle the ribbons behind Robert L in the race. Quite a number of East Enders will go to Beaver Falls tomorrow to take in the races.

Another local horse that is showing up well at Columbian park is Frank Dickey's Billy W. He has been working out remarkably well of late and yesterday surprised his driver by stepping a mile in 2:19, an excellent mark when the condition of the track is considered.

LIVERYMAN WILSON QUITTING THE BUSINESS

Says His Health Is Bad, But Trouble Between Himself and Landlord Is Reported.

Lemoine Wilson, the liveryman, who came to the East End from Salem several months ago and has been operating a stable on Virginia avenue, is preparing to quit the business, owing, he claims, to ill health. He stated this morning that his health has been bad ever since he came to East End and that he was quitting the business upon the advice of a physician. The vehicles used at the stable will be stored away and the horses turned out to pasture.

Another reason is given as the cause of Wilson quitting the business. It was reported this morning that Wilson had been having trouble over the water rent with the family of John Forbes, from whom he rents the stable. Just what the trouble was could not be learned but it resulted in Forbes refusing to continue renting Wilson the stable.

Wilson has had considerable bad luck since he took charge of the establishment. Upon two occasions he has been compelled to seek the aid of the law and in a number of other instances the rigs from his stable have been damaged.

AWAITING NEWS FROM THE MOSCOW OIL WELL

Stockholders of Rock Run Company Hope to Hear That Operations Have Been Resumed.

The stockholders of the Rock Run Oil and Gas company are anxiously awaiting news from the drillers at their new well in the Moscow, Hancock county, field that the tools have been recovered and that drilling has been resumed. Had not the loss of the tools occurred the well would have been drilled in one day this week.

Quite a number of people in the East End are interested financially in another local concern, the Ohio Valley Oil and Gas company, which is now drilling two holes, one of them on the farm of Richard Laughlin near Ohioville, and the other in the shallow field around Marietta. The first named well is now down to a depth of about 400 feet and barring accidents should be in some time next week. Mr. Laughlin, who has had two decades of experience in the oil business, is confident of striking the fluid in paying quantities.

Exercise Will Take Place at the Park Instead of at Pan American Lodge Room.

At the special meeting of Pan American Court, Tribe of Ben Hur, held last night, it was decided to alter the arrangements previously made of the exercises attending the presentation of the banner to the tribe by Supreme Chief Grard, of Crawfordsville, Ind. The presentation will take place at the park instead of in the hall of the tribe in the Larkins building, as was at first decided. This change was made because many of the members are desirous of spending the evening at the park on the day of the presentation, which is also the day of the tri-state picnic of the Ben Hur tribes.

T. W. McCain was selected to respond to the presentation speech of the supreme chief and as he is an eloquent talker, the task will be accomplished in commendable style. The committees from the local lodges are hard at work to be in shape by Thursday to help entertain the visiting members.

PINKERTON - WELLINGTUN

A Pretty Home Wedding Unites a Worthy Young Couple for Life.

One of the prettiest home weddings which has taken place this season occurred today at the home of Mrs. Emma Pinkerton, on Pennsylvania avenue, at which time her daughter, Miss Permelia, became the wife of Charles J. Wellington, of Alliance, the ceremony being performed by Rev. G. W. Orcutt, of the Erie street M. E. church. Promptly at 12 o'clock the bridal party entered the parlor to the sweet strains of the wedding march.

The bride is one of East Liverpool's best and fairest young ladies, and has for some time been the organist of the Erie street M. E. church choir. She is a musician of ability and has a host of friends who regret her departure from our city. She has been employed for about two years at McCrorey's store, where she has lately held the responsible position of cashier, she being one of their most trusted employes.

The bride carried a beautiful bouquet of bride's roses and was attended by Miss Julia Thomas, of Martin's Ferry, and Miss Janet Hill, of this city, each of whom carried a bouquet of beautiful flowers.

The groom was formerly employed in a local newspaper office, but now holds a position as linotype operator on the Alliance Review. He is a very prominent young man of that city and has bright prospects for the future. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Wellington, of Lisbon.

Immediately after the wedding ceremony the guests were seated at the table, where a seven-course dinner was served.

The residence was beautifully decorated throughout with palms, cut flowers and potted plants, and the parlor was a bower of perfect beauty.

About 50 guests were present to witness the ceremony, many of whom were from out of town, among them being Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Wellington and family, of Lisbon; Mrs. Martha Fife, of Dungannon; Mrs. Amelia Thomas and daughter, of Martin's Ferry; Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Hoiles, of Alliance; Mr. and Mrs. John Pinkerton, of Bellaire; Mr. and Mrs. Will Fife, of Dungannon; Mr. and Mrs. Will Hill, of Salineville; Miss Emma Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. John Henderson, of Martin's Ferry.

The newly wedded couple were the recipients of many handsome and costly presents. Mr. and Mrs. Wellington left on the afternoon train for a visit with friends in Lisbon and other towns, after which they will go to Alliance, where they will make their home.

FAST PACER TO START

Robert L, Well Known Local Horse, Taken to Beaver Falls This Morning.

Robert L, the fast pacer, who is to start in one of the events at the Beaver Falls races, was taken to that city from Columbian park this morning, in charge of Will Larkins, his owner, and Dr. McFarland, his trainer. The latter is to handle the ribbons behind Robert L in the race. Quite a number of East Enders will go to Beaver Falls tomorrow to take in the races.

Another local horse that is showing up well at Columbian park is Frank Dickey's Billy W. He has been working out remarkably well of late and yesterday surprised his driver by stepping a mile in 2:19, an excellent mark when the condition of the track is considered.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

A. P. Myler is moving today from Mulberry street to Maple street.

Bob Hutchinson will go to Beaver Falls tomorrow to witness the races.

John McDowell is moving from Calhoun's addition to Riverview park today.

Charles Foutts has returned from a fishing trip and reports the catch of numerous big ones.

Ned Mowen, who has been spending several weeks with relatives at Deerfield, returned home last evening.

Freda, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Herbert, of Helena, is very ill, threatened with pneumonia.

Ed. McKinnon has the contract for excavating for the new house on Railroad street to be built by Mrs. Dawson, of Smith's Ferry.

Miss Maude Taylor, an employe of Laughlin No. 1, was taken very suddenly ill this morning while at work in the plant and Dr. Hendershot was called. The young lady recovered sufficiently to be taken to her home.

The big railroad earnings are among the things that steady the stock market. Notwithstnding the recent flurry on Wall street, which has sent all shares, good and bad, down, the railroads of the country keep on increasing their income over a year ago and all former years. As the crop outlook, on the whole, is reasonably good, the earnings of the roads are sure to keep at a high figure for the next eight or ten months at least. An advance in stocks at an early day would seem to be inevitable. But whether the stock advance comes soon or late, the business situation is likely to remain safe. A heavy fall and winter trade is tolerably certain.

The Journal of the American Medical association figures up 4,458 cases of death or severe injury resulting from the last Fourth of July celebration, with the southern states yet to be heard from. Of this number there 415 deaths from lockjaw. Deaths from fireworks or explosives not causing lockjaw numbered 60. Ten persons were made blind; 75 lost one of their eyes; 54 lost hands, arms or legs; 174 lost one or two or more fingers; 3,670 received other severe injuries. The list of casualties resembles the report of a great battle rather than that of a peaceful celebration of our day of independence. There should be a change in methods of observing the Fourth of July unless we want to make it a day of sorrow rather than of joy. The first step should be to abolish the toy pistol, which is responsible for most of the fatalities.

The West End is not the only portion of the city where dives have thriven and flourished. The police should keep after the disorderly houses until none are to be found anywhere in the city. A good beginning has been made, but eternal vigilance will be necessary if the city is to be rid of numerous resorts which ought to be suppressed.

Tom Johnson will have three sets of enemies in the coming canvass—the John R. McLean men, the Zimmermanites and the Republican party. If Tom gets within 60,000 or 70,000 of winning he will be more surprised than either Herrick, Hanna or any other person in Ohio, says a western paper.

Interest in the international yacht race is on the wane. If Sir Thomas Lipton wants to revive it, let him exchange crews with the American boat.

Turkish provinces can't complain that they are governed too much. Their troubles arise from being taxed to death and not governed at all.

The breach in the Ohio Democratic party is widening. The Bryan and anti-Bryan wings cannot be induced to flap in harmony.

Even China shows an inclination to desert the silver party. There is no encouragement for Bryan Democrats anywhere.

Murders are becoming so common in Jefferson county that the newspapers dispose of them in a stick or two of matter.

Carnegie is coming back to America. Towns without libraries and churches without organs will please take notice.

Republicans will rejoice to hear that Mr. Bryan has no idea of abandoning his proposed stumping tour of Ohio.

A YOUNG MINISTER'S RECORD OF SUCCESS

Rev. Charles Laughlin, Formerly of This City, Doing Great Work in Columbus.

Columbus, Sept. 1.—Rev. Charles Laughlin, the pleasant and affable pastor of the Gift street M. E. church, lives at 115 Martin avenue with his wife and five children, enjoying a busy, useful life. It is his second year on the charge and in the two years he has lifted a debt of $600, which has been a nightmare for the congregation for a number of years, and started a successful movement for the rehabilitation of the church, both spiritually and materially, the former by adding to the interest and membership and the latter by renovating, repairing and repapering the church edifice.

Mr. Laughlin was born in Racine, Meigs county, O., and incidentally this statement brings about a discovery that three of the leading ministers of Columbus came from the same county, namely, Dr. McElroy, of the Broad street M. E. church; Rev. W. C. Hardinger, of the Gleenwood church, and Rev. Laughlin. Mr. Laughlin obtained his education wholly from the common school system of Ohio and is in every sense a self-made man. His father, John Laughlin, died in Racine some years ago, but his mother still lives near East Liverpool. Mr. Laughlin has been married twice, having two children by his first wife. His second wife was Miss Emma West, of Wellston, and they were married in Wellston during Mr. Laughlin's pastorate there. Three children have blessed the home from the last marriage. The home life of the family is a most pleasant one.

Fifteen years ago Mr. Laughlin began his ministerial career in a little charge embracing most of Lawrence and Gallia counties. The work was arduous and exacting, but the young minister went into it enthusiastically and had considerable success. The next year he was detailed to the Wellston church and remained there two years. Logan one year and New Plymouth one year were the next assignments, followed by a four years' itinerary in New Straitsville. Then came a four years' successful residence in Milford Center, from which Mr. Laughlin was transferred to the Gift street church. The work has all been in the Ohio conference, in which Mr. Laughlin has borne an influential part.

Mr. Laughlin has become known pretty generally over Ohio by reason of the fact that he has been engaged in lecturing for some time. Two of his lectures, "The Big Four of 1809" and "The Man for the Age," have won him many commendations in the press of the state.

Go Prepared.

In preparing for your summer outing a little forethought may save you no end of trouble. Mr. John H. Manly, a dry goods merchant, of Bellville, R. I., while packing an outfit for camping a few weeks on Narragansett Bay, put in a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for emergency use. The second day in camp his little boy was taken with cramp colic. The first dose of this remedy gave relief and the second dose effected a cure. Think of the pain and suffering this boy would have had to endure without this remedy at hand to relieve him. Such cases often result fatally. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. IN POLICE COURT

Mrs. Geisse's Hearing Postponed. Batch of Fines Imposed.

The case of Mrs. Hettie Geisse, which was to have been given a hearing last evening, was postponed until next Tuesday, so that more witnesses can be subpoenaed. Mrs. Geisse pleaded not guilty to the charge of selling intoxicating liquor on Sunday, August 30. Dan and Frank Kindle, who reside in the West End, near Eighteenth street, were arrested last evening by Officer Canaday for fighting. One of the boys was slightly under the influence of liquor. Both pleaded guilty and were fined $5, which they were not able to pay.

Anthony Crowley, an East Liverpool potter, was corraled in the West End last evening by Officer Henthorn, who entered a drunk and disorderly charge against him. He was assessed $5. Mike Murphy, an Irondale character, was arrested last evening by Officer Henthorn. A charge of being drunk and disorderly was filed. He was fined $9 which he was unable to pay.

A FIERCE COMBAT

In Which an Italian Got a Blow That Knocked Him Out.

A fistic combat took place on Commerce street between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets last evening which resulted in a knockout for an Italian named Tony Lazzioni.

A niece of John Connor, who was playing in the neighborhood was asked by her uncle to go home, as it was getting late. He scolded the child. Two or three Italians who were passing at the time made insulting remarks to Mr. Connor. Benjamin Connor, a brother of John, it is said, struck Lazzioni a blow on the neck which felled him to the ground and rendered him unconscious.

Fellow workmen carried the man to an Italian boarding house. It is said he did not regain his senses for four hours. It was reported this morning that the Italian had died, but the report is without foundation. No arrests were made.

STORIES OF THE STREET

East Liverpool People Are Talking About It on Every Corner.

It is sometimes an easy matter to fool the public, but you can't keep it up very long. They are sure to find you out; and every time a man is fooled another skeptic is made. Skepticism is allowable when reading in a home newspaper about some incident occurring in San Francisco or Philadelphia, but the circumstances are entirely different when it refers to some one right here at home, friends and neighbors, people you know, whom you can see and with whom you can talk it over. This is the kind of evidence at the back of Doan's Kidney Pills, home statements by home people, and the astonishing local work they have been doing has caused more talk among our citizens than the doings of any other modern wonder. Read the following:

Mrs. Edward Orr, of 220 Thompson street, says: "My sister, Mrs. Borlan, while visiting us, recommended Doan's Kidney Pills so highly that I was induced to try them. I had severe attacks of kidney complaint. Sometimes I was so bad I could not get up. Many times my neighbors came and found me lying on the lounge suffering when I intended doing a big day's work. I was so miserable I could do nothing. After my sister told me of the pills I made up my mind to try them and got a box at the W. & W. Pharmacy. They did just what they claimed they would do—cured me sound and well in a few days. My little girl was feeling poorly and had a sallow complexion for some time. I gave her a few doses and after the treatment she felt splendidly."

For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents. Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no other.

COUNCIL MEETING

Important Matters to Engage the City Father's Attention Tonight.

The regular monthly meeting of city council will be held this evening and a lengthy session is anticipated. Several important issues are to be brought up and petitions to be acted upon. It is thought that the city water works trustees will make another request of council to supply the necessary funds with which to complete the new pumping station. About $7,000 is actually needed to put up buildings to house the machinery of the plant.

The board of public service will probably ask council to order the issuing of enough refunding bonds with which to replenish the road fund, which is now overdrawn, so that many much needed repairs to the streets can be made.

Where He Got His Liquor.

Mayor Fogo was called upon this morning by Mrs. William Stitts, of Fourth street, who entered complaint against her husband. She stated that he was beastly drunk and that he had been giving her endless trouble. Saloon keepers had been notified not to sell liquor to him. The mayor assigned Officer Elliott to locate Stitts and arrest him. Elliott found his man in the office of a well known Main street dentist and immediately brought him to the city jail. Stitts carried a 16-ounce bottle in his hip pocket, which was nearly empty. The bottle bore the label of a druggist and a prescription number, signed by a well known physician.

Eells Saying Nothing.

No Arrests Made.

A GOOD BILL

Interesting Features of the Show at the Theater—Barker's Wonderful Dogs.

Park patrons will be pleased this week over another good offering, although, as to be expected, it suffers by comparison with that of last week. There are two numbers on the program this week, however, that are well worth going to see, the Sully family and Barker's dogs. The other numbers also provide entertainment.

Ely and Harvey have a rather clever singing skit, introducing in a catchy way some of the latest songs. The Sully family puts on one of the best acts seen in the vaudeville circuits this year. The two youngsters can act wonderfully well and both were roundly applauded. Elizabeth Estelly introduces some coon songs in a vivacious manner, but with a voice only ordinary. She can dance, however. Barker's dogs were the whole show. The little animals surpass anything seen on the stage in this section. The usual nonsensical part of the performances of this nature was not apparent. The tricks the animals have been trained to do are original and highly entertaining. Of particular interest is the long distance jumping and leaping by the greyhounds. The kinetoscope pictures are interesting.

BY SPECIAL REQUEST

The Zara Trio Will Repeat Its Admirable Bicycle Act Tonight.

Upon special request of many of the summer theater patrons, Manager Franklin has arranged for the re-appearance tonight of the Zara trio in the laughing bicycle skit that made such a great hit at the theater last week. This trio has certainly been the most popular of the season and the skit put on by them has been the biggest hit. Besides some wonderful tricks and fancy bicycle riding many mirth provoking incidents are introduced. It is worth while to see this act.

The minstrel people at the park last week will shortly leave for McKeesport, Pa.

SAENGERFEST AWARDS PRIZES

Chicago Captures First and Second Place—Cleveland and Allegheny Tie for Fourth.

Detroit, Sept. 1.—The Schweizer club saengerbund, of Chicago, was awarded first prize in the fourth saengerfest of the Swiss-American saengerbund of the central states. Turner hall was crowded to its utmost capacity, when the judges announced their decisions in Sunday's singing competition and conferred the wreaths which were the prizes.

Gruetli mannerchor, of Chicago, was given second place by the judges, and the other competitors and their positions were as follows: Helvetia mannerchor, of Columbus, O., third; Gemischter choir, of Cleveland, and Helvetia mannerchor, of Allegheny, tied for fourth; Schweizer and Helvetia mannerchors, of Cleveland, tied for fifth; Schweizer mannerchor, of Hamilton, O., sixth; Schweizer mannerchor, of Cincinnati, and Alpenroesli mixed choir, of Canton, O., tied for seventh; Helvetia mannerchor, of Buffalo, eighth, and Gruetli mannerchor, of Akron, O., ninth.

After the announcement by the judges the floor of the concert hall was cleared, and the rest of the evening was given over to a ball, which brought the saengerfest to a close. At the business meeting it was decided to hold the next saengerfest in 1905 at Hamilton, O.

A NICARAGUAN CANAL

NO REASON FOR FURTHER DELAY

Senators and Representatives Being Consulted and Decisive Action Expected—Protocols Permit Immediate Beginning of Work.

Washington, Sept. 1.—Secretary Hay has invited senators and representatives interested in the Isthmian canal to meet and discuss the advisability of going ahead with the canal by the Nicaraguan route. This would indicate that the administration does not intend to be longer delayed by the whims of Colombia. Senator Cullom, chairman of the committee on foreign relations of the senate; Representative Hitt, chairman of the committee on foreign affairs of the house; Senator Morgan and Representative Hepburn, chairmen of the canal committee of the senate and house of representatives, respectively, are among those who have been called into conference.

They will be asked to state their views as to whether "a reasonable time" has been given Colombia to ratify the treaty.

Delay Will Not Be Tolerated.

The condition of affairs in Colombia has now become so complicated that it appears to be futile to longer pursue negotiations. The course now being taken by the secretary of state, it is believed, shows conclusively that the administration does not intend to longer permit any dallying with this important question, and it is asserted that active operations looking toward the building of a canal may be expected in the near future.

The report that the department of Panama is on the verge of a revolt tends to make the situation in Colombia an impossible one, so far as building a canal there is concerned. The situation has in this way became a very delicate one.

Protocols Give Ample Authority.

There has been some disagreement as to the course that should be adopted by this government under the Spooner amendment in turning to Nicaragua for the route for a canal. It is understood that the secretary of state, as well as prominent members of the senate and house, believe that the protocols that were agreed to between the president and Costa Rica and Nicaragua in December, 1900, give ample authority to proceed with the building of the canal in Nicaragua.

In the event of the ratification of the treaty for the building of a canal in Panama there would have been a necessity in the near future for further treaty negotiations for the settlement of many details that were not disposed of finally by that document.

Can Go to Work at Once.

The treaty was ratified by the senate in the exact form that it was negotiated, with the understanding that corrections to some of its provisions might be made. It was admitted by many senators that probably all of the amendments proposed by Senator Morgan were desirable, but they took the ground that if the treaty were changed it would delay its final ratification, as the form in which it went to the senate was satisfactory to the Colombian government.

It is exactly in this same way that additional treaty stipulations between this country and Nicaragua and Costa Rica will have to be made. They are not, it is declared, of a nature to interfere with the immediate beginning of the work. It is also understood that if the United States wishes to begin the construction of the canal in the near future there is no reason for delay.

Body Exhumed Proves Murder.

Steubenville, O., Sept. 1.—There is no longer any doubt as to the murder of Ignatius Sobolewski, whose body was found in the bushes at D'Lenvale. Coroner Campbell exhumed the body and a bullet was found in it, in addition to the cuts on the head. Antoni Sfko, a suspect, could not be located, but four other men suspected of murdering the man were arrested.

She stated that he was beastly drunk and that he had been giving her endless trouble. Saloon keepers had been notified not to sell liquor to him. The mayor assigned Officer Elliott to locate Stitts and arrest him. Elliott found his man in the office of a well known Main street dentist and immediately brought him to the city jail. Stitts carried a 16-ounce bottle in his hip pocket, which was nearly empty. The bottle bore the label of a druggist and a prescription number, signed by a well known physician.

STORIES OF THE STREET

East Liverpool People Are Talking About It on Every Corner.

It is sometimes an easy matter to fool the public, but you can't keep it up very long. They are sure to find you out; and every time a man is fooled another skeptic is made. Skepticism is allowable when reading in a home newspaper about some incident occurring in San Francisco or Philadelphia, but the circumstances are entirely different when it refers to some one right here at home, friends and neighbors, people you know, whom you can see and with whom you can talk it over. This is the kind of evidence at the back of Doan's Kidney Pills, home statements by home people, and the astonishing local work they have been doing has caused more talk among our citizens than the doings of any other modern wonder. Read the following:

Mrs. Edward Orr, of 220 Thompson street, says: "My sister, Mrs. Borlan, while visiting us, recommended Doan's Kidney Pills so highly that I was induced to try them. I had severe attacks of kidney complaint. Sometimes I was so bad I could not get up. Many times my neighbors came and found me lying on the lounge suffering when I intended doing a big day's work. I was so miserable I could do nothing. After my sister told me of the pills I made up my mind to try them and got a box at the W. & W. Pharmacy. They did just what they claimed they would do—cured me sound and well in a few days. My little girl was feeling poorly and had a sallow complexion for some time. I gave her a few doses and after the treatment she felt splendidly."

A GOOD BILL

Park patrons will be pleased this week over another good offering, although, as to be expected, it suffers by comparison with that of last week. There are two numbers on the program this week, however, that are well worth going to see, the Sully family and Barker's dogs. The other numbers also provide entertainment.

Ely and Harvey have a rather clever singing skit, introducing in a catchy way some of the latest songs. The Sully family puts on one of the best acts seen in the vaudeville circuits this year. The two youngsters can act wonderfully well and both were roundly applauded. Elizabeth Estelly introduces some coon songs in a vivacious manner, but with a voice only ordinary. She can dance, however. Barker's dogs were the whole show. The little animals surpass anything seen on the stage in this section. The usual nonsensical part of the performances of this nature was not apparent. The tricks the animals have been trained to do are original and highly entertaining. Of particular interest is the long distance jumping and leaping by the greyhounds. The kinetoscope pictures are interesting.

The Zara Trio Will Repeat Its Admirable Bicycle Act Tonight.

Upon special request of many of the summer theater patrons, Manager Franklin has arranged for the re-appearance tonight of the Zara trio in the laughing bicycle skit that made such a great hit at the theater last week. This trio has certainly been the most popular of the season and the skit put on by them has been the biggest hit. Besides some wonderful tricks and fancy bicycle riding many mirth provoking incidents are introduced. It is worth while to see this act.

The minstrel people at the park last week will shortly leave for McKeesport, Pa.

A NICARAGUAN CANAL

Senators and Representatives Being Consulted and Decisive Action Expected—Protocols Permit Immediate Beginning of Work.

Washington, Sept. 1.—Secretary Hay has invited senators and representatives interested in the Isthmian canal to meet and discuss the advisability of going ahead with the canal by the Nicaraguan route. This would indicate that the administration does not intend to be longer delayed by the whims of Colombia. Senator Cullom, chairman of the committee on foreign relations of the senate; Representative Hitt, chairman of the committee on foreign affairs of the house; Senator Morgan and Representative Hepburn, chairmen of the canal committee of the senate and house of representatives, respectively, are among those who have been called into conference.

They will be asked to state their views as to whether "a reasonable time" has been given Colombia to ratify the treaty.

Delay Will Not Be Tolerated.

The condition of affairs in Colombia has now become so complicated that it appears to be futile to longer pursue negotiations. The course now being taken by the secretary of state, it is believed, shows conclusively that the administration does not intend to longer permit any dallying with this important question, and it is asserted that active operations looking toward the building of a canal may be expected in the near future.

The report that the department of Panama is on the verge of a revolt tends to make the situation in Colombia an impossible one, so far as building a canal there is concerned. The situation has in this way became a very delicate one.

Protocols Give Ample Authority.

There has been some disagreement as to the course that should be adopted by this government under the Spooner amendment in turning to Nicaragua for the route for a canal. It is understood that the secretary of state, as well as prominent members of the senate and house, believe that the protocols that were agreed to between the president and Costa Rica and Nicaragua in December, 1900, give ample authority to proceed with the building of the canal in Nicaragua.

In the event of the ratification of the treaty for the building of a canal in Panama there would have been a necessity in the near future for further treaty negotiations for the settlement of many details that were not disposed of finally by that document.

The treaty was ratified by the senate in the exact form that it was negotiated, with the understanding that corrections to some of its provisions might be made. It was admitted by many senators that probably all of the amendments proposed by Senator Morgan were desirable, but they took the ground that if the treaty were changed it would delay its final ratification, as the form in which it went to the senate was satisfactory to the Colombian government.

It is exactly in this same way that additional treaty stipulations between this country and Nicaragua and Costa Rica will have to be made. They are not, it is declared, of a nature to interfere with the immediate beginning of the work. It is also understood that if the United States wishes to begin the construction of the canal in the near future there is no reason for delay.

Body Exhumed Proves Murder.

Steubenville, O., Sept. 1.—There is no longer any doubt as to the murder of Ignatius Sobolewski, whose body was found in the bushes at Dillonvale. Coroner Campbell exhumed the body and a bullet was found in it, in addition to the cuts on the head. Antonio Sfko, a suspect, could not be located, but four other men suspected of murdering the man were arrested.

REALM OF SPORTS

GLORY AND MUD COVERED HIM

John Wallace's Spectacular Play the Feature of Yesterday's Ball Game.

FIRST GAME OF SERIES

With Niles Was a Superb Exhibition and Was Highly Enjoyed By Large Crowd of Enthusiastic Fans—Long Hits Made By Each Side.

Those millions of tadpoles and frogs living in the West End park since the heavy rains of last week had the greatest laugh of their lives yesterday afternoon, and according to Park Tender Bert Hunter their fat sides are still heaving. To Attorney John Wallace they certainly feel greatly indebted. For it was this student of Blackstone that produced their mirth.

It was during the first game of the series of three being played with Niles in which the locals were beaten by a score of 5 to 3 that members of the frog family were greeted with the stunt. Wallace had already entertained the little things by prancing around them for at least four times. They thought before his last that no man ever danced a more comical jig and all had decided to make their appreciation known last evening by giving the West End residents a rousing serenade by the rendition of that solemnly beautiful hymn, entitled "Take Your Feet Out of the Mud." But after his closing scene they were not equal to the occasion and only gave poor John a big laugh.

The people, 500 or more, who witnessed the act, also joined in. They knew it was the most spectacular performance ever presented in the famous park and it was beyond them to hold their glee. Ortleib, catcher for the visitors, had made a hit and was dead anxious to add another. And it was at his expense that Wallace made the show. The athletic coal shover landed on the little sphere for at least three bases—that is, if it had gone most any other direction.

While it was sailing over the pond and almost too far to be handled, Wallace made a shirt tail shoot for the center of the swamp and with a "swing your partner" stunt made a desperate lunge into the air, and he closed in on the precious ball. But alas! the worst was yet to come. His equilibrium was lost and among those pesky little animals he sprawled. An uproar, both from the pond and the grand stand, that could be heard from hill to hill immediately ensued and Wallace walked to the bench, not covered alone with mud—there was a mixture of glory in it.

Though the fans would have been better satisfied had the score been somewhat different, there are few who will say other than that the exhibition was full of expert plays and that the game was one worth anybody's time. A large crowd assembled at the park, every one knowing as a result of the last series with Niles that it has a team of merit, and considering that it was the first of a continuous string of six games, the management feels elated over the gate receipts.

It is probably a little unsafe to say or try to say why the locals met defeat. One things sure, they hit the slabbist hard enough. Maybe it was because they did not hit him to the right spots in that mud-covered area. And maybe the defeat was the result of extraordinary good batting on the part of Niles. It might have been because the visitors were just two runs faster than Captain Reark and his gang. Those points are all left to the fan for decisions.

The first man up for Niles, that fellow who so narrowly escaped the gallows last week because he was envious of a pretty ball he happened to spy, put a sort of damper on the game. He whaled away at the ball and never did stop until he could spit on third. It resulted in a run, the score being made when Murphy put a long one out to Wallace. In this inning the locals failed to turn a trick. They fell easy prey and continued such work until the third, when Houser and Brown tried their best to put the ball clear out of the business. By their terrible efforts they scored two runs, and that was the only time they had the game won.

In the fourth the visitors piled up three runs, one three-bagger, one two-bagger and a single. They were equivalent to two runs and when they scored one in the seventh they had gone so far ahead that the locals never trotted in their class again, notwithstanding that Gibson scored in the same inning after he had made a pretty single. After that the locals went out in order, while Niles was not satisfied to quit without rubbing it in. They did so when another run was tallied in the eighth.

The score:

Notes of the Game.

Brown called forth merited applause when he handled two hot ones in rapid succession in the third.

Webb was there to the finish. He accepted all but one chance, and did so with credit.

Heckathorn only (?) had 11 chances. He is surely up against it. They throw them to him any old way and if he don't fall all over himself some one gets an error.

Krueger played a faultless game at second. He is about the cleanest player in the Niles bunch, fielding over an enormous area.

OAKLANDS READY FOR THE SEASON

STRONG FOOT BALL TEAM HAS BEEN REORGANIZED.

Third Year of the Club Promises to Be Successful—Good Games Booked.

The foot ball season is again with us and with it comes the reorganization of one of the fastest teams that ever donned uniform in this city, the Oakland Athletic club. This club was first organized three years ago by Emmett Mylar, a young athlete from Steubenville, who successfully played the game for three years with Steubenville high school, and who diligently studied the tactics of "Slab" Burns, of that city.

The first year was very successful, the team having been scored on but once during the season, and that by Toronto high school, and having themselves scored as many as 38 points in one game against opponents. Last year the team was not reorganized until the season was nearly over, thus enabling them to play but two games. But great things are expected of them this season, as can be seen by the line up. A schedule of games is being arranged by Manager Harry A. Weaver which will include such teams as Sebring, Wellsburg, Steubenville, Bethany, Coraopolis, New Brighton and other teams in the vicinity of Pittsburg.

The initial game will probably be played with the Bruno Athletic club of Wellsville the latter part of September.

Following is a list of the members who will take part in the game this season:

Albert Price, who is very popular with sports throughout the city and who is recognized as one of the best centers in town, having played that position for the Diamond Indians. The position of right guard will be filled by George Mauts, who is in his third year and who is a very promising young player. Rudolph Sanford will play right tackle, in which position he distinguished himself with the Marine Athletic club of the East End. Lem Harvey, a former star of Carrollton, will take good care of right end, and the opposing team can consider themselves lucky if they get around him. Left guard will be played by Ed Wilson, who played excellent foot ball for the Royal Tigers. Left tackle and left end will be filled by James Miles and "China" Weikert, respectively. Both men are from Sebring, where their playing with the Sebring Athletic club was considered sensational. The qualities of John Little, who will play quarterback, are well known by every rooter in town. He is also an ex-Diamond Indian. Carl Angle, formerly of Toronto high school; Fred Mountford, of East Liverpool high school, and Will Maple will be the half backs. Willis Orr, who is one of the best fullbacks in the city; Grover Laughlin, whose qualities are yet to be developed, and Emmett ("Ducky") Myler, whose reputation is already established, will be the trio who will look after the position of fullback.

The team expects to win the majority if not all the games they play, and will be a credit to East Liverpool.

Another club woman, Mrs. Haule, of Edgerton, Wis., tells how she was cured of irregularities and uterine trouble, terrible pains and backache, by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—A while ago my health began to fail because of female troubles. The doctor did not help me. I remembered that my mother had used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound on many occasions for irregularities and uterine troubles, and I felt sure that it could not harm me at any rate to give it a trial.

"I was certainly glad to find that within a week I felt much better, the terrible pains in the back and side were beginning to cease, and at the time of menstruation I did not have nearly as serious a time as heretofore, so I continued its use for two months, and at the end of that time I was like a new woman. I really have never felt better in my life, have not had a sick headache since, and weigh 20 pounds more than I ever did, so I unhesitatingly recommend your medicine."—MRS. MAY HAULE, Edgerton, Wis., Pres. Household Economics Club.

When women are troubled with irregularities, suppressed or painful menstruation, weakness, indigestion, leucorrhœa, displacement or ulceration of the womb, inflammation of the ovaries, general debility, and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faintness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, "all-gone" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feelings, blues, and hopelessness, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles. Refuse to buy any other medicine, for you need the best.

Frances Cook, Box 670, Kane, Pa., says:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I suffered for ten years with leucorrhœa, but am glad to say that through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and her Sanative Wash I am cured, for which I am very thankful."

The heart warns by shortness of breath, palpitation, fluttering, hard beating, pain in chest, left side, or between shoulder blades, fainting, smothering or sinking spells. The only reliable remedy that any one knows of is Dr. Miles' Heart Cure. It has always cured when nothing else would even help. Read the remarkable statement of Mrs. Ingram:

"Dr. Miles' Heart Cure saved my life and Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine saved me from insanity. I was very skeptical when I began using them but my boy begged me to give them a fair trial and I bought three bottles of the Heart Cure and four of the Nervine. My heart fluttered so and I could hardly walk because from my knees to my feet my legs were terribly bloated in the afternoon. I suffered from terrible burning in my throat. The top of my head was sore, suffered pain in the small of my back, I lost my appetite and could not sleep. I suffered from pains in my left shoulder, swelling under left arm, pain around my heart, shortness of breath and extreme nervous spells. My doctor gave me up but Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nerve and Liver Pills cured me completely. My pains and aches and palpitation are all gone and I am now enjoying good health. I cheerfully recommend Dr. Miles' Remedies and hope that others may experience the same benefit that I have."—Mrs. N. A. Ingram, Stanton, Mich.

John Wallace's Spectacular Play the Feature of Yesterday's Ball Game.

With Niles Was a Superb Exhibition and Was Highly Enjoyed By Large Crowd of Enthusiastic Fans—Long Hits Made By Each Side.

Those millions of tadpoles and frogs living in the West End park since the heavy rains of last week had the greatest laugh of their lives yesterday afternoon, and according to Park Tender Bert Hunter their fat sides are still heaving. To Attorney John Wallace they certainly feel greatly indebted. For it was this student of Blackstone that produced their mirth.

It was during the first game of the series of three being played with Niles in which the locals were beaten by a score of 5 to 3 that members of the frog family were greeted with the stunt. Wallace had already entertained the little things by prancing around them for at least four times. They thought before his last that no man ever danced a more comical jig and all had decided to make their appreciation known last evening by giving the West End residents a rousing serenade by the rendition of that solemnly beautiful hymn, entitled "Take Your Feet Out of the Mud." But after his closing scene they were not equal to the occasion and only gave poor John a big laugh.

The people, 500 or more, who witnessed the act, also joined in. They knew it was the most spectacular performance ever presented in the famous park and it was beyond them to hold their glee. Ortleib, catcher for the visitors, had made a hit and was dead anxious to add another. And it was at his expense that Wallace made the show. The athletic coal shover landed on the little sphere for at least three bases—that is, if it had gone most any other direction.

While it was sailing over the pond and almost too far to be handled, Wallace made a shirt tail shoot for the center of the swamp and with a "swing your partner" stunt made a desperate lunge into the air, and he closed in on the precious ball. But alas! the worst was yet to come. His equilibrium was lost and among those pesky little animals he sprawled. An uproar, both from the pond and the grand stand, that could be heard from hill to hill immediately ensued and Wallace walked to the bench, not covered alone with mud—there was a mixture of glory in it.

Though the fans would have been better satisfied had the score been somewhat different, there are few who will say other than that the exhibition was full of expert plays and that the game was one worth anybody's time. A large crowd assembled at the park, every one knowing as a result of the last series with Niles that it has a team of merit, and considering that it was the first of a continuous string of six games, the management feels elated over the gate receipts.

It is probably a little unsafe to say or try to say why the locals met defeat. One things sure, they hit the slabbist hard enough. Maybe it was because they did not hit him to the right spots in that mud-covered area. And maybe the defeat was the result of extraordinary good batting on the part of Niles. It might have been because the visitors were just two runs faster than Captain Reark and his gang. Those points are all left to the fan for decisions.

The first man up for Niles, that fellow who so narrowly escaped the gallows last week because he was envious of a pretty ball he happened to spy, put a sort of damper on the game. He whaled away at the ball and never did stop until he could spit on third. It resulted in a run, the score being made when Murphy put a long one out to Wallace. In this inning the locals failed to turn a trick. They fell easy prey and continued such work until the third, when Houser and Brown tried their best to put the ball clear out of the business. By their terrible efforts they scored two runs, and that was the only time they had the game won.

In the fourth the visitors piled up three runs, one three-bagger, one two-bagger and a single. They were equivalent to two runs and when they scored one in the seventh they had gone so far ahead that the locals never trotted in their class again, notwithstanding that Gibson scored in the same inning after he had made a pretty single. After that the locals went out in order, while Niles was not satisfied to quit without rubbing it in. They did so when another run was tallied in the eighth.

Notes of the Game.

Brown called forth merited applause when he handled two hot ones in rapid succession in the third.

Webb was there to the finish. He accepted all but one chance, and did so with credit.

Heckathorn only (?) had 11 chances. He is surely up against it. They throw them to him any old way and if he don't fall all over himself some one gets an error.

Krueger played a faultless game at second. He is about the cleanest player in the Niles bunch, fielding over an enormous area.

Third Year of the Club Promises to Be Successful—Good Games Booked.

The foot ball season is again with us and with it comes the reorganization of one of the fastest teams that ever donned uniform in this city, the Oakland Athletic club. This club was first organized three years ago by Emmett Mylar, a young athlete from Steubenville, who successfully played the game for three years with Steubenville high school, and who diligently studied the tactics of "Slab" Burns, of that city.

The first year was very successful, the team having been scored on but once during the season, and that by Toronto high school, and having themselves scored as many as 38 points in one game against opponents. Last year the team was not reorganized until the season was nearly over, thus enabling them to play but two games. But great things are expected of them this season, as can be seen by the line-up. A schedule of games is being arranged by Manager Harry A. Weaver, which will include such teams as Sebring, Wellsburg, Steubenville, Bethany, Coraopolis, New Brighton and other teams in the vicinity of Pittsburg.

The initial game will probably be played with the Bruno Athletic club of Wellsville the latter part of September.

Following is a list of the members who will take part in the game this season:

Albert Price, who is very popular with sports throughout the city and who is recognized as one of the best centers in town, having played that position for the Diamond Indians. The position of right guard will be filled by George Mauts, who is in his third year and who is a very promising young player. Rudolph Sanford will play right tackle, in which position he distinguished himself with the Marine Athletic club of the East End. Lem Harvey, a former star of Carrollton, will take good care of right end, and the opposing team can consider themselves lucky if they get around him. Left guard will be played by Ed Wilson, who played excellent foot ball for the Royal Tigers. Left tackle and left end will be filled by James Miles and "China" Weikert, respectively. Both men are from Sebring, where their playing with the Sebring Athletic club was considered sensational. The qualities of John Little, who will play quarterback, are well known by every rooter in town. He is also an ex-Diamond Indian. Carl Angle, formerly of Toronto high school; Fred Mountford, of East Liverpool high school, and Will Maple will be the half backs. Willis Orr, who is one of the best fullbacks in the city; Grover Laughlin, whose qualities are yet to be developed, and Emmett ("Ducky") Myler, whose reputation is already established, will be the trio who will look after the position of fullback.

The team expects to win the majority if not all the games they play, and will be a credit to East Liverpool.

Another club woman, Mrs. Haule, of Edgerton, Wis., tells how she was cured of irregularities and uterine trouble, terrible pains and backache, by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—A while ago my health began to fail because of female troubles. The doctor did not help me. I remembered that my mother had used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound on many occasions for irregularities and uterine troubles, and I felt sure that it could not harm me at any rate to give it a trial.

"I was certainly glad to find that within a week I felt much better, the terrible pains in the back and side were beginning to cease, and at the time of menstruation I did not have nearly as serious a time as heretofore, so I continued its use for two months, and at the end of that time I was like a new woman. I really have never felt better in my life, have not had a sick headache since, and weigh 20 pounds more than I ever did, so I unhesitatingly recommend your medicine."—MRS. MAY HAULE, Edgerton, Wis., Pres. Household Economics Club.

When women are troubled with irregularities, suppressed or painful menstruation, weakness, indigestion, leucorrhœa, displacement or ulceration of the womb, inflammation of the ovaries, general debility, and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faintness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, "all-gone" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feelings, blues, and hopelessness, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles. Refuse to buy any other medicine, for you need the best.

Frances Cook, Box 670, Kane, Pa., says:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I suffered for ten years with leucorrhœa, but am glad to say that through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and her Sanative Wash I am cured, for which I am very thankful."

When your heart is right you are unconscious that you have one; when anything goes wrong you know it at once—if you take heed. The heart warns by shortness of breath, palpitation, fluttering, hard beating, pain in chest, left side, or between shoulder blades, fainting, smothering or sinking spells. The only reliable remedy that any one knows of is Dr. Miles' Heart Cure. It has always cured when nothing else would even help. Read the remarkable statement of Mrs. Ingram:

"Dr. Miles' Heart Cure saved my life and Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine saved me from insanity. I was very skeptical when I began using them but my boy begged me to give them a fair trial and I bought three bottles of the Heart Cure and four of the Nervine. My heart fluttered so and I could hardly walk because from my knees to my feet my legs were terribly bloated in the afternoon. I suffered from terrible burning in my throat. The top of my head was sore, suffered pain in the small of my back, I lost my appetite and could not sleep. I suffered from pains in my left shoulder, swelling under left arm, pain around my heart, shortness of breath and extreme nervous spells. My doctor gave me up but Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nerve and Liver Pills cured me completely. My pains and aches and palpitation are all gone and I am now enjoying good health. Second Y. M. C. A. And Crockery City Play a Pretty Game at Rock Springs Park.

It took 10 innings to decide the game between the second Y. M. C. A. and Crockery City team at Rock Springs park yesterday. JIGGERMEN CHALLENGED TO PLAY FOR PURSE

Handlers Think They Are the Whole Cheese And Want a Game for $5.

The way the Handlers put the bug on the Jiggermen yesterday in Chester was a shame. They simply wiped the earth with them. The score was 19 to 8. The teams having each won a game there was considerable interest displayed in the result. Cain struck out five times. The Handlers challenged the losers for a game at $5 a side. The score:

KODOL Digests What You Eat.

Weak Hearts

Are due to indigestion. Ninety-nine of every one hundred people who have heart trouble can remember when it was simple indigestion. It is a scientific fact that all cases of heart disease, not organic, are not only traceable to, but are the direct result of indigestion. All food taken into the stomach which fails of perfect digestion ferments and swells the stomach, puffing it up against the heart. This interferes with the action of the heart, and in the course of time that delicate but vital organ becomes diseased.

Kodol

Digests What You Eat

Mrs. Loring Nichols of Penn Yan, N. Y., writes: After eating, my food would distress me by making my heart palpitate and I would become very weak. Finally I got a bottle of Kodol and it gave me immediate relief. After using a few bottles I am cured.

Kodol cures indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach disorders, and gives the heart a full, free and untrammeled action.

Bottles only. $1.00 Size holding 2½ times the trial size, which sells for 50c.

Synopsis of Preceding Chapters.

CHAPTER I.—Grenfall Lorry, a wealthy occupant who refuses or neglects to do quaintance with a charming foreign girl on the train from Denver to Washington. The pair are left behind when the fler stops for repairs in West Virginia. II.—Lorry wires ahead to hold the train. He and the unknown girl ride twenty miles at a tearing pace in a mountain coach. Lorry knows it is a dangerous ride. There is no love-making, but a near approach to it as the rolling stage tumbles the passengers about. III.—Lorry dines with the foreign party, consisting of Miss Guggenslocker, Uncle Caspar and Aunt Yvonne. They are natives of Graustark, a country Lorry had never heard of before. IV.—Lorry shows the foreigners the sights of Washington. They leave for New York to sail on the Kaiser Wilhelm. Miss Guggenslocker naively calls Lorry her "Ideal American" and invites him to come and see her at Edelweiss. V.—Wildly infatuated, Lorry hurries to New York. The name Guggenslocker is not on the steamer list. He sees the steamer off. Miss G. waves him a kiss from the deck. VI.—Lorry joins his old friend, Harry Anguish, an American artist in Paris. Graustark and its capital Edelweiss, are located by a guide book. The Americans get no trace of the Guggenslockers there. VII.—Lorry sees his charmer driving in a carriage with a beautiful companion of her own sex. He gets a glance of recognition, but the carriage rolls on, leaving the mystery unsolved. Later he receives a note at his hotel signed Sophia Guggenslocker, inviting him to visit her next day. VIII.—In the evening Lorry and Anguish ramble about the grounds of the castle where dwells the court of the princess of Graustark. They overhear a plot to abduct the princess and resolve to capture the plotters red handed. IX.—Following the conspirators, Lorry finds himself in a room he heard them designate as that of the princess. X.—Lorry tells the princess of the plot. Mutual recognition; she is Miss Guggenslocker. Dannox, the guard, is in the abduction plot. He fells Lorry with a terrible blow. Anguish to the rescue. XI.—Lorry quartered in the castle. The princess visits him, but forbids all talk of love. XII.—Graustark is bankrupt and owes the neighboring princedom of Axphain $30,000,000. The creditor demands cash or the cession of the richest districts of Graustark. XIII.—The Prince of Axphain offers to extend the loan if the princess will marry his son Lorenz. Prince Gabriel, of Dawsbergen, also bids for the princess' hand with offer of a loan. Yetive tells Lorry that she belongs to her people and will marry Lorenz. XIV.—Lorry discovered kissing the princess while she is seated on the throne. He quits the castle by royal command. XV.—Betrothal of the princess to Lorenz. The Americans recognize Gabriel as chief conspirator in the abduction plot. XVI.—Lorenz toasts the princess lightly in a cafe. Lorry dashes the glass from his hand. Challenge to a duel. Lorenz assassinated. Lorry charged with the crime. XVII.—Princess Yetive commits Lorry to prison. All Graustark rejoices at the death of Lorenz. XVIII and XIX.—The princess helps Lorry to escape. Disguised as a soldier, she conducts him to a monastery. XX.—Axphain offers Graustark grace on the loan if Lorry is executed before Nov. 20. Yetive offers a reward for the capture of Lorry. XXI and XXII.—Lorry prevails upon Quinnox, an emissary of the princess, to conduct him secretly to the castle. He will surrender himself to save the realm. The princess spurns the offer of Gabriel.

Under the stealthy hand of Quinnox the panel opened, and they listened intently for some moments. There was no one in the dimly lighted chapel, so they made their way to the door at the opposite end. Before unlocking the door the captain pointed to a lance which stood against the wall near by.

"You are to carry that lance," he said briefly. Then he cautiously peered forth. A moment later they were in the broad hall, boldly striding toward the distant stairway. Lorry had been instructed to proceed without the least sign of timidity. They passed several attendants in the hall and heard Count Halfont's voice in conversation with some one in an anteroom. As they neared the broad steps who should come tripping down but Harry Anguish. He saluted Quinnox and walked rapidly down the corridor, evidently taking his departure after a call on the countess.

"There goes your hostage," said the captain grimly. It had required all of Lorry's self possession to restrain the cry of joyful recognition. Up the staircase they went, meeting several ladies and gentlemen coming down, and were soon before the apartments of the princess. A tall guard stood in front of the boudoir door.

"This is your relief, Bassot. You may go," said Quinnox, and with a careless glance at the strange soldier the sick man trudged off down the hall, glad to seek his bed.

"Is she there?" whispered Lorry, dizzy and faint with expectancy.

"Yes. This may mean your death and mine, sir, but you would do it. Will you explain to her how I came to play her false?"

"She shall know the truth, good friend."

"After I have gone twenty paces down the hall do you rap on the door. She may not admit you at first, but do not give up. If she bid you enter or asks your mission, enter quickly and close the door. It is unlocked. She may swoon or scream, and you must prevent either if possible. In an hour I shall return and you must go back to the passage."

"Never! I have come to save her and her country, and I intend to do so by surrendering myself this very night."

"I had hoped to dissuade you. But, sir, you cannot do so tonight. You forget that this visit compromises her."

"True. I had forgotten. Well, I'll go back with you, but tomorrow I am your prisoner, not your friend."

"Be careful," cautioned the captain as he moved away. Lorry feverishly tapped his knuckles on the panel of the door and waited with motionless heart for the response. It came not, and he rapped harder, a strange fear darting into his mind.

"Well?" came from within, the voice he adored.

Impetuous haste marked his next movement. He dashed open the door, sprang inside and closed it quickly. She was sitting before her escritoire, writing, and looked up, surprised and annoyed.

"I was not to be disturbed—oh"—

She staggered to her feet and was in his arms before the breath of her exclamation had died away. Had he not supported her she would have dropped to the floor. Her hands, her face, were like ice, her breast was pulseless, and there was the wildest terror in her eyes.

"My darling—my queen!" he cried passionately. "At last I am with you. Don't look at me like that! It is really I—I could not stay away—I could not permit this sacrifice of yours! Speak to me! Do not stare like that!"

Her wide blue eyes slowly swept his face, piteous wonder and doubt struggling in their depths.

"Am I awake?" she murmured, touching his face with her bewildered, questioning hands. "Is it truly you?" A smile illumined her face, but her joy was short lived. An expression of terror came to her eyes, and there was agony in the fingers that clasped his arm. "Why do you come here?" she cried. "It is madness! How and why came you to this room?"

He laughed like a delighted boy and hastily narrated the events of the past twenty-four hours, ending with the trick that gave him entrance to her room.

"And all this to see me?" she whispered.

"To see you and to save you. I hear that Gabriel has been annoying you and that you are to give up half of the kingdom tomorrow. Tell me everything. It is another reason for my coming."

Sitting beside him on the divan, she told of Gabriel's visit and his dismissal, the outlook for the next day, and then sought to convince him of the happiness it afforded her to protect him from an undeserved death. He obtained for Quinnox the royal pardon and lauded him to the skies. So ravishing were the moments, so ecstatic the sensations that possessed them, that neither thought of the consequences if he were to be discovered in her room, disguised as one of her guardsmen. He forgot the real import of his reckless visit until she commanded him to stand erect before her that she might see what manner of soldier he was. With a laugh, he leaped to his feet and stood before her—attention! She leaned back among the cushions and surveyed him through the glowing, impassioned eyes which slowly closed as if to shut out temptation.

"You are a perfect soldier," she said, her lashes parting ever so slightly.

"No more perfect than you!" he cried. She remembered, with confusion, her own masquerading, but it was unkind of him to remember it. Her allusion to his uniform turned his thoughts into the channel through which they had been surging so turbulently up to the moment that found him tapping at her door. He had not told her of his determination, and the task grew harder as he saw the sparkle glow brighter and brighter in her eye.

"You are a brave soldier, then," she substituted. "It required courage to come to Edelweiss with hundreds of men ready to seize you at sight, a pack of bloodhounds."

WHY WE ARE AGENTS

Here Are Some of the Convincing Facts That Caused us to Take the Agency for the Fulton Compounds, the First Things Known that Cure Chronic Kidney Diseases.

First, let it be distinctly understood that every one of the cases below had been diagnosed by one or more physicians as chronic and incurable; second, note the certainty of the results as shown by the recovery also of the friends they told who were similarly afflicted with supposed incurable kidney diseases.

N. W. Spaulding, President Spaulding Saw Co., San Francisco, had a recovery in his own family and told several others who recovered.

Adolph Weske, capitalist, San Francisco, recovered himself and told two friends who recovered.

Dr. Carl D. Ziele, pioneer druggist, 522 Pacific street, San Francisco, recovered himself and gave it to more than a dozen patients who recovered.

Charles Engelke, editor of the German paper, San Francisco, recovered himself and told it to a number who recovered, one of them being Charles F. Wacker, the Sixth street merchant.

R. M. Wood, editor Wine and Spirit Review, recovered himself and told it to several who recovered, among them being an old-school physician.

Edward Short of the San Francisco Call recovered, also three of his friends, viz.: William Martin, Captain Hubbard of the Honolulu route and William Hawkins of the U. S. Quartermaster's Department of San Francisco.

John A. Phelps of the Hotel Repeller, San Francisco, and two of his friends, etc. etc.

The kidneys are the sewers that strain the poisons out of the system. We can stand the derangement for a short while, but when the interference becomes chronic (permanent), as first explained by Bright, it is only a question of how long before death will ensue. It is then called Brights Disease and incurable. All kidney troubles develop into this form about the 8th to 10th month. The above cases were incurable by all other known means. People having kidney disease should begin at first with the only known thing that will cure it if it has reached the serious stage. WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

TRADE GOOD AT TRENTON.

Trenton, N. J., Sept. 1.—(Special.)—Trade among the local potteries is steadily assuming a healthy proportion. Not since the closing of the spring trade has the order files been so well filled. Orders are arriving quite steadily and this may be accounted for by the fact that nearly all the traveling men are out on the road. Now is the season with the local potteries when they sell considerable ware, especially in the finer qualities and novelties for the holiday trade. While business is picking up there is still some room for improvement. Most of the plants report good kilns, which is in decided contrast to the conditions last spring, when tons of ware had to be deposited in the ash heap because of some defect in the firing or of a general run of bad clay.

The crockery trade has been joined by the lamp factories, which are also making quite a bid for business. All of the lamp factories have men out soliciting orders for the new fall goods, which include many new and artistic shapes and designs.

The Maddock Pottery company, the Mercer pottery and the Glasgow pottery are all working on large hotel orders, some for the common heavy ware and others for decorated dinner sets of the finest quality. The sanitary trade notices about the same run of affairs. While there is still quite a demand for closets it is not so great as it was in the spring when building took a decided boom.

An important work on the clay industries of New Jersey is being compiled under the auspices of the state geologist and will be ready soon. It is being prepared by Dr. Heinrich Reiss, who is a recognized authority on clay, both in this country and Europe. The report will consist of his opinion upon the economic and technical phases of the clay industries of the state. The importance of such a report can be judged from the fact that the annual value of manufactured clay products in the state is more than $11,000,000, and that the value of raw material, mined and sold to manufacturers is about $500,000. The report will contain chapters on the following subjects: "The Origin of Clay," "The Technology of Clay-working Industries" and "The Manufacture of Pottery." It is planned to include in the report maps showing the general formations of clay and the capacity of each of the clay working industries throughout New Jersey. Much progress has been made in this report. A large number of samples of raw clay and the selection of these has been pretty nearly accomplished. Not only have samples been taken from localities now being worked, but of others in the hope of aiding in the development of new regions.

POTTERIES OF DENMARK.

In Denmark the trade in potting in fine ware is represented by the famous Royal factory, whose porcelain is known over the world; there is also a private firm which makes excellent ware. The strong feature of the Royal factory is the excellence, hardness and brilliancy of the glaze; some of the most successful pieces take the form of animals, such as polar bears, otters with fish, and other similar subjects, all beautifully modeled without being extravagant.

The earthenware factory is also an excellent and well-appointed concern, the proprietors of which have shown a most enterprising spirit. They have succeeded in doing that which has so long been desideratum in the potteries, viz., firing ware by gas, and so completely consuming their own smoke. No greater boon could be conferred on the pottery towns than the introduction of a system that would completely abolish smoke.

So far as the Copenhagen works are concerned this has been accomplished, for the factory chimneys give off nothing but a little steam. There are in Denmark also a number of terra cotta makers, some of whom are very successfully introducing on their ware colored glazes, splashed, mottled and agate effects; somewhat old in treatment, but very pleasing.

NEW YORK NOTES.

While business in the crockery line cannot yet be termed brisk, a fairly large number of orders have been received from the regular trade during the last week. The individual purchases, though not large, have amounted to considerable in the aggregate and a constantly increasing volume of business is confidently expected from now on, says the Commercial. The traveling salesmen have also not been behind in turning in their quota or orders and they generally report excellent business prospects along their route. Most of the potteries are pretty well stocked up just now in anticipation of a sudden demand as soon as the fall buying gets livelier. For American goods a better demand than in former years is noted, with the higher grade of ware in the best request. In foreign goods the German lines receive considerable attention, while French and English wares are much sought after in the more elaborate patterns.

RUNNING FULL.

The Avon plant of the Wheeling Potteries company, at Tiltonville, is running full and can't get abreast of orders. The plant is making some art ware of a very high standard.

POTTERY NOTES.

F. S. Crowl, one of the representatives of the Hall China company, left a few days ago for Iowa to visit his trade.

Ed Veith and family, of Fourth street, have been spending a week or so at Niagara Falls, enjoying a rest. Mrs. Veith has been somewhat indisposed of late, but is improving.

Claude Gigax, of Zanesville, formerly a decorator at the K., T. & K., has returned to this city and will accept a position in the decorating department of one of the local potteries.

KODOL
Digests What You Eat.

Weak Hearts

Are due to indigestion. Ninety-nine of every one hundred people who have heart trouble can remember when it was simple indigestion. It is a scientific fact that all cases of heart disease, not organic, are not only traceable to, but are the direct result of indigestion. All food taken into the stomach which fails of perfect digestion ferments and swells the stomach, puffing it up against the heart. This interferes with the action of the heart, and in the course of time that delicate but vital organ becomes diseased.

Kodol

Digests What You Eat

Mrs. Loring Nichols of Penn Yan, N. Y., writes: After eating, my food would distress me by making my heart palpitate and I would become very weak. Finally I got a bottle of Kodol and it gave me immediate relief. After using a few bottles I am cured.

Kodol cures indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach disorders, and gives the heart a full, free and untrammeled action.

Synopsis of Preceding Chapters.

CHAPTER I.—Grenfall Lorry, a wealthy occupant who refuses or neglects to do quaintance with a charming foreign girl on the train from Denver to Washington. The pair are left behind when the car stops for repairs in West Virginia. II.—Lorry wires ahead to hold the train. He and the unknown girl ride twenty miles at a tearing pace in a mountain coach. Lorry knows it is a dangerous ride. There is no love-making, but a near approach to it as the rolling stage tumbles the passengers about. III.—Lorry dines with the foreign party, consisting of Miss Guggenslocker, Uncle Caspar and Aunt Yvonne. They are natives of Graustark, a country Lorry had never heard of before. IV.—Lorry shows the foreigners the sights of Washington. They leave for New York to sail on the Kaiser Wilhelm. Miss Guggenslocker naively calls Lorry her "Ideal American" and invites him to come and see her at Edelweiss. V.—Wildly infatuated, Lorry hurries to New York. The name Guggenslocker is not on the steamer list. He sees the steamer off. Miss G. waves him a kiss from the deck. VI.—Lorry joins his old friend, Harry Anguish, an American artist in Paris. Graustark and its capital Edelweiss, are located by a guide book. The Americans get no trace of the Guggenslockers there. VII.—Lorry sees his charmer driving in a carriage with a beautiful companion of her own sex. He gets a glance of recognition, but the carriage rolls on, leaving the mystery unsolved. Later he receives a note at his hotel signed Sophia Guggenslocker, inviting him to visit her next day. VIII.—In the evening Lorry and Anguish ramble about the grounds of the castle where dwells the court of the princess of Graustark. They overhear a plot to abduct the princess and resolve to capture the plotters red handed. IX.—Following the conspirators, Lorry finds himself in a room he heard them designate as that of the princess. X.—Lorry tells the princess of the plot. Mutual recognition; she is Miss Guggenslocker. Dannox, the guard, is in the abduction plot. He fells Lorry with a terrible blow. Anguish to the rescue. XI.—Lorry quartered in the castle. The princess visits him, but forbids all talk of love. XII.—Graustark is bankrupt and owes the neighboring princedom of Axphain $30,000,000. The creditor demands cash or the cession of the richest districts of Graustark. XIII.—The Prince of Axphain offers to extend the loan if the princess will marry his son Lorenz. Prince Gabriel, of Dawsbergen, also bids for the princess' hand with offer of a loan. Yetive tells Lorry that she belongs to her people and will marry Lorenz. XIV.—Lorry discovered kissing the princess while she is seated on the throne. He quits the castle by royal command. XV.—Betrothal of the princess to Lorenz. The Americans recognize Gabriel as chief conspirator in the abduction plot. XVI.—Lorenz toasts the princess lightly in a cafe. Lorry dashes the glass from his hand. Challenge to a duel. Lorenz assassinated. Lorry charged with the crime. XVII.—Princess Yetive commits Lorry to prison. All Graustark rejoices at the death of Lorenz. XVIII and XIX.—The princess helps Lorry to escape. Disguised as a soldier, she conducts him to a monastery. XX.—Axphain offers Graustark grace on the loan if Lorry is executed before Nov. 20. Yetive offers a reward for the capture of Lorry. XXI and XXII.—Lorry prevails upon Quinnox, an emissary of the princess, to conduct him secretly to the castle. He will surrender himself to save the realm. The princess spurns the offer of Gabriel.

Under the stealthy hand of Quinnox the panel opened, and they listened intently for some moments. There was no one in the dimly lighted chapel, so they made their way to the door at the opposite end. Before unlocking the door the captain pointed to a lance which stood against the wall near by.

"You are to carry that lance," he said briefly. Then he cautiously peered forth. A moment later they were in the broad hall, boldly striding toward the distant stairway. Lorry had been instructed to proceed without the least sign of timidity. They passed several attendants in the hall and heard Count Halfont's voice in conversation with some one in an anteroom. As they neared the broad steps who should come tripping down but Harry Anguish. He saluted Quinnox and walked rapidly down the corridor, evidently taking his departure after a call on the countess.

"There goes your hostage," said the captain grimly. It had required all of Lorry's self possession to restrain the cry of joyful recognition. Up the staircase they went, meeting several ladies and gentlemen coming down, and were soon before the apartments of the princess. A tall guard stood in front of the boudoir door.

"This is your relief, Bassot. You may go," said Quinnox, and with a careless glance at the strange soldier the sick man trudged off down the hall, glad to seek his bed.

"Is she there?" whispered Lorry, dizzy and faint with expectancy.

"Yes. This may mean your death and mine, sir, but you would do it. Will you explain to her how I came to play her false?"

"She shall know the truth, good friend."

"After I have gone twenty paces down the hall do you rap on the door. She may not admit you at first, but do not give up. If she bid you enter or asks your mission, enter quickly and close the door. It is unlocked. She may swoon or scream, and you must prevent either if possible. In an hour I shall return and you must go back to the passage."

"Never! I have come to save her and her country, and I intend to do so by surrendering myself this very night."

"I had hoped to dissuade you. But, sir, you cannot do so tonight. You forget that this visit compromises her."

"True. I had forgotten. Well, I'll go back with you, but tomorrow I am your prisoner, not your friend."

"Be careful," cautioned the captain as he moved away. Lorry feverishly tapped his knuckles on the panel of the door and waited with motionless heart for the response. It came not, and he rapped harder, a strange fear darting into his mind.

"Well?" came from within, the voice he adored.

Impetuous haste marked his next movement. He dashed open the door, sprang inside and closed it quickly. She was sitting before her escritoire, writing, and looked up, surprised and annoyed.

"I was not to be disturbed—oh"—

She staggered to her feet and was in his arms before the breath of her exclamation had died away. Had he not supported her she would have dropped to the floor. Her hands, her face, were like ice, her breast was pulseless, and there was the wildest terror in her eyes.

"My darling—my queen!" he cried passionately. "At last I am with you! Don't look at me like that! It is really I—I could not stay away—I could not permit this sacrifice of yours! Speak to me! Do not stare like that!"

Her wide blue eyes slowly swept his face, piteous wonder and doubt struggling in their depths.

"Am I awake?" she murmured, touching his face with her bewildered, questioning hands. "Is it truly you?" A smile illumined her face, but her joy was short lived. An expression of terror came to her eyes, and there was agony in the fingers that clasped his arm. "Why do you come here?" she cried. "It is madness! How and why came you to this room?"

He laughed like a delighted boy and hastily narrated the events of the past twenty-four hours, ending with the trick that gave him entrance to her room.

"And all this to see me?" she whispered.

"To see you and to save you. I hear that Gabriel has been annoying you and that you are to give up half of the kingdom tomorrow. Tell me everything. It is another reason for my coming."

Sitting beside him on the divan, she told of Gabriel's visit and his dismissal, the outlook for the next day, and then sought to convince him of the happiness it afforded her to protect him from an undeserved death. He obtained for Quinnox the royal pardon and lauded him to the skies. So ravishing were the moments, so ecstatic the sensations that possessed them, that neither thought of the consequences if he were to be discovered in her room, disguised as one of her guardsmen. He forgot the real import of his reckless visit until she commanded him to stand erect before her that she might see what manner of soldier he was. With a laugh, he leaped to his feet and stood before her—attention! She leaned back among the cushions and surveyed him through the glowing, impassioned eyes which slowly closed as if to shut out temptation.

"You are a perfect soldier," she said, her lashes parting ever so slightly.

"No more perfect than you!" he cried. She remembered, with confusion, her own masquerading, but it was unkind of him to remember it. Her allusion to his uniform turned his thoughts into the channel through which they had been surging so turbulently up to the moment that found him tapping at her door. He had not told her of his determination, and the task grew harder as he saw the sparkle glow brighter and brighter in her eye.

"You are a brave soldier, then," she substituted. "It required courage to come to Edelweiss with hundreds of men ready to seize you at sight, a pack of bloodhounds."

WHY WE ARE AGENTS

Here Are Some of the Convincing Facts That Caused us to Take the Agency for the Fulton Compounds, the First Things Known that Cure Chronic Kidney Diseases.

First, let it be distinctly understood that every one of the cases below had been diagnosed by one or more physicians as chronic and incurable; second, note the certainty of the results as shown by the recovery also of the friends they told who were similarly afflicted with supposed incurable kidney diseases.

N. W. Spaulding, President Spaulding Saw Co., San Francisco, had a recovery in his own family and told several others who recovered.

Adolph Weske, capitalist, San Francisco, recovered himself and told two friends who recovered.

Dr. Carl D. Ziele, pioneer druggist, 522 Pacific street, San Francisco, recovered himself and gave it to more than a dozen patients who recovered.

Charles Engelke, editor of the German paper, San Francisco, recovered himself and told it to a number who recovered, one of them being Charles F. Wacker, the Sixth street merchant.

R. M. Wood, editor Wine and Spirit Review, recovered himself and told it to several who recovered, among them being an old-school physician.

Edward Short of the San Francisco Call recovered, also three of his friends, viz: William Martin, Captain Hubbard of the Honolulu route and William Hawkins of the U. S. Quartermaster's Department of San Francisco.

John A. Phelps of the Hotel Repeller, San Francisco, and two of his friends, etc. etc.

The kidneys are the sewers that strain the poisons out of the system. We can stand the derangement for a short while, but when the interference becomes chronic (permanent), as first explained by Bright, it is only a question of how long before death will ensue. It is then called Brights Disease and incurable. All kidney troubles develop into this form about the 8th to 10th month. The above cases were incurable by all other known means. People having kidney disease should begin at first with the only known thing that will cure it if it has reached the serious stage. Fulton's Renal Compound for Bright's and Kidney Diseases, $1; for Diabetes, $1.50. John J. Fulton Co., 409 Washington street, San Francisco, sole compounders. Send for pamphlet. WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

TRADE GOOD AT TRENTON.

Trenton, N. J., Sept. 1.—(Special.)—Trade among the local potteries is steadily assuming a healthy proportion. Not since the closing of the spring trade has the order files been so well filled. Orders are arriving quite steadily and this may be accounted for by the fact that nearly all the traveling men are out on the road. Now is the season with the local potteries when they sell considerable ware, especially in the finer qualities and novelties for the holiday trade. While business is picking up there is still some room for improvement. Most of the plants report good kilns, which is in decided contrast to the conditions last spring, when tons of ware had to be deposited in the ash heap because of some defect in the firing or of a general run of bad clay.

The crockery trade has been joined by the lamp factories, which are also making quite a bid for business. All of the lamp factories have men out soliciting orders for the new fall goods, which include many new and artistic shapes and designs.

The Maddock Pottery company, the Mercer pottery and the Glasgow pottery are all working on large hotel orders, some for the common heavy ware and others for decorated dinner sets of the finest quality. The sanitary trade notices about the same run of affairs. While there is still quite a demand for closets it is not so great as it was in the spring when building took a decided boom.

Awaiting a reply we beg to remain

Yours very truly,

A. B. Daily, Jr., Genral Superintendent.

The membrs of the committee are unable to figure out how it comes the officials of the gas company were of the opinion that the committee had any intention of meeting with them in Pittsburg. The matter was never discussed at any length, but it was certainly expected that the conference would be held in East Liverpool, where are located the lines in which East Liverpool is interested. The action taken by the council Saturday night was due to the fact that the authorities had given up hope of hearing from the gas company, and it must stand.

MAY RESULT IN WAR

Prevailing Conditions Between Bulgaria and Turkey Hourly Growing Worse.

INSURGENTS CROSS FRONTIER

Turkish Troops in Vilayet of Uskub Spread Destruction Along Route. A Number of Bulgarian Villages Burned—Revolt Becoming General.

Sofia, Sept. 1.—Both in official and revolutionary circles the opinion is freely held that war between Bulgaria and Turkey is imminent and can be averted by nothing short of a miracle. It is not expected that either government will formally declare hostilities, but that the prevailing conditions will force on a war.

There is no question that large numbers of insurgents have recently crossed the frontier. An extensive out break in northern Macedonia is possible any day.

The Autonomic prints a telegram from Constantinople declaring that the sultan, influenced by the counsels of Germany, now favors a war with Bulgaria. The Turks here, however, take an optimistic view, asserting that there is no danger of a war, as Turkey does not desire one, and Prince Ferdinand and the present Bulgarian government are not in a position to force hostilities.

Population Subjected to Outrage.

The Bulgarian agent at Uskub reports that the detachments of Turkish troops sent to garrison the small towns in that vilayet have spread destruction along their route; the villagers have been robbed and beaten; the women violated, and the Christian population subjected to every conceivable outrage, while the local authorities appear to be helpless to stop the atrocities.

At the village of Drachevo, six miles from Uskub, the soldiers attacked all the peasants without the gendarmes interfering on behalf of the latter. The Bulgarian agent specifies similar excesses in many other villages, and the position of the Bulgarian residents is reported to be terrible, as the cruelties committed by the Turkish authorities exceed all limits.

Prince Ferdinand has not yet arrived in Sofia and the court officials declare that they are without information as to his movements.

Amnesty Offered Insurgents.

Salonica, Sept. 1.—The Turks have occupied Klissura, Albania, without resistance. A number of Bulgarian villages in its vicinity were burned.

Inspector General Hilmi Pasha recently sent a cimmission, composed of five Christians and five Turks, to offer amnesty to the insurgents on condition that they lay down their arms before the great feast in honor of the sultan's coronation.

The revolt has become general at Caza and Venilje, 25 miles from Salonica, and is spreading to Gherghli and Tikhvesh, 65 miles from Salonica.

Sarafoff, the revolutionary leader, has arrived in the neighborhood of Salonica for the purpose of directing the movements in this district.

London Firm Supplied Mad Mullah.

Aden, Arabia, Sept. 1.—The principal sources for the supply of rifles and ammunition to the Mad Mullah's forces in Somaliland have been traced through a complete identification of trade marks to a London firm. Since the commencement of the operations in Somaliland an aggregate of 3,000,000 rounds of Lee-Metford rifle ammunition and correspondingly large numbers of Lee-Metford and Gras rifles have been shipped by this London firm to Jibutil and Harrar by way of Manchester and Marseilles.

Dan Patch Makes Good Race.

St. Paul, Sept. 1.—Sixty thousand people saw Dan Patch unsuccessfully attempt to lower his world's pacing record of 1:59 at the state fair grounds. Despite the fact that the great pacer had gone against time on last Friday at Readville, Mass., and had been almost continuously on the cars ever since, he went a mile in 2 minutes flat. The day was ideal, being warm, with scarcely a breeze stirring, and the track was in first-class condition. Time by quarters—30, 59¾, 1:30¾, 2:00.

Bryan to Boost Ohio Campaign.

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 1.—W. J. Bryan left for Ohio to begin his campaign in behalf of the Democratic state ticket. Mr. Bryan said his telegram to Tom L. Johnson had been misunderstood; that he had not canceled any dates in Ohio, but business matters kept him at home. He would, he said, fill postponed dates later in the campaign, probably in October.

Lawyer Thrashed on Street.

Quarantine Established.

El Paso, Tex., Sept. 1.—Acting upon instructions from Austin, the local state health officers has established a quarantine at this port of entry against Monterey, Victoria and Rinales, Mexico, where yellow fever is said to exist.

OFFICIALS ON TRIAL

Millionaires Before Chief Justice Grummere in Circuit Court of Newark.

INDICTED FOR MANSLAUGHTER

Crossing Accident of Last February Being Investigated—Witnesses Being Examined—No Questioning of Jurors.

New York, Sept. 1.—Indicted for manslaughter, Alexander J. Cassatt, John D. Crimmins, Dr. Leslie D. Ward, Edward F. C. Young and other millionaire trolley officials were placed on trial before Chief Justice Gummere in the circuit court of Newark, N. J.

"These men were the executive committee of the board of directors of the North Jersey Street railway, the managing directors," said Prosecutor Riker. "As such they took upon themselves the responsibility of the management and safe operation of the trolley lines of the company. They did not have to assume that responsibility, but, having done so, it became their duty to provide safe transportation for its passengers.

"They owed to Ernestine Miller a duty involving the responsibility to provide her with a derailing switch at the steam railroad crossing, a clear track and such other safeguards as would insure her safe travel."

Nine School Children Killed.

Ernstine Miller, 15 years old, was one of nine high school pupils killed on the morning of February 19 last in a collision between a crosstown car and the Bernardsville express train on the Lackawanna railroad at Clifton avenue. Her case was made the basis of the official investigation which ended with the 11 indictments. At the session of the court the jury selected, two witnesses disposed of and the third was under cross-examination.

There was no questioning of jurors, the procedure being by peremptory challenge. Each defendant had the right to 20 challenges, a total of 220, and the state was allowed 12 challenges.

The first witness was Edward G. Kempf, a surveyor, who showed diagrams and measurements he had made of the Clifton avenue crossing and the immediate vicinity.

Sister on the Stand.

He was followed by Mrs. Minnie M. Horle, sister of Ernestine Miller. The defense admitted the death of Miss Miller and also that she was a passenger on the wrecked car. This was done to relieve Mrs. Horle from the pain of a prolonged examination as to her sister's death.

The last witness of the day was James Kay, a letter carrier, who was at the crossing at the time of the accident. He described the condition of the approach to the crossing and said that the motorman of the trolley car apparently made every effort to stop the car, but could not do so on account of the ice-covered condition of the tracks. He was still on the stand when court adjourned for the day.

RACE IS AGAIN DECLARED OFF

Wind Dies Down at Critical Point. Reliance's Ultimate Triumph Now Conceded.

New York, Sept. 1.—Again the beautiful cup defender Reliance failed to register her third victory over Lipton's challenger because the wind died to nothing, and the time limit of five and a half hours expired before she could reach the finish line. Her margin was approximately the same as on Thursday last. She was less than half a mile from the finish when the gun sounded. The Shamrock III. was a faint blur on the horizon fully two and a half miles astern.

Reliance's failure to score the race was the more exasperating because her ultimate triumph is now conceded even by Sir Thomas himself, to be simply a formality. The superiority of the Herreshoff boat in any kind of weather is acknowledged by the yachting critics of both sides of the Atlantic, and the fluke only prolongs the agony of the contest that has already been decided.

The waning interest in the cup races was strikingly illustrated by the size of the observation fleet, if the ships which went down to the ocean race course could be dignified by such a title. Outside of the revenue cutters which patroled the course it consisted of half a dozen side wheelers with almost empty decks, a few sea-going tugs and a score of steam yachts.

We presume it is your desire for your committee to come to this city and meet at our general office and we would be glad to have you advise us at least a day in advance of the time your committee can be here.

Awaiting a reply we beg to remain

Yours very truly,

THE OHIO VALLEY GAS CO.,

A. B. Daily, Jr., Genral Superintendent.

The membrs of the committee are unable to figure out how it comes the officials of the gas company were of the opinion that the committee had any intention of meeting with them in Pittsburg. The matter was never discussed at any length, but it was certainly expected that the conference would be held in East Liverpool, where are located the lines in which East Liverpool is interested. The action taken by the council Saturday night was due to the fact that the authorities had given up hope of hearing from the gas company, and it must stand.

MAY RESULT IN WAR

INSURGENTS CROSS FRONTIER

Turkish Troops in Vilayet of Uskub Spread Destruction Along Route. A Number of Bulgarian Villages Burned—Revolt Becoming General.

Sofia, Sept. 1.—Both in official and revolutionary circles the opinion is freely held that war between Bulgaria and Turkey is imminent and can be averted by nothing short of a miracle. It is not expected that either government will formally declare hostilities, but that the prevailing conditions will force on a war.

There is no question that large numbers of insurgents have recently crossed the frontier. An extensive out break in northern Macedonia is possible any day.

The Autonomic prints a telegram from Constantinople declaring that the sultan, influenced by the counsels of Germany, now favors a war with Bulgaria. The Turks here, however, take an optimistic view, asserting that there is no danger of a war, as Turkey does not desire one, and Prince Ferdinand and the present Bulgarian government are not in a position to force hostilities.

Population Subjected to Outrage.

The Bulgarian agent at Uskub reports that the detachments of Turkish troops sent to garrison the small towns in that vilayet have spread destruction along their route; the villagers have been robbed and beaten; the women violated, and the Christian population subjected to every conceivable outrage, while the local authorities appear to be helpless to stop the atrocities.

At the village of Drachevo, six miles from Uskub, the soldiers attacked all the peasants without the gendarmes interfering on behalf of the latter. The Bulgarian agent specifies similar excesses in many other villages, and the position of the Bulgarian residents is reported to be terrible, as the cruelties committed by the Turkish authorities exceed all limits.

Prince Ferdinand has not yet arrived in Sofia and the court officials declare that they are without information as to his movements.

Amnesty Offered Insurgents.

Salonica, Sept. 1.—The Turks have occupied Klissura, Albania, without resistance. A number of Bulgarian villages in its vicinity were burned.

Inspector General Hilmi Pasha recently sent a cimmission, composed of five Christians and five Turks, to offer amnesty to the insurgents on condition that they lay down their arms before the great feast in honor of the sultan's coronation.

The revolt has become general at Caza and Venilje, 25 miles from Salonica, and is spreading to Gherghli and Tikhvesh, 65 miles from Salonica.

Sarafoff, the revolutionary leader, has arrived in the neighborhood of Salonica for the purpose of directing the movements in this district.

London Firm Supplied Mad Mullah.

Aden, Arabia, Sept. 1.—The principal sources for the supply of rifles and ammunition to the Mad Mullah's forces in Somaliland have been traced through a complete identification of trade marks to a London firm. Since the commencement of the operations in Somaliland an aggregate of 3,000,000 rounds of Lee-Metford rifle ammunition and correspondingly large numbers of Lee-Metford and Gras rifles have been shipped by this London firm to Jibutil and Harrar by way of Manchester and Marseilles.

Dan Patch Makes Good Race.

St. Paul, Sept. 1.—Sixty thousand people saw Dan Patch unsuccessfully attempt to lower his world's pacing record of 1:59 at the state fair grounds. Despite the fact that the great pacer had gone against time on last Friday at Readville, Mass., and had been almost continuously on the cars ever since, he went a mile in 2 minutes flat. The day was ideal, being warm, with scarcely a breeze stirring, and the track was in first-class condition. Time by quarters—30, 59¾, 1:30¼, 2:00.

Bryan to Boost Ohio Campaign.

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 1.—W. J. Bryan left for Ohio to begin his campaign in behalf of the Democratic state ticket. Mr. Bryan said his telegram to Tom L. Johnson had been misunderstood; that he had not canceled any dates in Ohio, but business matters kept him at home. He would, he said, fill postponed dates later in the campaign, probably in October.

Lawyer Thrashed on Street.

Quarantine Established.

El Paso, Tex., Sept. 1.—Acting upon instructions from Austin, the local state health officers has established a quarantine at this port of entry against Monterey, Victoria and Rinales, Mexico, where yellow fever is said to exist.

OFFICIALS ON TRIAL

Millionaires Before Chief Justice Grummere in Circuit Court of Newark.

INDICTED FOR MANSLAUGHTER

New York, Sept. 1.—Indicted for manslaughter, Alexander J. Cassatt, John D. Crimmins, Dr. Leslie D. Ward, Edward F. C. Young and other millionaire trolley officials were placed on trial before Chief Justice Gummere in the circuit court of Newark, N. J.

"These men were the executive committee of the board of directors of the North Jersey Street railway, the managing directors," said Prosecutor Riker. "As such they took upon themselves the responsibility of the management and safe operation of the trolley lines of the company. They did not have to assume that responsibility, but, having done so, it became their duty to provide safe transportation for its passengers.

"They owed to Ernestine Miller a duty involving the responsibility to provide her with a derailing switch at the steam railroad crossing, a clear track and such other safeguards as would insure her safe travel."

Nine School Children Killed.

Ernstine Miller, 15 years old, was one of nine high school pupils killed on the morning of February 19 last in a collision between a crosstown car and the Bernardsville express train on the Lackawanna railroad at Clifton avenue. Her case was made the basis of the official investigation which ended with the 11 indictments. At the session of the court the jury selected, two witnesses disposed of and the third was under cross-examination.

There was no questioning of jurors, the procedure being by peremptory challenge. Each defendant had the right to 20 challenges, a total of 220, and the state was allowed 12 challenges.

The first witness was Edward G. Kempf, a surveyor, who showed diagrams and measurements he had made of the Clifton avenue crossing and the immediate vicinity.

Sister on the Stand.

He was followed by Mrs. Minnie M. Horle, sister of Ernestine Miller. The defense admitted the death of Miss Miller and also that she was a passenger on the wrecked car. This was done to relieve Mrs. Horle from the pain of a prolonged examination as to her sister's death.

The last witness of the day was James Kay, a letter carrier, who was at the crossing at the time of the accident. He described the condition of the approach to the crossing and said that the motorman of the trolley car apparently made every effort to stop the car, but could not do so on account of the ice-covered condition of the tracks. He was still on the stand when court adjourned for the day.

RACE IS AGAIN DECLARED OFF

Wind Dies Down at Critical Point. Reliance's Ultimate Triumph Now Conceded.

New York, Sept. 1.—Again the beautiful cup defender Reliance failed to register her third victory over Lipton's challenger because the wind died to nothing, and the time limit of five and a half hours expired before she could reach the finish line. Her margin was approximately the same as on Thursday last. She was less than half a mile from the finish when the gun sounded. The Shamrock III. was a faint blur on the horizon fully two and a half miles astern.

Reliance's failure to score the race was the more exasperating because her ultimate triumph is now conceded even by Sir Thomas himself, to be simply a formality. The superiority of the Herreshoff boat in any kind of weather is acknowledged by the yachting critics of both sides of the Atlantic, and the fluke only prolongs the agony of the contest that has already been decided.

The waning interest in the cup races was strikinly illustrated by the size of the observation fleet, if the ships which went down to the ocean race course could be dignified by such a title. Outside of the revenue cutters which patroled the course it consisted of half a dozen side wheelers with almost empty decks, a few sea-going tugs and a score of steam yachts.

WORKING PEOPLE PLEASED WITH ACTION OF COUNCIL UPON THE GAS QUESTION

Their Part in Bringing Matters to a Focus Was an Important One—Company's Belated Reply.

The action taken by the city council on the gas question will be gratifying to the members of the several trades unions in the city, and especially to the delegates from these unions to the central labor body, who were instrumental in having the matter taken up by the city council. The report which will be made to the Trades Council at its meeting to be held this week will be interesting, and at the same time demonstrate that the representatives of that body have accomplished something along the lines laid down from the beginning.

When the gas grab matter was placed in the hands of the legislative committee of the central labor union, it was the intention to have the city council back up its action in the passage of the ordinance restricting the price to be charged for natural gas. The citizens' committee was formed later on and the Trades Council committee connected itself with the organization, believing that much good could be accomplished in this way also. It has been shown they were not mistaken. However, the plans of the latter body changed the arrangement somewhat, since the citizens' association resolved to ask the city council to assume the responsibility of a concentrated movement to stop the proposed increase. For that reason the mixed committee of business men, councilmen and workers was appointed. It was through the persistent efforts of these men that the council has taken the stand for an injunction.

A member of the Trades Council who is one of its representatives on the citizens' committee said to a News Review reporter last evening:

"It was not the intention of the legislative committee of the central labor union, nor is it the purpose of the body as a whole, to go to any expense in order to secure the court decision. It is the opinion of the members of the Trades Council, who, by the way, are all citizens and many of them taxpayers, that the city, through its legislative body, was the proper power to back up the ordinance restricting the rates.

"The action taken by the council at its special session Saturday evening was nothing more than had been expected of it, and did not cover a particle more ground than it should. The citizens have a perfect right to demand and receive protection at the hands of the city council. The move of the gas corporation to foist the unjust increase upon the private consumer was as unreasonable as it is inexcusable, and the workers of the city, as well as the citizens generally, did not ask too much when they called upon the city council for relief. To the present the members of the council have responded nobly to the demands of the people, and it is to be hoped they will continue as aggressive until the gas companies are either put out of business or are made to realize that they are not bigger than the city of East Liverpool."

The following letter was received from the Pittsburg office of the gas corporation yesterday, and to a majority of citizens seems like a superfluity at this late date:

Pittsburg, Pa., August 31, 1903.

Willis Davidson, clerk of council, East Liverpool, Ohio:

Dear Sir: Your favor of August 27, asking us to make arrangements to have a representative of this company meet the committee of your council with reference to the increase in in rate for natural gas is received this morning. In reply would say that we would be glad to meet your commit-

BIG TREE FELL UPON A FARMER

Hugh Rose, of Highlandtown, Crippled For Life By An Accident.

Salineville, September 1.—(Special)—Hugh Rose, a prominent and well known farmer residing near Highlandtown, met with an accident Saturday that will probably leave him a cripple for life. He left his home for a tract of timber to fell trees. While cutting down a large oak he failed to reach a place of safety, and a huge limb of the falling tree struck him on the shoulders and grazed his back down to his lower limbs. He was running away from the tree when the accident occurred.

After he had collected his senses, he walked, with much difficulty, for a physician to Salineville. An examination revealed that no bones were broken but the back of the man was somewhat bruised, and his kidneys were strained. He was very sore and almost unable to move yesterday.

Rock And Rye Under the Ban.

Columbus, September 1.—(Special.)—Attorney General Sheets holds that the sale of "rock and rye and glycerine" as a beverage in a prohibition town is a violation of the law.

PAINFULLY SHOT BY A COMPANION

LEGS FILLED WITH SHOT

While hunting ground hogs near Wellsville yesterday afternoon, Ollie Pinkerton, a prominent young man of that city, was painfully injured by the accidental discharge of a shot gun in the hands of Jesse Graham, his companion. Pinkerton's limbs were literally filled with shot and while the wounds are not considered dangerous, they are of a serious character.

The boys had been creeping along the ground, Graham, with the gun, in the rear of Pinkerton. Graham stumbled and in trying to recover himself, both barrels of the gun were discharged. With a groan young Pinkerton sank to the ground and Graham, badly frightened, hastened for assistance.

The wounded boy was taken to his home, where Dr. Hutchison rendered medical attention. It was found that 19 of the shot entered the calf of his right leg and 17 entered the calf of his left leg. The shots were removed and Pinkerton is showing signs of improvement.

PATROL WAGON WAS KEPT BUSY

On the Run for an Hour on Account of Bibulous Ones.

For more than an hour last night the patrol was going at its best. There were telephone calls from all parts of the city for it and Driver Bryan kept his two whites in rapid motion. The occasion for the unusual activity was bad cases of drunks.

John Brighouse and Charles Graham were arrested by Officer McDermott for creating much undue confusion in the vicinity of their homes. Brighouse was fined $2 and costs and Graham will be given a hearing some time today.

Timothy Strain was landed by Officer Morris. He was very disorderly. Chief Wyman allowed him his liberty this morning when he agreed to leave the city.

Jim Pesiley was taken by Officer Dunn for being drunk. He was fined $2 and costs and upon paying secured his release.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE

LIFE SUPPORT FOR MISSIONARY

POPULAR YOUNG MINISTER

Whose Home Is in This City the Winner of a Seminary Scholarship, Now in Receipt of a Greater Gift from Wealthy Pittsburgers.

The many friends of Rev. Hubert C. Chambers in this city will read with interest and satisfaction the announcement that ex-State Senator William Flinn and Mrs. Flinn, of Pittsburg, have given their pledge to support Mr. Chambers in mission work in India for life. Mr. Chambers was graduated from the Allegheny Theological seminery last May. He will go into foreign mission fields for ten years before he returns on a furlough. Mr. and Mrs. Flinn have agreed to support Mr. Chambers while he is engaged in mission work, and as he goes out to make the cause his life work there is every likelihood that Mr. and Mrs. Flinn will support him in that work during his lifetime. Mrs. Flinn is a member of the United Presbyterian church. Mr. Chambers will leave for his future field of labor some time in October.

Mr. and Mrs. Flinn selected one of the most promising young men of the denomination to send to the India field. Mr. Chambers was the winner of the Thomas Jamieson scholarship on church history, which was awarded for the first time during last summer. The scholarship is valued at about $150. The award was for the best work in the department during the course of three years. Mr. Chambers was one of the principal factors in forwarding the missionary conference which was held in the seminary last spring, which has revived in the church in this community the interest in foreign missions.

Mr. Chambers was born in East Liverpool, and was graduated from Westminster college, New Wilmington, and then entered the seminary. He was married a short time ago.

The scholarship won by Mr. Chambers was given by Mrs. Thomas Jamieson, widow of Thomas Jamieson, of Pittsburg, who was anxious to help the students. Last year Mrs. Jamieson gave $10,000 for four scholarships in theology. Old Testament work, New Testament work and church history. Rev. R. W. Walker won the Old Testament scholarship; Rev. George E. Raitt, of the Sixth church, Pittsburg, the New Testament scholarship; Rev. A. H. Baldinger the one in theology and Mr. Chambers the scholarship in church history.

SUIT APPEALED

In Which Judge Byron S. Ambler, of Salem, Is Plaintiff.

Lisbon, September 1.—(Special.)—The case of Judge Byron S. Ambler, of Salem, vs. the Townsend Coal company, of Washingtonville, has been appealed from the court of Justice H. L. Ingledue, of Salem township. The plaintiff sued for $250, held to be due as royalty for coal mined from the farm formerly owned by W. H. Walter, under a contract made November 1, 1896, between Mr. Walter and D. M., Frank L. and D. E. Stouffer, the contract having been assigned later by Walter to the plaintiff. Interest is also asked.

Judgment for the full amount was rendered by default on August 18, and the defendant appeals from this decision.

PUBLIC WEDDING

And Other Attractions at the Morning Tribune's Picnic at Rock Springs.

The East Liverpool Tribune, as a morning paper, one year old today, and is celebrating the fact with a picnic and outing of its patrons at Rock Springs park. There will be music and other attractions, free tickets to the theatre for subscribers, and a wedding in the base ball park. Unpropitious weather may have interfered with the attendance, but there was a good crowd at the park and there is no doubt that all who are present will have a most enjoyable time.

The couple to be married are Miss Alice Weight, of Maryland, and Mr. John Coham, of Pittsburg. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. W. B. Gillis.

CRUELTY AND ABUSE CHARGED BY WIFE

Mrs. Henry Barth, of Teegarden, Tells a Sad Story in a Divorce Petition.

Lisbon, September 1.—(Special.)—Another divorce petition has been filed by Attorney Lodge Riddle, of Lisbon. The plaintiff is Hattie Barth, of Teegarden, who desires legal separation from Henry Barth. They were married August 12, 1894, and have three children, Floyd, Josephine and Mary, of whom the wife asks the custody.

Mrs. Barth charges extreme cruelty, alleging that on June 15 last her husband dealt her a blow on the shoulder and again in July struck her in the chest, pushed her off the porch and continued to abuse her until she was obliged to flee to a neighbor's home for protection. On August 24, she says her husband struck her in the face and pushed her against a stove. She further says that on numerous occasions her husband has called her vile names, reflecting on her chastity.

The defendant has been enjoined from disposing of farm implements, live stock and crops, valued at about $300, pending a hearing of the case, the defendant having petitioned for alimony.

HIS OBJECTIONS WERE ALL IN VAIN

BITTER TALK TO MAYOR

Newton Croxall, the young man who was arrested Saturday night while in a disorderly house in Jethro Hollow, and who was fined $50 and costs upon his plea of guilty, protested strongly against the amount imposed. He was not alone in his protest; his father, Newton Croxall, the West End councilman, also taking exceptions to the fine.

The councilman appeared at the city hall last evening and assailed the mayor in very strong terms. He said that the reason the mayor had fined his boy so large an amount was because he wanted to get even with him for introducing the police ordinance. He also said that he had heard that Chief Wyman had made the remark that he would not rest until Croxall, Jr., was again behind the penitentiary walls at Columbus. The mayor and chief were indignant at the accusations and were not slow in telling the irate councilman so.

Young Croxall acted in a manner when arrested that would have warranted the mayor in imposing the full penalty. He called the chief every vile and dirty name that could be imagined and topped it off by striking him in the face.

People in the vicinity of Jethro Hollow are pleased and think that they may get rid of the disorderly houses.

Since the houses have been running so openly property in that section of the city has deteriorated in value at least 500 per cent, says a prominent man, and unless they are made to leave the property will be absolutely worthless.

STILL LOOKING FOR MAN NAMED SMITH

Southside Girl Found in Bridgeport And Sent Home By the Marshal.

Is Miss Gromo, of the Southside, still looking for the carnival man? Apparently so. The Wheeling Register of yesterday says:

"Cora Gromo, a young girl whose home is at New Cumberland, W. Va., came to the Hotel Maine in Bridgeport Saturday night and inquired for a man by the name of Smith, who was here with the carnival company. The proprietor knew the girl, and suspecting that all was not right, informed Marshal Thompson. After giving her her supper the marshal purchased a ticket and put her on a train, telling the conductor to see that she was taken to her home.

"The girl left home, leaving her parents under the impression that she was going to visit relatives at Coshocton, but instead of changing cars at Mingo, she came on to Bridgeport. The young lady is rather fast and has been corrected several times by her parents for such actions."

CRIP CAIN IS CAUCHT AND PROBABLY BOOKED FOR THE PENITENTIARY

Has Made Life a Hell For Two Women Besides Being Declared Guilty of House-Breaking.

The prayer of Milo ("Crip") Cain that he be given a free ride to the state capital, which he has been heard to utter several times of late, will very likely be answered before snow falls. He is now in jail charged with housebreaking, which if proven—and there are two witnesses who swear that they saw him commit the act—will undoubtedly give him another taste of the life behind the big stone walls.

Cain was arrested last evening about 9:30 by Officers Woods and Bryan and taken to the city jail, where a charge of drunk and disorderly was registered against him. He is an old offender. Being a cripple, Chief Wyman was on the verge of giving him a tie-ticket this morning when a woman in tears walked into central station and declared that she wanted to prefer a charge against him. The chief listened to her story.

The woman was Mrs. Hugo Stahl, who, it will be remembered, came to this city last October in search of her husband, who had deserted her and their two small children. She was penniless and friendless upon her arrival and for several weeks was dependent on the township authorities. Being energetic, however, it was not long until she procured work and a Mrs. Hughes, of Dewdrop alley, taking pity on her, fitted up three rooms and gave them to her at the very small rental of $5 per month. Since locating in that house the woman has cared for her little ones by hard toil, washing for a living.

Upon the arrival of Mrs. Stahl at the Hughes home Cain was boarding there. Mrs. Hughes had also pitied him because of his crippled arm. He was not a boarder long until he started to abuse his landlady, and Mrs. Stahl says, treated her most shamefully. She would flee to the rooms of Mrs. Stahl for protection. Cain carried on in that manner until he was run out of the city by the police for his attack on Officer Aufderheide.

After staying away until he thought the matter had died down Cain came back about 10 days ago and, it is said, he has made the homes of Mrs. Hughes and Mrs. Stahl a veritable hell since then. Time and again he has gone to the house in a drunken condition and abused the pair awfully. Once he told Mrs. Hughes that if she did not give him money he would kill her and bury her in the cellar. Only last Sunday night he applied at the house for admittance and when refused he began to storm around until the women were so frightened that Mrs. Stahl secured a gun and would have shot him had he not run.

It seems that he was drunker than usual last evening when he made another attempt to get some money from Mrs. Hughes. She heard him coming and locking the doors ran into the home of Mrs. Stahl. Cain broke down the screen door. While he was still storming the officers reached the scene.

Mrs. Hughes is lying deathly sick at her home and Mrs. Stahl has just recovered from a week in bed. Mrs. Stahl wanted to prefer a charge against him, but Mayor Weaver though it best to have Mrs. Hughes do that, and the chief executive went to her home shortly before noon today with the necessary papers.

Mrs. Stahl imparted startling information to the mayor when she said that Cain had told her many times that he had committed enough deeds to insure his incarceration in the penitentiary for life, buf that the mayor was not slick enough to land him. He is now landed.

BOYS ARRESTED BUT RELEASED

Wellsville Lads Were Suspected of a Burglary Near Empire.

Acting Chief of Police Canaday, of Wellsville, went to Toronto this morning to identify three boys who had been placed in jail there charged with robbing a confectionery store at Empire. The lads had been dismissed before the arrival of the officer. When arrested the trio, who are from the ages of from 10 to 15 years, had $20 in money, a razor and other weapons.

The police think they may have been implicated in several recent Wellsville burglaries.

PAYMENT OF $10,000 UPON COAL LANDS

Youngstown & Southern Putting Up Cash for Its Purchase at West Point.

Lisbon, September 1.—(Special.)—The Youngstown & Southern Railway company made its first payment of $10,000 yesterday on the coal lands in the vicinity of West Point, which were purchased some time ago.

This is looked upon here as conclusive evidence that the company means to push the work of construction from Lisbon to East Liverpool as fast as is practicable.

ENDED IN A ROW

Base Ball Game Between Salineville and Bergholz Led to Blows Being Struck.

Salineville, September 1.—(Special)—The Salineville ball boys went to Bergholz Saturday to play a game with the team of that town. After the fifth inning the game broke up in a free-for-all row, among the spectators. M. A. Poole, of Malvern, who was playing with the Bergholz team, was struck on the head with a ball bat, inflicting a scalp wound.

The row started over the decisions of the umpire, who immediately left the field when the wrangling commenced. The score stood 2 to 0 in favor of Bergholz at the end of the fifth inning.

ANOTHER CONFERENCE UPON POTTERY SCALE

Committees Will Get Together on Tuesday, September 8.

President Thomas J. Duffy, of the N. B. of O. P., announced today that another meeting of the conference committees to consider the wage scale has been arranged for Tuesday, September 8. Several of the conferees have been absent from the city, making an earlier meeting impossible.

While it has not been officially announced, it is the general understanding that the Brotherhood has rejected the propositions submitted as a result of the other conferences. Upon just what lines the committees will now proceed is not known.

NOT ENOUGH WIND FOR RACING TODAY

The Reliance Accordingly Missed Another Chance to Beat the Shamrock.

Sandy Hook, September 1.—(Special.)—The last race between the Reliance and the Shamrock, to have been run 15 miles to the leeward and return, was called off this afternoon owing to no wind.

The boats were jockeyed around the starting point for several hours in hopes that the wind would raise and give them a fair chance for making the race within the limit, but the sea remained calm and it was decided to call the race off until tomorrow.

Charges Her Husband With Wilful Absence and Unfaithfulness.

Lisbon, September 1.—(Special)—Caroline Freshwater, of Wellsville, has filed suit for divorce from George Freshwater, to whom she says she was married May 11, 1883. The plaintiff sets up wilful absence and gross neglect, alleging her husband deserted her September 4, 1888, and contributed nothing to her support since. She also charges her husband lived in unfaithfulness with Laule Belle Camp at Paris, Pa., for several years.

Two children born to them are dead. She asks, with the divorce, for her maiden name, Caroline Swearingen.

ADVERSE DECISION BY JUDGE ROBINSON

REFUSAL TO ENJOIN COLUMBIANA TELEPHONE COMPANY.

City Colicitor Metzger, of Salem, Says the Case Will Be Taken to Higher Court.

Salem, September 1.—(Special.)—Judge George F. Robinson, of Ravenna, before whom the application for an injunction to restrain the Columbiana County Telephone company from increasing its rates for service, was argued on Saturday, has rendered his decision, refusing the injunction. The information reached Salem this morning, in a letter from Judge Robinson, addressed to Carey & Mullins, attorneys for the telephone company. No opinion was given, the judge simply stating: "I have refused injunction in telephone case."

City Solicitor Lewis P. Metzger, who prepared the petition in the case of Farmer & Getz against the telephone company, states that the matter is not ended and that the case will be carried to a higher court.

Chris McTaggart, the man who was so badly beaten by William Bridge three weeks ago that he was compelled to stay in a hospital for nearly two weeks, appeared before the mayor this morning and had a warrant issued for Bridge, charging him with assault and battery.

The warrant was handed to Chief Wyman and Bridge was immediately arrested. He pleaded not guilty and asked for time to get an attorney.

EAST END

Says His Health Is Bad, But Trouble Between Himself and Landlord Is Reported.

Lemoine Wilson, the liveryman, who came to the East End from Salem several months ago and has been operating a stable on Virginia avenue, is preparing to quit the business, owing, he claims, to ill health. He stated this morning that his health has been bad ever since he came to East End and that he was quitting the business upon the advice of a physician. The vehicles used at the stable will be stored away and the horses turned out to pasture.

Another reason is given as the cause of Wilson quitting the business. It was reported this morning that Wilson had been having trouble over the water rent with the family of John Forbes, from whom he rents the stable. Just what the trouble was could not be learned but it resulted in Forbes refusing to continue renting Wilson the stable.

Wilson has had considerable bad luck since he took charge of the establishment. Upon two occasions he has been compelled to seek the aid of the law and in a number of other instances the rigs from his stable have been damaged.

AWAITING NEWS FROM THE MOSCOW OIL WELL

Stockholders of Rock Run Company Hope to Hear That Operations Have Been Resumed.

The stockholders of the Rock Run Oil and Gas company are anxiously awaiting news from the drillers at their new well in the Moscow, Hancock county, field that the tools have been recovered and that drilling has been resumed. Had not the loss of the tools occurred the well would have been drilled in one day this week.

Quite a number of people in the East End are interested financially in another local concern, the Ohio Valley Oil and Gas company, which is now drilling two holes, one of them on the farm of Richard Laughlin near Ohioville, and the other in the shallow field around Marietta. The first named well is now down to a depth of about 400 feet and barring accidents should be in some time next week. Mr. Laughlin, who has had two decades of experience in the oil business, is confident of striking the fluid in paying quantities.

Exercise Will Take Place at the Park Instead of at Pan American Lodge Room.

At the special meeting of Pan American Court, Tribe of Ben Hur, held last night, it was decided to alter the arrangements previously made of the exercises attending the presentation of the banner to the tribe by Supreme Chief Grard, of Crawfordsville, Ind. The presentation will take place at the park instead of in the hall of the tribe in the Larkins building, as was at first decided. This change was made because many of the members are desirous of spending the evening at the park on the day of the presentation, which is also the day of the tri-state picnic of the Ben Hur tribes.

T. W. McCain was selected to respond to the presentation speech of the supreme chief and as he is an eloquent talker, the task will be accomplished in commendable style. The committees from the local lodges are hard at work to be in shape by Thursday to help entertain the visiting members.

PINKERTON - WELLINGTON

A Pretty Home Wedding Unites a Worthy Young Couple for Life.

One of the prettiest home weddings which has taken place this season occurred today at the home of Mrs. Emma Pinkerton, on Pennsylvania avenue, at which time her daughter, Miss Permelia, became the wife of Charles J. Wellington, of Alliance, the ceremony being performed by Rev. G. W. Orcutt, of the Erie street M. E. church. Promptly at 12 o'clock the bridal party entered the parlor to the sweet strains of the wedding march.

The bride is one of East Liverpool's best and fairest young ladies, and has for some time been the organist of the Erie street M. E. church choir. She is a musician of ability and has a host of friends who regret her departure from our city. She has been employed for about two years at McCrorey's store, where she has lately held the responsible position of cashier, she being one of their most trusted employes.

The bride carried a beautiful bouquet of bride's roses and was attended by Miss Julia Thomas, of Martin's Ferry, and Miss Janet Hill, of this city, each of whom carried a bouquet of beautiful flowers.

The groom was formerly employed in a local newspaper office, but now holds a position as linotype operator on the Alliance Review. He is a very prominent young man of that city and has bright prospects for the future. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Wellington, of Lisbon.

Immediately after the wedding ceremony the guests were seated at the table, where a seven-course dinner was served.

The residence was beautifully decorated throughout with palms, cut flowers and potted plants, and the parlor was a bower of perfect beauty.

About 50 guests were present to witness the ceremony, many of whom were from out of town, among them being Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Wellington and family, of Lisbon; Mrs. Martha Fife, of Dungannon; Mrs. Amelia Thomas and daughter, of Martin's Ferry; Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Hoiles, of Alliance; Mr. and Mrs. John Pinkerton, of Bellaire; Mr. and Mrs. Will Fife, of Dungannon; Mr. and Mrs. Will Hill, of Salineville; Miss Emma Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. John Henderson, of Martin's Ferry.

The newly wedded couple were the recipients of many handsome and costly presents. Mr. and Mrs. Wellington left on the afternoon train for a visit with friends in Lisbon and other towns, after which they will go to Alliance, where they will make their home.

The latter is to handle the ribbons behind Robert L in the race. Quite a number of East Enders will go to Beaver Falls tomorrow to take in the races.

Another local horse that is showing up well at Columbian park is Frank Dickey's Billy W. He has been working out remarkably well of late and yesterday surprised his driver by stepping a mile in 2:19, an excellent mark when the condition of the track is considered.

The big railroad earnings are among the things that steady the stock market. Notwithstnding the recent flurry on Wall street, which has sent all shares, good and bad, down, the railroads of the country keep on increasing their income over a year ago and all former years. As the crop outlook, on the whole, is reasonably good, the earnings of the roads are sure to keep at a high figure for the next eight or ten months at least. An advance in stocks at an early day would seem to be inevitable. But whether the stock advance comes soon or late, the business situation is likely to remain safe. A heavy fall and winter trade is tolerably certain.

The Journal of the American Medical association figures up 4,458 cases of death or severe injury resulting from the last Fourth of July celebration, with the southern states yet to be heard from. Of this number there 415 deaths from lockjaw. Deaths from fireworks or explosives not causing lockjaw numbered 60. Ten persons were made blind; 75 lost one of their eyes; 54 lost hands, arms or legs; 174 lost one or two or more fingers; 3,670 received other severe injuries. The list of casualties resembles the report of a great battle rather than that of a peaceful celebration of our day of independence. There should be a change in methods of observing the Fourth of July unless we want to make it a day of sorrow rather than of joy. The first step should be to abolish the toy pistol, which is responsible for most of the fatalities.

The West End is not the only portion of the city where dives have thriven and flourished. The police should keep after the disorderly houses until none are to be found anywhere in the city. A good beginning has been made, but eternal vigilance will be necessary if the city is to be rid of numerous resorts which ought to be suppressed.

Tom Johnson will have three sets of enemies in the coming canvass—the John R. McLean men, the Zimmermanites and the Republican party. If Tom gets within 60,000 or 70,000 of winning he will be more surprised than either Herrick, Hanna or any other person in Ohio, says a western paper.

Interest in the international yacht race is on the wane. If Sir Thomas Lipton wants to revive it, let him change crews with the American boat.

Turkish provinces can't complain that they are governed too much. Their troubles arise from being taxed to death and not governed at all.

The breach in the Ohio Democratic party is widening. The Bryan and anti-Bryan wings cannot be induced to flap in harmony.

Even China shows an inclination to desert the silver party. There is no encouragement for Bryan Democrats anywhere.

Murders are becoming so common in Jefferson county that the newspapers dispose of them in a stick or two of matter.

Carnegie is coming back to America. Towns without libraries and churches without organs will please take notice.

Republicans will rejoice to hear that Mr. Bryan has no idea of abandoning his proposed stumping tour of Ohio.

Rev. Charles Laughlin, Formerly of This City, Doing Great Work in Columbus.

Columbus, Sept. 1.—Rev. Charles Laughlin, the pleasant and affable pastor of the Gift street M. E. church, lives at 115 Martin avenue with his wife and five children, enjoying a busy, useful life. It is his second year on the charge and in the two years he has lifted a debt of $600, which has been a nightmare for the congregation for a number of years, and started a successful movement for the rehabilitation of the church, both spiritually and materially, the former by adding to the interest and membership and the latter by renovating, repairing and repapering the church edifice.

Mr. Laughlin was born in Racine, Meigs county, O., and incidentally this statement brings about a discovery that three of the leading ministers of Columbus came from the same county, namely, Dr. McElroy, of the Broad street M. E. church; Rev. W. C. Hardinger, of the Gleenwood church, and Rev. Laughlin. Mr. Laughlin obtained his education wholly from the common school system of Ohio and is in every sense a self-made man. His father, John Laughlin, died in Racine some years ago, but his mother still lives near East Liverpool. Mr. Laughlin has been married twice, having two children by his first wife. His second wife was Miss Emma West, of Wellston, and they were married in Wellston during Mr. Laughlin's pastorate there. Three children have blessed the home from the last marriage. The home life of the family is a most pleasant one.

Fifteen years ago Mr. Laughlin began his ministerial career in a little charge embracing most of Lawrence and Gallia counties. The work was arduous and exacting, but the young minister went into it enthusiastically and had considerable success. The next year he was detailed to the Wellston church and remained there two years. Logan one year and New Plymouth one year were the next assignments, followed by a four years' itinerary in New Straitsville. Then came a four years' successful residence in Milford Center, from which Mr. Laughlin was transferred to the Gift street church. The work has all been in the Ohio conference, in which Mr. Laughlin has borne an influential part.

Mr. Laughlin has become known pretty generally over Ohio by reason of the fact that he has been engaged in lecturing for some time. Two of his lectures, "The Big Four of 1809" and "The Man for the Age," have won him many commendations in the press of the state.

FRIENDS AND VISITORS

Lyman Rinehart was a Pittsburg visitor today.

Miss Tilly Poole has gone to Sebring to visit friends for several days.

Mrs. K. E. Spencer, of Thompson avenue, is visiting friends in Salem.

Miss Marguerite Barnes left yesterday for Sebring, where she will visit friends.

Misses Gertrude and Shirley Hannan, of Gallipolis, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. U. G. King, of Bradshaw avenue.

Mrs. S. J. Cripps and Mrs. J. T. Smith left this morning for Athens, where they will spend a few days visiting.

Miss Estella Trainer, who has been spending the summer with her mother, Mrs. M. Trainer, has returned to Chicago, to school.

Prof. C. E. Phillips, of the Ohio Valley Business college, has returned from a vacation trip passed with relatives in Muskingum county.

Jason Neville, of Fourth street, left for Williston, N. D., this morning to look up his claim of government land which he has owned for several years.

Mrs. Emerson Bowman and daughters Olive and Zora have returned home after an extended visit with Mrs. Bowman's mother at Columbiana. During their stay they visited a number of other cities, including Cleveland.

Go Prepared.

In preparing for your summer outing a little forethought may save you no end of trouble. Mr. John H. Manly, a dry goods merchant, of Bellville, R. I., while packing an outfit for camping a few weeks on Narragansett Bay, put in a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for emergency use. The second day in camp his little boy was taken with cramp colic. The first dose of this remedy gave relief and the second dose effected a cure. Think of the pain and suffering this boy would have had to endure without this remedy at hand to relieve him. Such cases often result fatally. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that their is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

WELLSVILLE

IN POLICE COURT

Mrs. Geisse's Hearing Postponed. Batch of Fines Imposed.

The case of Mrs. Hettie Geisse, which was to have been given a hearing last evening, was postponed until next Tuesday, so that more witnesses can be subpoenaed. Mrs. Geisse pleaded not guilty to the charge of selling intoxicating liquor on Sunday, August 30. Dan and Frank Kindle, who reside in the West End, near Eighteenth street, were arrested last evening by Officer Canaday for fighting. One of the boys was slightly under the influence of liquor. Both pleaded guilty and were fined $5, which they were not able to pay.

Anthony Crowley, an East Liverpool potter, was corraled in the West End last evening by Officer Henthorn, who entered a drunk and disorderly charge against him. He was assessed $5. Mike Murphy, an Irondale character, was arrested last evening by Officer Henthorn. A charge of being drunk and disorderly was filed. He was fined $9 which he was unable to pay.

A FIERCE COMBAT

In Which an Italian Got a Blow That Knocked Him Out.

A fistic combat took place on Commerce street between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets last evening which resulted in a knockout for an Italian named Tony Lazzioni.

A niece of John Connor, who was playing in the neighborhood was asked by her uncle to go home, as it was getting late. He scolded the child. Two or three Italians who were passing at the time made insulting remarks to Mr. Connor. Benjamin Connor, a brother of John, it is said, struck Lazzioni a blow on the neck which felled him to the ground and rendered him unconscious.

Fellow workmen carried the man to an Italian boarding house. It is said he did not regain his senses for four hours. It was reported this morning that the Italian had died, but the report is without foundation. No arrests were made.

COUNCIL MEETING

Important Matters to Engage the City Father's Attention Tonight.

The regular monthly meeting of city council will be held this evening and a lengthy session is anticipated. Several important issues are to be brought up and petitions to be acted upon. It is thought that the city water works trustees will make another request of council to supply the necessary funds with which to complete the new pumping station. About $7,000 is actually needed to put up buildings to house the machinery of the plant.

The board of public service will probably ask council to order the issuing of enough refunding bonds with which to replenish the road fund, which is now overdrawn, so that many much needed repairs to the streets can be made.

Where He Got His Liquor.

Mayor Fogo was called upon this morning by Mrs. William Stitts, of Fourth street, who entered complaint against her husband. She stated that he was beastly drunk and that he had been giving her endless trouble. Saloon keepers had been notified not to sell liquor to him. The mayor assigned Officer Elliott to locate Stitts and arrest him. Elliott found his man in the office of a well known Main street dentist and immediately brought him to the city jail. Stitts carried a 16-ounce bottle in his hip pocket, which was nearly empty. The bottle bore the label of a druggist and a prescription number, signed by a well known physician.

Eells Saying Nothing.

Leonard Eells, the Lisbon scoundrel who shot Chief Houser last Friday evening, was taken to Lisbon yesterday by Acting Chief Canaday, where he was lodged in the county jail. He is held under bond of $1,000, and it is believed here that he will be unable to find a bondsman. Eells had little to say to Officer Canaday during the trip to Lisbon and made no attempts to escape.

No Arrests Made.

J. Mosey and Gus Weaver, two well known railroaders residing in the West End, had an altercation in Bert Whitney's barber shop, near Eighteenth street, yesterday afternoon which resulted in a black eye for Mosey. No arrests were made.

STORIES OF THE STREET

East Liverpool People Are Talking About It on Every Corner.

It is sometimes an easy matter to fool the public, but you can't keep it up very long. They are sure to find you out; and every time a man is fooled another skeptic is made. Skepticism is allowable when reading in a home newspaper about some incident occurring in San Francisco or Philadelphia, but the circumstances are entirely different when it refers to some one right here at home, friends and neighbors, people you know, whom you can see and with whom you can talk it over. This is the kind of evidence at the back of Doan's Kidney Pills, home statements by home people, and the astonishing local work they have been doing has caused more talk among our citizens than the doings of any other modern wonder. Read the following:

Mrs. Edward Orr, of 220 Thompson street, says: "My sister, Mrs. Borlan, while visiting us, recommended Doan's Kidney Pills so highly that I was induced to try them. I had severe attacks of kidney complaint. Sometimes I was so bad I could not get up. Many times my neighbors came and found me lying on the lounge suffering when I intended doing a big day's work. I was so miserable I could do nothing. After my sister told me of the pills I made up my mind to try them and got a box at the W. & W. Pharmacy. They did just what they claimed they would do—cured me sound and well in a few days. My little girl was feeling poorly and had a sallow complexion for some time. I gave her a few doses and after the treatment she felt splendidly."

For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents. Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no other.

Alum Baking Powders.

There are so many alum baking powders about, most of which are represented to be made of cream of tartar, that the following list of powders in which chemists have found alum will be of value:

PEPSIN.

KENTON.

The housekeeper should bear in mind that alum makes a cheap baking powder. It costs but two cents a pound, while cream of tartar costs thirty. The quality of the powder, is, therefore, usually indicated by the price.

Sailors Arrested for Mutiny.

Gloucester, Mass., Sept. 1.—A deputy United States marshal came here from Boston and arrested two of the crew of the schooner Golden Rod on charges of mutiny. They are Jeffrey Frazier and Fred H. Worthy. It is alleged that while at Burgeo, N. F., several members of the crew refused to perform their duties, destroyed some of the vessel's fittings and threatened the life of Captain Arsenaut. Four others are implicated, for whom the officers are looking.

Used Last Bullet on Himself

St. Louis, Sept. 1.—With one of the bullets left in his revolver after the murder of his bride, whom he had secretly married a month before, Harry F. Keevil, son of a well-known merchant, ended his own life. He left no message of sorrow or explanation. Mrs. Keevil, who was Annie Schnarr, carried the secret of their marriage to the grave. She declared there had been no quarrel.

A GOOD BILL

Interesting Features of the Show at the Theater—Barker's Wonderful Dogs.

Park patrons will be pleased this week over another good offering, although, as to be expected, it suffers by comparison with that of last week. There are two numbers on the program this week, however, that are well worth going to see, the Sully family and Barker's dogs. The other numbers also provide entertainment.

Ely and Harvey have a rather clever singing skit, introducing in a catchy way some of the latest songs. The Sully family puts on one of the best acts seen in the vaudeville circuits this year. The two youngsters can act wonderfully well and both were roundly applauded. Elizabeth Estelly introduces some coon songs in a vivacious manner, but with a voice only ordinary. She can dance, however. Barker's dogs were the whole show. The little animals surpass anything seen on the stage in this section. The usual nonsensical part of the performances of this nature was not apparent. The tricks the animals have been trained to do are original and highly entertaining. Of particular interest is the long distance jumping and leaping by the greyhounds. The kinetoscope pictures are interesting.

BY SPECIAL REQUEST

The Zara Trio Will Repeat Its Admirable Bicycle Act Tonight.

Upon special request of many of the summer theater patrons, Manager Franklin has arranged for the re-appearance tonight of the Zara trio in the laughing bicycle skit that made such a great hit at the theater last week. This trio has certainly been the most popular of the season and the skit put on by them has been the biggest hit. Besides some wonderful tricks and fancy bicycle riding many mirth provoking incidents are introduced. It is worth while to see this act.

The minstrel people at the park last week will shortly leave for McKeesport, Pa.

Detroit, Sept. 1.—The Schweizer club saengerbund, of Chicago, was awarded first prize in the fourth saengerfest of the Swiss-American saengerbund of the central states. Turner hall was crowded to its utmost capacity, when the judges announced their decisions in Sunday's singing competition and conferred the wreaths which were the prizes.

Gruetli mannerchor, of Chicago, was given second place by the judges, and the other competitors and their positions were as follows: Helvetia mannerchor, of Columbus, O., third; Gemischter choir, of Cleveland, and Helvetia mannerchor, of Allegheny, tied for fourth; Schweizer and Helvetia mannerchors, of Cleveland, tied for fifth; Schweizer mannerchor, of Hamilton, O., sixth; Schweizer mannerchor, of Cincinnati, and Alpenroesli mixed choir, of Canton, O., tied for seventh; Helvetia mannerchor, of Buffalo, eighth, and Gruetli mannerchor, of Akron, O., ninth.

After the announcement by the judges the floor of the concert hall was cleared, and the rest of the evening was given over to a ball, which brought the saengerfest to a close. At the business meeting it was decided to hold the next saengerfest in 1905 at Hamilton, O.

Remorse Drives Parent to Death.

New York, Sept. 1.—Christopher Thompson, of Brooklyn, father of Hugh Thompson, the boy who was shanghaied aboard the French bark, Marechal de Gontaut, and rescued by the revenue cutter Gresham, committed suicide at his home by drinking four ounces of carbolic acid. Thompson was 52 years old. According to the man's wife after he had confessed that he practically sold his son to the kidnapers who in turn sold him to the captain of the French bark, he began drinking heavily and had been in a very despondent frame of mind.

One bullet struck Policeman Thomas Conly in the breast and he was removed to a hospital in a serious condition. Viola was captured after a severe struggle, during which he fired his revolver, but doing no further damage.

A NICARAGUAN CANAL

Senators and Representatives Being Consulted and Decisive Action Expected—Protocols Permit Immediate Beginning of Work.

Washington, Sept. 1.—Secretary Hay has invited senators and representatives interested in the Isthmian canal to meet and discuss the advisability of going ahead with the canal by the Nicaraguan route. This would indicate that the administration does not intend to be longer delayed by the whims of Colombia. Senator Cullom, chairman of the committee on foreign relations of the senate; Representative Hitt, chairman of the committee on foreign affairs of the house; Senator Morgan and Representative Hepburn, chairmen of the canal committee of the senate and house of representatives, respectively, are among those who have been called into conference.

They will be asked to state their views as to whether "a reasonable time" has been given Colombia to ratify the treaty.

Delay Will Not Be Tolerated.

The condition of affairs in Colombia has now become so complicated that it appears to be futile to longer pursue negotiations. The course now being taken by the secretary of state, it is believed, shows conclusively that the administration does not intend to longer permit any dallying with this important question, and it is asserted that active operations looking toward the building of a canal may be expected in the near future.

The report that the department of Panama is on the verge of a revolt tends to make the situation in Colombia an impossible one, so far as building a canal there is concerned. The situation has in this way became a very delicate one.

Protocols Give Ample Authority.

There has been some disagreement as to the course that should be adopted by this government under the Spooner amendment in turning to Nicaragua for the route for a canal. It is understood that the secretary of state, as well as prominent members of the senate and house, believe that the protocols that were agreed to between the president and Costa Rica and Nicaragua in December, 1900, give ample authority to proceed with the building of the canal in Nicaragua.

In the event of the ratification of the treaty for the building of a canal in Panama there would have been a necessity in the near future for further treaty negotiations for the settlement of many details that were not disposed of finally by that document.

Can Go to Work at Once.

The treaty was ratified by the senate in the exact form that it was negotiated, with the understanding that corrections to some of its provisions might be made. It was admitted by many senators that probably all of the amendments proposed by Senator Morgan were desirable, but they took the ground that if the treaty were changed it would delay its final ratification, as the form in which it went to the senate was satisfactory to the Colombian government.

It is exactly in this same way that additional treaty stipulations between this country and Nicaragua and Costa Rica will have to be made. They are not, it is declared, of a nature to interfere with the immediate beginning of the work. It is also understood that if the United States wishes to begin the construction of the canal in the near future there is no reason for delay.

Body Exhumed Proves Murder.

Steubenville, O., Sept. 1.—There is no longer any doubt as to the murder of Ignatius Sobolewski, whose body was found in the bushes at D'Lenvale. Coroner Campbell exhumed the body and a bullet was found in it, in addition to the cuts on the head. Antonio Sifko, a suspect, could not be located, but four other men suspected of murdering the man were arrested.

REALM OF SPORTS

John Wallace's Spectacular Play the Feature of Yesterday's Ball Game.

With Niles Was a Superb Exhibition and Was Highly Enjoyed By Large Crowd of Enthusiastic Fans—Long Hits Made By Each Side.

Those millions of tadpoles and frogs living in the West End park since the heavy rains of last week had the greatest laugh of their lives yesterday afternoon, and according to Park Tender Bert Hunter their fat sides are still heaving. To Attorney John Wallace they certainly feel greatly indebted. For it was this student of Blackstone that produced their mirth.

It was during the first game of the series of three being played with Niles in which the locals were beaten by a score of 5 to 3 that members of the frog family were greeted with the stunt. Wallace had already entertained the little things by prancing around them for at least four times. They thought before his last that no man ever danced a more comical jig and all had decided to make their appreciation known last evening by giving the West End residents a rousing serenade by the rendition of that solemnly beautiful hymn, entitled "Take Your Feet Out of the Mud." But after his closing scene they were not equal to the occasion and only gave poor John a big laugh.

The people, 500 or more, who witnessed the act, also joined in. They knew it was the most spectacular performance ever presented in the famous park and it was beyond them to hold their glee. Ortleib, catcher for the visitors, had made a hit and was dead anxious to add another. And it was at his expense that Wallace made the show. The athletic coal shover landed on the little sphere for at least three bases—that is, if it had gone most any other direction.

While it was sailing over the pond and almost too far to be handled, Wallace made a shirt tail shoot for the center of the swamp and with a "swing your partner" stunt made a desperate lunge into the air, and he closed in on the precious ball. But alas! the worst was yet to come. His equilibrium was lost and among those pesky little animals he sprawled. An uproar, both from the pond and the grand stand, that could be heard from hill to hill immediately ensued and Wallace walked to the bench, not covered alone with mud—there was a mixture of glory in it.

Though the fans would have been better satisfied had the score been somewhat different, there are few who will say other than that the exhibition was full of expert plays and that the game was one worth anybody's time. A large crowd assembled at the park, every one knowing as a result of the last series with Niles that it has a team of merit, and considering that it was the first of a continuous string of six games, the management feels elated over the gate receipts.

It is probably a little unsafe to say or try to say why the locals met defeat. One things sure, they hit the slabbist hard enough. Maybe it was because they did not hit him to the right spots in that mud-covered area. And maybe the defeat was the result of extraordinary good batting on the part of Niles. It might have been because the visitors were just two runs faster than Captain Reark and his gang. Those points are all left to the fan for decisions.

The first man up for Niles, that fellow who so narrowly escaped the gallows last week because he was envious of a pretty ball he happened to spy, put a sort of damper on the game. He whaled away at the ball and never did stop until he could spit on third. It resulted in a run, the score being made when Murphy put a long one out to Wallace. In this inning the locals failed to turn a trick. They fell easy prey and continued such work until the third, when Houser and Brown tried their best to put the ball clear out of the business. By their terrible efforts they scored two runs, and that was the only time they had the game won.

In the fourth the visitors piled up three runs, one three-bagger, one two-bagger and a single. They were equivalent to two runs and when they scored one in the seventh they had gone so far ahead that the locals never trotted in their class again, notwithstanding that Gibson scored in the same inning after he had made a pretty single. After that the locals went out in order, while Niles was not satisfied to quit without rubbing it in. They did so when another run was tallied in the eighth.

The score:

Notes of the Game.

Brown called forth merited applause when he handled two hot ones in rapid succession in the third.

Webb was there to the finish. He accepted all but one chance, and did so with credit.

Heckathorn only (?) had 11 chances. He is surely up against it. They throw them to him any old way and if he don't fall all over himself some one gets an error.

Krueger played a faultless game at second. He is about the cleanest player in the Niles bunch, fielding over an enormous area.

Third Year of the Club Promises to Be Successful—Good Games Booked.

The foot ball season is again with us and with it comes the reorganization of one of the fastest teams that ever donned uniform in this city, the Oakland Athletic club. This club was first organized three years ago by Emmett Mylar, a young athlete from Steubenville, who successfully played the game for three years with Steubenville high school, and who diligently studied the tactics of "Slab" Burns, of that city.

The first year was very successful, the team having been scored on but once during the season, and that by Toronto high school, and having themselves scored as many as 38 points in one game against opponents. Last year the team was not reorganized until the season was nearly over, thus enabling them to play but two games. But great things are expected of them this season, as can be seen by the line-up. A schedule of games is being arranged by Manager Harry A. Weaver, which will include such teams as Sebring, Wellsburg, Steubenville, Bethany, Coraopolis, New Brighton and other teams in the vicinity of Pittsburg.

The initial game will probably be played with the Bruno Athletic club of Wellsville the latter part of September.

Following is a list of the members who will take part in the game this season:

Albert Price, who is very popular with sports throughout the city and who is recognized as one of the best centers in town, having played that position for the Diamond Indians. The position of right guard will be filled by George Mauts, who is in his third year and who is a very promising young player. Rudolph Sanford will play right tackle, in which position he distinguished himself with the Marine Athletic club of the East End. Lem Harvey, a former star of Carrollton, will take good care of right end, and the opposing team can consider themselves lucky if they get around him. Left guard will be played by Ed Wilson, who played excellent foot ball for the Royal Tigers. Left tackle and left end will be filled by James Miles and "China" Weikert, respectively. Both men are from Sebring, where their playing with the Sebring Athletic club was considered sensational. The qualities of John Little, who will play quarterback, are well known by every rooter in town. He is also an ex-Diamond Indian. Carl Angle, formerly of Toronto high school; Fred Mountford, of East Liverpool high school, and Will Maple will be the half backs. Willis Orr, who is one of the best fullbacks in the city; Grover Laughlin, whose qualities are yet to be developed, and Emmett ("Ducky") Myler, whose reputation is already established, will be the trio who will look after the position of fullback.

The team expects to win the majority if not all the games they play, and will be a credit to East Liverpool.

Another club woman, Mrs. Haule, of Edgerton, Wis., tells how she was cured of irregularities and uterine trouble, terrible pains and backache, by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—A while ago my health began to fail because of female troubles. The doctor did not help me. I remembered that my mother had used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound on many occasions for irregularities and uterine troubles, and I felt sure that it could not harm me at any rate to give it a trial.

"I was certainly glad to find that within a week I felt much better, the terrible pains in the back and side were beginning to cease, and at the time of menstruation I did not have nearly as serious a time as heretofore, so I continued its use for two months, and at the end of that time I was like a new woman. I really have never felt better in my life, have not had a sick headache since, and weigh 20 pounds more than I ever did, so I unhesitatingly recommend your medicine."—MRS. MAY HAULE, Edgerton, Wis., Pres. Household Economics Club.

When women are troubled with irregularities, suppressed or painful menstruation, weakness, indigestion, leucorrhœa, displacement or ulceration of the womb, inflammation of the ovaries, general debility, and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faintness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, "all-gone" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feelings, blues, and hopelessness, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles. Refuse to buy any other medicine, for you need the best.

Frances Cook, Box 670, Kane, Pa., says:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I suffered for ten years with leucorrhœa, but am glad to say that through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and her Sanative Wash I am cured, for which I am very thankful."

I was very skeptical when I began using them but my boy begged me to give them a fair trial and I bought three bottles of the Heart Cure and four of the Nervine. My heart fluttered so and I could hardly walk because from my knees to my feet my legs were terribly bloated in the afternoon. I suffered from terrible burning in my throat. The top of my head was sore, suffered pain in the small of my back, I lost my appetite and could not sleep. I suffered from pains in my left shoulder, swelling under left arm, pain around my heart, shortness of breath and extreme nervous spells. KODOL
Digests What You Eat.

Weak Hearts

Are due to indigestion. Ninety-nine of every one hundred people who have heart trouble can remember when it was simple indigestion. It is a scientific fact that all cases of heart disease, not organic, are not only traceable to, but are the direct result of indigestion. All food taken into the stomach which fails of perfect digestion ferments and swells the stomach, puffing it up against the heart. This interferes with the action of the heart, and in the course of time that delicate but vital organ becomes diseased.

Kodol

Digests What You Eat

Mrs. Loring Nichols of Penn Yan, N. Y., writes: After eating, my food would distress me by making my heart palpitate and I would become very weak. Finally I got a bottle of Kodol and it gave me immediate relief. After using a few bottles I am cured.

Kodol cures indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach disorders, and gives the heart a full, free and untrammeled action.

Synopsis of Preceding Chapters.

CHAPTER I.—Grenfall Lorry, a wealthor occupant who refuses or neglects to do quaintance with a charming foreign girl on the train from Denver to Washington. The pair are left behind when the fer stops for repairs in West Virginia. II.—Lorry wires ahead to hold the train. He and the unknown girl ride twenty miles at a tearing pace in a mountain coach. Lorry knows it is a dangerous ride. There is no love-making, but a near approach to it as the rolling stage tumbles the passengers about. III.—Lorry dines with the foreign party, consisting of Miss Guggenslocker, Uncle Caspar and Aunt Yvonne. They are natives of Graustark, a country Lorry had never heard of before. IV.—Lorry shows the foreigners the sights of Washington. They leave for New York to sail on the Kaiser Wilhelm. Miss Guggenslocker naively calls Lorry her "Ideal American" and invites him to come and see her at Edelweiss. V.—Wildly infatuated, Lorry hurries to New York. The name Guggenslocker is not on the steamer list. He sees the steamer off. Miss G. waves him a kiss from the deck. VI.—Lorry joins his old friend, Harry Anguish, an American artist in Paris. Graustark and its capital, Edelweiss, are located by a guide book. The Americans get no trace of the Guggenslockers there. VII.—Lorry sees his charmer driving in a carriage with a beautiful companion of her own sex. He gets a glance of recognition, but the carriage rolls on, leaving the mystery unsolved. Later he receives a note at his hotel signed Sophia Guggenslocker, inviting him to visit her next day. VIII.—In the evening Lorry and Anguish ramble about the grounds of the castle where dwells the court of the princess of Graustark. They overhear a plot to abduct the princess and resolve to capture the plotters red handed. IX.—Following the conspirators, Lorry finds himself in a room he heard them designate as that of the princess. X.—Lorry tells the princess of the plot. Mutual recognition; she is Miss Guggenslocker. Dannox, the guard, is in the abduction plot. He fells Lorry with a terrible blow. Anguish to the rescue. XI.—Lorry quartered in the castle. The princess visits him, but forbids all talk of love. XII.—Graustark is bankrupt and owes the neighboring princedom of Axphain $30,000,000. The creditor demands cash or the cession of the richest districts of Graustark. XIII.—The Prince of Axphain offers to extend the loan if the princess will marry his son Lorenz. Prince Gabriel, of Dawsbergen, also bids for the princess' hand with offer of a loan. Yetive tells Lorry that she belongs to her people and will marry Lorenz. XIV.—Lorry discovered kissing the princess while she is seated on the throne. He quits the castle by royal command. XV.—Betrothal of the princess to Lorenz. The Americans recognize Gabriel as chief conspirator in the abduction plot. XVI.—Lorenz toasts the princess lightly in a cafe. Lorry dashes the glass from his hand. Challenge to a duel. Lorenz assassinated. Lorry charged with the crime. XVII.—Princess Yetive commits Lorry to prison. All Graustark rejoices at the death of Lorenz. XVIII and XIX.—The princess helps Lorry to escape. Disguised as a soldier, she conducts him to a monastery. XX.—Axphain offers Graustark grace on the loan if Lorry is executed before Nov. 20. Yetive offers a reward for the capture of Lorry. XXI and XXII.—Lorry prevails upon Quinnox, an emissary of the princess, to conduct him secretly to the castle. He will surrender himself to save the realm. The princess spurns the offer of Gabriel.

Under the stealthy hand of Quinnox the panel opened, and they listened intently for some moments. There was no one in the dimly lighted chapel, so they made their way to the door at the opposite end. Before unlocking the door the captain pointed to a lance which stood against the wall near by.

"You are to carry that lance," he said briefly. Then he cautiously peered forth. A moment later they were in the broad hall, boldly striding toward the distant stairway. Lorry had been instructed to proceed without the least sign of timidity. They passed several attendants in the hall and heard Count Halfont's voice in conversation with some one in an anteroom. As they neared the broad steps who should come tripping down but Harry Anguish. He saluted Quinnox and walked rapidly down the corridor, evidently taking his departure after a call on the countess.

"There goes your hostage," said the captain grimly. It had required all of Lorry's self possession to restrain the cry of joyful recognition. Up the staircase they went, meeting several ladies and gentlemen coming down, and were soon before the apartments of the princess. A tall guard stood in front of the boudoir door.

"This is your relief, Bassot. You may go," said Quinnox, and with a careless glance at the strange soldier the sick man trudged off down the hall, glad to seek his bed.

"Is she there?" whispered Lorry, dizzy and faint with expectancy.

"Yes. This may mean your death and mine, sir, but you would do it. Will you explain to her how I came to play her false?"

"She shall know the truth, good friend."

"After I have gone twenty paces down the hall do you rap on the door. She may not admit you at first, but do not give up. If she bid you enter or asks your mission, enter quickly and close the door. It is unlocked. She may swoon or scream, and you must prevent either if possible. In an hour I shall return and you must go back to the passage."

"Never! I have come to save her and her country, and I intend to do so by surrendering myself this very night."

"I had hoped to dissuade you. But, sir, you cannot do so tonight. You forget that this visit compromises her."

"True. I had forgotten. Well, I'll go back with you, but tomorrow I am your prisoner, not your friend."

"Be careful," cautioned the captain as he moved away. Lorry feverishly tapped his knuckles on the panel of the door and waited with motionless heart for the response. It came not, and he rapped harder, a strange fear darting into his mind.

"Well?" came from within, the voice he adored.

Impetuous haste marked his next movement. He dashed open the door, sprang inside and closed it quickly. She was sitting before her escritoire, writing, and looked up, surprised and annoyed.

"I was not to be disturbed—oh"—

She staggered to her feet and was in his arms before the breath of her exclamation had died away. Had he not supported her she would have dropped to the floor. Her hands, her face, were like ice, her breast was pulseless, and there was the wildest terror in her eyes.

"My darling—my queen!" he cried passionately. "At last I am with you! Don't look at me like that! It is really I—I could not stay away—I could not permit this sacrifice of yours! Speak to me! Do not stare like that!"

Her wide blue eyes slowly swept his face, piteous wonder and doubt struggling in their depths.

"Am I awake?" she murmured, touching his face with her bewildered, questioning hands. "Is it truly you?" A smile illumined her face, but her joy was short lived. An expression of terror came to her eyes, and there was agony in the fingers that clasped his arm. "Why do you come here?" she cried. "It is madness! How and why came you to this room?"

He laughed like a delighted boy and hastily narrated the events of the past twenty-four hours, ending with the trick that gave him entrance to her room.

"And all this to see me?" she whispered.

"To see you and to save you. I hear that Gabriel has been annoying you and that you are to give up half of the kingdom tomorrow. Tell me everything. It is another reason for my coming."

Sitting beside him on the divan, she told of Gabriel's visit and his dismissal, the outlook for the next day, and then sought to convince him of the happiness it afforded her to protect him from an undeserved death. He obtained for Quinnox the royal pardon and lauded him to the skies. So ravishing were the moments, so ecstatic the sensations that possessed them, that neither thought of the consequences if he were to be discovered in her room, disguised as one of her guardsmen. He forgot the real import of his reckless visit until she commanded him to stand erect before her that she might see what manner of soldier he was. With a laugh, he leaped to his feet and stood before her—attention! She leaned back among the cushions and surveyed him through the glowing, impassioned eyes which slowly closed as if to shut out temptation.

"You are a perfect soldier," she said, her lashes parting ever so slightly.

"No more perfect than you!" he cried. She remembered, with confusion, her own masquerading, but it was unkind of him to remember it. Her allusion to his uniform turned his thoughts into the channel through which they had been surging so turbulently up to the moment that found him tapping at her door. He had not told her of his determination, and the task grew harder as he saw the sparkle glow brighter and brighter in her eye.

"You are a brave soldier, then," she substituted. "It required courage to come to Edelweiss with hundreds of men ready to seize you at sight, a pack of bloodhounds."

WHY WE ARE AGENTS

Here Are Some of the Convincing Facts That Caused us to Take the Agency for the Fulton Compounds, the First Things Known that Cure Chronic Kidney Diseases.

First, let it be distinctly understood that every one of the cases below had been diagnosed by one or more physicians as chronic and incurable; second, note the certainty of the results as shown by the recovery also of the friends they told who were similarly afflicted with supposed incurable kidney diseases.

N. W. Spaulding, President Spaulding Saw Co., San Francisco, had a recovery in his own family and told several others who recovered.

Adolph Weske, capitalist, San Francisco, recovered himself and told two friends who recovered.

Dr. Carl D. Ziele, pioneer druggist, 522 Pacific street, San Francisco, recovered himself and gave it to more than a dozen patients who recovered.

Charles Engelke, editor of the German paper, San Francisco, recovered himself and told it to a number who recovered, one of them being Charles F. Wacker, the Sixth street merchant.

R. M. Wood, editor Wine and Spirit Review, recovered himself and told it to several who recovered, among them being an old-school physician.

Edward Short of the San Francisco Call recovered, also three of his friends, viz: William Martin, Captain Hubbard of the Honolulu route and William Hawkins of the U. S. Quartermaster's Department of San Francisco.

John A. Phelps of the Hotel Repeller, San Francisco, and two of his friends, etc. etc.

The kidneys are the sewers that strain the poisons out of the system. We can stand the derangement for a short while, but when the interference becomes chronic (permanent), as first explained by Bright, it is only a question of how long before death will ensue. It is then called Brights Disease and incurable. All kidney troubles develop into this form about the 8th to 10th month. The above cases were incurable by all other known means. People having kidney disease should begin at first with the only known thing that will cure it if it has reached the serious stage. WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

TRADE GOOD AT TRENTON.

Trenton, N. J., Sept. 1.—(Special.)—Trade among the local potteries is steadily assuming a healthy proportion. Not since the closing of the spring trade has the order files been so well filled. Orders are arriving quite steadily and this may be accounted for by the fact that nearly all the traveling men are out on the road. Now is the season with the local potteries when they sell considerable ware, especially in the finer qualities and novelties for the holiday trade. While business is picking up there is still some room for improvement. Most of the plants report good kilns, which is in decided contrast to the conditions last spring, when tons of ware had to be deposited in the ash heap because of some defect in the firing or of a general run of bad clay.

The crockery trade has been joined by the lamp factories, which are also making quite a bid for business. All of the lamp factories have men out soliciting orders for the new fall goods, which include many new and artistic shapes and designs.

The Maddock Pottery company, the Mercer pottery and the Glasgow pottery are all working on large hotel orders, some for the common heavy ware and others for decorated dinner sets of the finest quality. The sanitary trade notices about the same run of affairs. While there is still quite a demand for closets it is not so great as it was in the spring when building took a decided boom.

An important work on the clay industries of New Jersey is being compiled under the auspices of the state geologist and will be ready soon. It is being prepared by Dr. Heinrich Reiss, who is a recognized authority on clay, both in this country and Europe. The report will consist of his opinion upon the economic and technical phases of the clay industries of the state. The importance of such a report can be judged from the fact that the annual value of manufactured clay products in the state is more than $11,000,000, and that the value of raw material, mined and sold to manufacturers is about $500,000. The report will contain chapters on the following subjects: "The Origin of Clay," "The Technology of Clay-working Industries" and "The Manufacture of Pottery." It is planned to include in the report maps showing the general formations of clay and the capacity of each of the clay working industries throughout New Jersey. Much progress has been made in this report. A large number of samples of raw clay and the selection of these has been pretty nearly accomplished. Not only have samples been taken from localities now being worked, but of others in the hope of aiding in the development of new regions.

POTTERIES OF DENMARK.

In Denmark the trade in potting in fine ware is represented by the famous Royal factory, whose porcelain is known over the world; there is also a private firm which makes excellent ware. The strong feature of the Royal factory is the excellence, hardness and brilliancy of the glaze; some of the most successful pieces take the form of animals, such as polar bears, otters with fish, and other similar subjects, all beautifully modeled without being extravagant.

The earthenware factory is also an excellent and well-appointed concern, the proprietors of which have shown a most enterprising spirit. They have succeeded in doing that which has so long been desideratum in the potteries, viz., firing ware by gas, and so completely consuming their own smoke. No greater boon could be conferred on the pottery towns than the introduction of a system that would completely abolish smoke.

So far as the Copenhagen works are concerned this has been accomplished, for the factory chimneys give off nothing but a little steam. There are in Denmark also a number of terra cotta makers, some of whom are very successfully introducing on their ware colored glazes, splashed, mottled and agate effects; somewhat old in treatment, but very pleasing.

NEW YORK NOTES.

While business in the crockery line cannot yet be termed brisk, a fairly large number of orders have been received from the regular trade during the last week. The individual purchases, though not large, have amounted to considerable in the aggregate and a constantly increasing volume of business is confidently expected from now on, says the Commerciay. The traveling salesmen have also not been behind in turning in their quota or orders and they generally report excellent business prospects along their route. Most of the potteries are pretty well stocked up just now in anticipation of a sudden demand as soon as the fall buying gets livelier. For American goods a better demand than in former years is noted, with the higher grade of ware in the best request. In foreign goods the German lines receive considerable attention, while French and English wares are much sought after in the more elaborate patterns.

RUNNING FULL.

POTTERY NOTES.

F. S. Crowl, one of the representatives of the Hall China company, left a few days ago for Iowa to visit his trade.

Ed Veith and family, of Fourth street, have been spending a week or so at Niagara Falls, enjoying a rest. Mrs. Veith has been somewhat indisposed of late, but is improving.

Claude Gigax, of Zanesville, formerly a decorator at the K., T. & K., has returned to this city and will accept a position in the decorating department of one of the local potteries.

The membrs of the committee are unable to figure out how it comes the officials of the gas company were of the opinion that the committee had any intention of meeting with them in Pittsburg. The matter was never discussed at any length, but it was certainly expected that the conference would be held in East Liverpool, where are located the lines in which East Liverpool is interested. The action taken by the council Saturday night was due to the fact that the authorities had given up hope of hearing from the gas company, and it must stand.

MAY RESULT IN WAR

INSURGENTS CROSS FRONTIER

Turkish Troops in Vilayet of Uskub Spread Destruction Along Route. A Number of Bulgarian Villages Burned—Revolt Becoming General.

Sofia, Sept. 1.—Both in official and revolutionary circles the opinion is freely held that war between Bulgaria and Turkey is imminent and can be averted by nothing short of a miracle. It is not expected that either government will formally declare hostilities, but that the prevailing conditions will force on a war.

There is no question that large numbers of insurgents have recently crossed the frontier. An extensive out break in northern Macedonia is possible any day.

The Autonomic prints a telegram from Constantinople declaring that the sultan, influenced by the counsels of Germany, now favors a war with Bulgaria. The Turks here, however, take an optimistic view, asserting that there is no danger of a war, as Turkey does not desire one, and Prince Ferdinand and the present Bulgarian government are not in a position to force hostilities.

Population Subjected to Outrage.

The Bulgarian agent at Uskub reports that the detachments of Turkish troops sent to garrison the small towns in that vilayet have spread destruction along their route; the villagers have been robbed and beaten; the women violated, and the Christian population subjected to every conceivable outrage, while the local authorities appear to be helpless to stop the atrocities.

At the village of Drachevo, six miles from Uskub, the soldiers attacked all the peasants without the gendarmes interfering on behalf of the latter. The Bulgarian agent specifies similar excesses in many other villages, and the position of the Bulgarian residents is reported to be terrible, as the cruelties committed by the Turkish authorities exceed all limits.

Prince Ferdinand has not yet arrived in Sofia and the court officials declare that they are without information as to his movements.

Amnesty Offered Insurgents.

Salonica, Sept. 1.—The Turks have occupied Klissura, Albania, without resistance. A number of Bulgarian villages in its vicinity were burned.

Inspector General Hilmi Pasha recently sent a cimmission, composed of five Christians and five Turks, to offer amnesty to the insurgents on condition that they lay down their arms before the great feast in honor of the sultan's coronation.

London Firm Supplied Mad Mullah.

Aden, Arabia, Sept. 1.—The principal sources for the supply of rifles and ammunition to the Mad Mullah's forces in Somaliland have been traced through a complete identification of trade marks to a London firm. Since the commencement of the operations in Somaliland an aggregate of 3,000,000 rounds of Lee-Metford rifle ammunition and correspondingly large numbers of Lee-Metford and Gras rifles have been shipped by this London firm to Jibutil and Harrar by way of Manchester and Marseilles.

Dan Patch Makes Good Race.

St. Paul, Sept. 1.—Sixty thousand people saw Dan Patch unsuccessfully attempt to lower his world's pacing record of 1:59 at the state fair grounds. Despite the fact that the great pacer had gone against time on last Friday at Readville, Mass., and had been almost continuously on the cars ever since, he went a mile in 2 minutes flat. The day was ideal, being warm, with scarcely a breeze stirring, and the track was in first-class condition. Time by quarters—30, 59¾, 1:30¼, 2:00.

Bryan to Boost Ohio Campaign.

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 1.—W. J. Bryan left for Ohio to begin his campaign in behalf of the Democratic state ticket. Mr. Bryan said his telegram to Tom L. Johnson had been misunderstood; that he had not canceled any dates in Ohio, but business matters kept him at home. He would, he said, fill postponed dates later in the campaign, probably in October.

Lawyer Thrashed on Street.

Quarantine Established.

El Paso, Tex., Sept. 1.—Acting upon instructions from Austin, the local state health officers has established a quarantine at this port of entry against Monterey, Victoria and Rinales, Mexico, where yellow fever is said to exist.

OFFICIALS ON TRIAL

Millionaires Before Chief Justice Grummere in Circuit Court of Newark.

INDICTED FOR MANSLAUGHTER

New York, Sept. 1.—Indicted for manslaughter, Alexander J. Cassatt, John D. Crimmins, Dr. Leslie D. Ward, Edward F. C. Young and other millionaire trolley officials were placed on trial before Chief Justice Gummere in the circuit court of Newark, N. J.

"These men were the executive committee of the board of directors of the North Jersey Street railway, the managing directors," said Prosecutor Riker. "As such they took upon themselves the responsibility of the management and safe operation of the trolley lines of the company. They did not have to assume that responsibility, but, having done so, it became their duty to provide safe transportation for its passengers.

"They owed to Ernestine Miller a duty involving the responsibility to provide her with a derailing switch at the steam railroad crossing, a clear track and such other safeguards as would insure her safe travel."

Nine School Children Killed.

Ernstine Miller, 15 years old, was one of nine high school pupils killed on the morning of February 19 last in a collision between a crosstown car and the Bernardsville express train on the Lackawanna railroad at Clifton avenue. Her case was made the basis of the official investigation which ended with the 11 indictments. At the session of the court the jury selected, two witnesses disposed of and the third was under cross-examination.

There was no questioning of jurors, the procedure being by peremptory challenge. Each defendant had the right to 20 challenges, a total of 220, and the state was allowed 12 challenges.

The first witness was Edward G. Kempf, a surveyor, who showed diagrams and measurements he had made of the Clifton avenue crossing and the immediate vicinity.

Sister on the Stand.

He was followed by Mrs. Minnie M. Horle, sister of Ernestine Miller. The defense admitted the death of Miss Miller and also that she was a passenger on the wrecked car. This was done to relieve Mrs. Horle from the pain of a prolonged examination as to her sister's death.

The last witness of the day was James Kay, a letter carrier, who was at the crossing at the time of the accident. He described the condition of the approach to the crossing and said that the motorman of the trolley car apparently made every effort to stop the car, but could not do so on account of the ice-covered condition of the tracks. He was still on the stand when court adjourned for the day.

RACE IS AGAIN DECLARED OFF

Wind Dies Down at Critical Point. Reliance's Ultimate Triumph Now Conceded.

New York, Sept. 1.—Again the beautiful cup defender Reliance failed to register her third victory over Lipton's challenger because the wind died to nothing, and the time limit of five and a half hours expired before she could reach the finish line. Her margin was approximately the same as on Thursday last. She was less than half a mile from the finish when the gun sounded. The Shamrock III. was a faint blur on the horizon fully two and a half miles astern.

Reliance's failure to score the race was the more exasperating because her ultimate triumph is now conceded even by Sir Thomas himself, to be simply a formality. The superiority of the Herreshoff boat in any kind of weather is acknowledged by the yachting critics of both sides of the Atlantic, and the fluke only prolongs the agony of the contest that has already been decided.

The waning interest in the cup races was strikinly illustrated by the size of the observation fleet, if the ships which went down to the ocean race course could be dignified by such a title. Outside of the revenue cutters which patroled the course it consisted of half a dozen side wheelers with almost empty decks, a few sea-going tugs and a score of steam yachts.

WORKING PEOPLE PLEASED WITH ACTION OF COUNCIL UPON THE GAS QUESTION

Their Part in Bringing Matters to a Focus Was an Important One—Company's Belated Reply.

The action taken by the city council on the gas question will be gratifying to the members of the several trades unions in the city, and especially to the delegates from these unions to the central labor body, who were instrumental in having the matter taken up by the city council. The report which will be made to the Trades Council at its meeting to be held this week will be interesting, and at the same time demonstrate that the representatives of that body have accomplished something along the lines laid down from the beginning.

When the gas grab matter was placed in the hands of the legislative committee of the central labor union, it was the intention to have the city council back up its action in the passage of the ordinance restricting the price to be charged for natural gas. The citizens' committee was formed later on and the Trades Council committee connected itself with the organization, believing that much good could be accomplished in this way also. It has been shown they were not mistaken. However, the plans of the latter body changed the arrangement somewhat, since the citizens' association resolved to ask the city council to assume the responsibility of a concentrated movement to stop the proposed increase. For that reason the mixed committee of business men, councilmen and workers was appointed. It was through the persistent efforts of these men that the council has taken the stand for an injunction.

A member of the Trades Council who is one of its representatives on the citizens' committee said to a News Review reporter last evening:

"It was not the intention of the legislative committee of the central labor union, nor is it the purpose of the body as a whole, to go to any expense in order to secure the court decision. It is the opinion of the members of the Trades Council, who, by the way, are all citizens and many of them taxpayers, that the city, through its legislative body, was the proper power to back up the ordinance restricting the rates.

"The action taken by the council at its special session Saturday evening was nothing more than had been expected of it, and did not cover a particle more ground than it should. The citizens have a perfect right to demand and receive protection at the hands of the city council. The move of the gas corporation to foist the unjust increase upon the private consumer was as unreasonable as it is inexcusable, and the workers of the city, as well as the citizens generally, did not ask too much when they called upon the city council for relief. To the present the members of the council have responded nobly to the demands of the people, and it is to be hoped they will continue as aggressive until the gas companies are either put out of business or are made to realize that they are not bigger than the city of East Liverpool."

The following letter was received from the Pittsburg office of the gas corporation yesterday, and to a majority of citizens seems like a superfluity at this late date:

Pittsburg, Pa., August 31, 1903.

Willis Davidson, clerk of council, East Liverpool, Ohio:

Dear Sir: Your favor of August 27, asking us to make arrangements to have a representative of this company meet the committee of your council with reference to the increase in in rate for natural gas is received this morning. In reply would say that we would be glad to meet your commit-

BIG TREE FELL UPON A FARMER

Hugh Rose, of Highlandtown, Crippled For Life By An Accident.

Salineville, September 1.—(Special)—Hugh Rose, a prominent and well known farmer residing near Highlandtown, met with an accident Saturday that will probably leave him a cripple for life. He left his home for a tract of timber to fell trees. While cutting down a large oak he failed to reach a place of safety, and a huge limb of the falling tree struck him on the shoulders and grazed his back down to his lower limbs. He was running away from the tree when the accident occurred.

After he had collected his senses, he walked, with much difficulty, for a physician to Salineville. An examination revealed that no bones were broken but the back of the man was somewhat bruised, and his kidneys were strained. He was very sore and almost unable to move yesterday.

LEGS FILLED WITH SHOT

While hunting ground hogs near Wellsville yesterday afternoon, Ollie Pinkerton, a prominent young man of that city, was painfully injured by the accidental discharge of a shot gun in the hands of Jesse Graham, his companion. Pinkerton's limbs were literally filled with shot and while the wounds are not considered dangerous, they are of a serious character.

The boys had been creeping along the ground, Graham, with the gun, in the rear of Pinkerton. Graham stumbled and in trying to recover himself, both barrels of the gun were discharged. With a groan young Pinkerton sank to the ground and Graham, badly frightened, hastened for assistance.

The wounded boy was taken to his home, where Dr. Hutchison rendered medical attention. It was found that 19 of the shot entered the calf of his right leg and 17 entered the calf of his left leg. The shots were removed and Pinkerton is showing signs of improvement.

POPULAR YOUNG MINISTER

Whose Home Is in This City the Winner of a Seminary Scholarship, Now in Receipt of a Greater Gift from Wealthy Pittsburgers.

The many friends of Rev. Hubert C. Chambers in this city will read with interest and satisfaction the announcement that ex-State Senator William Flinn and Mrs. Flinn, of Pittsburg, have given their pledge to support Mr. Chambers in mission work in India for life. Mr. Chambers was graduated from the Allegheny Theological seminery last May. He will go into foreign mission fields for ten years before he returns on a furlough. Mr. and Mrs. Flinn have agreed to support Mr. Chambers while he is engaged in mission work, and as he goes out to make the cause his life work there is every likelihood that Mr. and Mrs. Flinn will support him in that work during his lifetime. Mrs. Flinn is a member of the United Presbyterian church. Mr. Chambers will leave for his future field of labor some time in October.

Mr. and Mrs. Flinn selected one of the most promising young men of the denomination to send to the India field. Mr. Chambers was the winner of the Thomas Jamieson scholarship on church history, which was awarded for the first time during last summer. The scholarship is valued at about $150. The award was for the best work in the department during the course of three years. Mr. Chambers was one of the principal factors in forwarding the missionary conference which was held in the seminary last spring, which has revived in the church in this community the interest in foreign missions.

Mr. Chambers was born in East Liverpool, and was graduated from Westminster college, New Wilmington, and then entered the seminary. He was married a short time ago.

The scholarship won by Mr. Chambers was given by Mrs. Thomas Jamieson, widow of Thomas Jamieson, of Pittsburg, who was anxious to help the students. Last year Mrs. Jamieson gave $10,000 for four scholarships in theology. Old Testament work, New Testament work and church history. Rev. R. W. Walker won the Old Testament scholarship; Rev. George E. Raitt, of the Sixth church, Pittsburg, the New Testament scholarship; Rev. A. H. Baldinger the one in theology and Mr. Chambers the scholarship in church history.

CRUELTY AND ABUSE CHARGED BY WIFE

Mrs. Henry Barth, of Teegarden, Tells a Sad Story in a Divorce Petition.

Lisbon, September 1.—(Special.)—Another divorce petition has been filed by Attorney Lodge Riddle, of Lisbon. The plaintiff is Hattie Barth, of Teegarden, who desires legal separation from Henry Barth. They were married August 12, 1894, and have three children, Floyd, Josephine and Mary, of whom the wife asks the custody.

Mrs. Barth charges extreme cruelty, alleging that on June 15 last her husband dealt her a blow on the shoulder and again in July struck her in the chest, pushed her off the porch and continued to abuse her until she was obliged to flee to a neighbor's home for protection. On August 24, she says her husband struck her in the face and pushed her against a stove. She further says that on numerous occasions her husband has called her vile names, reflecting on her chastity.

The defendant has been enjoined from disposing of farm implements, live stock and crops, valued at about $300, pending a hearing of the case, the defendant having petitioned for alimony.

HIS OBJECTIONS WERE ALL IN VAIN

BITTER TALK TO MAYOR

Newton Croxall, the young man who was arrested Saturday night while in a disorderly house in Jethro Hollow, and who was fined $50 and costs upon his plea of guilty, protested strongly against the amount imposed. He was not alone in his protest; his father, Newton Croxall, the West End councilman, also taking exceptions to the fine.

The councilman appeared at the city hall last evening and assailed the mayor in very strong terms. He said that the reason the mayor had fined his boy so large an amount was because he wanted to get even with him for introducing the police ordinance. He also said that he had heard that Chief Wyman had made the remark that he would not rest until Croxall, Jr., was again behind the penitentiary walls at Columbus. The mayor and chief were indignant at the accusations and were not slow in telling the irate councilman so.

Young Croxall acted in a manner when arrested that would have warranted the mayor in imposing the full penalty. He called the chief every vile and dirty name that could be imagined and topped it off by striking him in the face.

People in the vicinity of Jethro Hollow are pleased and think that they may get rid of the disorderly houses.

Since the houses have been running so openly property in that section of the city has deteriorated in value at least 500 per cent, says a prominent man, and unless they are made to leave the property will be absolutely worthless.

CRIP CAIN IS CAUGHT AND PROBABLY BOOKED FOR THE PENITENTIARY

Has Made Life a Hell For Two Women Besides Being Declared Guilty of House-Breaking.

The prayer of Milo ("Crip") Cain that he be given a free ride to the state capital, which he has been heard to utter several times of late, will very likely be answered before snow falls. He is now in jail charged with housebreaking, which if proven—and there are two witnesses who swear that they saw him commit the act—will undoubtedly give him another taste of the life behind the big stone walls.

Cain was arrested last evening about 9:30 by Officers Woods and Bryan and taken to the city jail, where a charge of drunk and disorderly was registered against him. He is an old offender. Being a cripple, Chief Wyman was on the verge of giving him a tie-ticket this morning when a woman in tears walked into central station and declared that she wanted to prefer a charge against him. The chief listened to her story.

The woman was Mrs. Hugo Stahl, who, it will be remembered, came to this city last October in search of her husband, who had deserted her and their two small children. She was penniless and friendless upon her arrival and for several weeks was dependent on the township authorities. Being energetic, however, it was not long until she procured work and a Mrs. Hughes, of Dewdrop alley, taking pity on her, fitted up three rooms and gave them to her at the very small rental of $5 per month. Since locating in that house the woman has cared for her little ones by hard toil, washing for a living.

Upon the arrival of Mrs. Stahl at the Hughes home Cain was boarding there. Mrs. Hughes had also pitied him because of his crippled arm. He was not a boarder long until he started to abuse his landlady, and Mrs. Stahl says, treated her most shamefully. She would flee to the rooms of Mrs. Stahl for protection. Cain carried on in that manner until he was run out of the city by the police for his attack on Officer Aufderheide.

After staying away until he thought the matter had died down Cain came back about 10 days ago and, it is said, he has made the homes of Mrs. Hughes and Mrs. Stahl a veritable hell since then. Time and again he has gone to the house in a drunken condition and abused the pair awfully. Once he told Mrs. Hughes that if she did not give him money he would kill her and bury her in the cellar. Only last Sunday night he applied at the house for admittance and when refused he began to storm around until the women were so frightened that Mrs. Stahl secured a gun and would have shot him had he not run.

It seems that he was drunker than usual last evening when he made another attempt to get some money from Mrs. Hughes. She heard him coming and locking the doors ran into the home of Mrs. Stahl. Cain broke down the screen door. While he was still storming the officers reached the scene.

Mrs. Hughes is lying deathly sick at her home and Mrs. Stahl has just recovered from a week in bed. Mrs. Stahl wanted to prefer a charge against him, but Mayor Weaver though it best to have Mrs. Hughes do that, and the chief executive went to her home shortly before noon today with the necessary papers.

Mrs. Stahl imparted startling information to the mayor when she said that Cain had told her many times that he had committed enough deeds to insure his incarceration in the penitentiary for life, but that the mayor was not slick enough to land him. He is now landed.

Wellsville Lads Were Suspected of a Burglary Near Empire.

Acting Chief of Police Canaday, of Wellsville, went to Toronto this morning to identify three boys who had been placed in jail there charged with robbing a confectionery store at Empire. The lads had been dismissed before the arrival of the officer. When arrested the trio, who are from the ages of from 10 to 15 years, had $20 in money, a razor and other weapons.

The police think they may have been implicated in several recent Wellsville burglaries.

PAYMENT OF $10,000 UPON COAL LANDS

Lisbon, September 1.—(Special.)—The Youngstown & Southern Railway company made its first payment of $10,000 yesterday on the coal lands in the vicinity of West Point, which were purchased some time ago.

This is looked upon here as conclusive evidence that the company means to push the work of construction from Lisbon to East Liverpool as fast as is practicable.

ENDED IN A ROW

Base Ball Game Between Salineville and Bergholz Led to Blows Being Struck.

Salineville, September 1.—(Special)—The Salineville ball boys went to Bergholz Saturday to play a game with the team of that town. After the fifth inning the game broke up in a free-for-all row, among the spectators. M. A. Poole, of Malvern, who was playing with the Bergholz team, was struck on the head with a ball bat, inflicting a scalp wound.

The row started over the decisions of the umpire, who immediately left the field when the wrangling commenced. The score stood 2 to 0 in favor of Bergholz at the end of the fifth inning.

ANOTHER CONFERENCE UPON POTTERY SCALE

Committees Will Get Together on Tuesday, September 8.

President Thomas J. Duffy, of the N. B. of O. P., announced today that another meeting of the conference committees to consider the wage scale has been arranged for Tuesday, September 8. Several of the conferees have been absent from the city, making an earlier meeting impossible.

While it has not been officially announced, it is the general understanding that the Brotherhood has rejected the propositions submitted as a result of the other conferences. Upon just what lines the committees will now proceed is not known.

NOT ENOUGH WIND FOR RACING TODAY

The Reliance Accordingly Missed Another Chance to Beat the Shamrock.

Sandy Hook, September 1.—(Special.)—The last race between the Reliance and the Shamrock, to have been run 15 miles to the leeward and return, was called off this afternoon owing to no wind.

The boats were jockeyed around the starting point for several hours in hopes that the wind would raise and give them a fair chance for making the race within the limit, but the sea remained calm and it was decided to call the race off until tomorrow.

On the Run for an Hour on Account of Bibulous Ones.

For more than an hour last night the patrol was going at its best. There were telephone calls from all parts of the city for it and Driver Bryan kept his two whites in rapid motion. The occasion for the unusual activity was bad cases of drunks.

John Brighouse and Charles Graham were arrested by Officer McDermott for creating much undue confusion in the vicinity of their homes. Brighouse was fined $2 and costs and Graham will be given a hearing some time today.

Timothy Strain was landed by Officer Morris. He was very disorderly. Chief Wyman allowed him his liberty this morning when he agreed to leave the city.

Jim Pesiley was taken by Officer Dunn for being drunk. He was fined $2 and costs and upon paying secured his release.

SUIT APPEALED

In Which Judge Byron S. Ambler, of Salem, Is Plaintiff.

Lisbon, September 1.—(Special.)—The case of Judge Byron S. Ambler, of Salem, vs. the Townsend Coal company, of Washingtonville, has been appealed from the court of Justice H. L. Ingledue, of Salem township. The plaintiff sued for $250, held to be due as royalty for coal mined from the farm formerly owned by W. H. Walter, under a contract made November 1, 1896, between Mr. Walter and D. M., Frank L. and D. E. Stouffer, the contract having been assigned later by Walter to the plaintiff. Interest is also asked.

Judgment for the full amount was rendered by default on August 18, and the defendant appeals from this decision.

Southside Girl Found in Bridgeport And Sent Home By the Marshal.

Is Miss Gromo, of the Southside, still looking for the carnival man? Apparently so. The Wheeling Register of yesterday says:

"Cora Gromo, a young girl whose home is at New Cumberland, W. Va., came to the Hotel Maine in Bridgeport Saturday night and inquired for a man by the name of Smith, who was here with the carnival company. The proprietor knew the girl, and suspecting that all was not right, informed Marshal Thompson. After giving her her supper the marshal purchased a ticket and put her on a train, telling the conductor to see that she was taken to her home.

"The girl left home, leaving her parents under the impression that she was going to visit relatives at Coshocton, but instead of changing cars at Mingo, she came on to Bridgeport. The young lady is rather fast and has been corrected several times by her parents for such actions."

She also charges her husband lived in unfaithfulness with Lauie Belle Camp at Paris, Pa., for several years.

Two children born to them are dead. She asks, with the divorce, for her maiden name, Caroline Swearingen.

Salem, September 1.—(Special.)—Judge George F. Robinson, of Ravenna, before whom the application for an injunction to restrain the Columbiana County Telephone company from increasing its rates for service, was argued on Saturday, has rendered his decision, refusing the injunction. The information reached Salem this morning, in a letter from Judge Robinson, addressed to Carey & Mullins, attorneys for the telephone company. No opinion was given, the judge simply stating: "I have refused injunction in telephone case."

City Solicitor Lewis P. Metzger, who prepared the petition in the case of Farmer & Getz against the telephone company, states that the matter is not ended and that the case will be carried to a higher court.

Chris McTaggart, the man who was so badly beaten by William Bridge three weeks ago that he was compelled to stay in a hospital for nearly two weeks, appeared before the mayor this morning and had a warrant issued for Bridge, charging him with assault and battery.

EAST END

Says His Health Is Bad, But Trouble Between Himself and Landlord Is Reported.

Lemoine Wilson, the liveryman, who came to the East End from Salem several months ago and has been operating a stable on Virginia avenue, is preparing to quit the business, owing, he claims, to ill health. He stated this morning that his health has been bad ever since he came to East End and that he was quitting the business upon the advice of a physician. The vehicles used at the stable will be stored away and the horses turned out to pasture.

Another reason is given as the cause of Wilson quitting the business. It was reported this morning that Wilson had been having trouble over the water rent with the family of John Forbes, from whom he rents the stable. Just what the trouble was could not be learned but it resulted in Forbes refusing to continue renting Wilson the stable.

Wilson has had considerable bad luck since he took charge of the establishment. Upon two occasions he has been compelled to seek the aid of the law and in a number of other instances the rigs from his stable have been damaged.

AWAITING NEWS FROM THE MOSCOW OIL WELL

Stockholders of Rock Run Company Hope to Hear That Operations Have Been Resumed.

The stockholders of the Rock Run Oil and Gas company are anxiously awaiting news from the drillers at their new well in the Moscow, Hancock county, field that the tools have been recovered and that drilling has been resumed. Had not the loss of the tools occurred the well would have been drilled in one day this week.

Quite a number of people in the East End are interested financially in another local concern, the Ohio Valley Oil and Gas company, which is now drilling two holes, one of them on the farm of Richard Laughlin near Ohioville, and the other in the shallow field around Marietta. The first named well is now down to a depth of about 400 feet and barring accidents should be in some time next week. Mr. Laughlin, who has had two decades of experience in the oil business, is confident of striking the fluid in paying quantities.

Exercise Will Take Place at the Park Instead of at Pan American Lodge Room.

At the special meeting of Pan American Court, Tribe of Ben Hur, held last night, it was decided to alter the arrangements previously made of the exercises attending the presentation of the banner to the tribe by Supreme Chief Grard, of Crawfordsville, Ind. The presentation will take place at the park instead of in the hall of the tribe in the Larkins building, as was at first decided. This change was made because many of the members are desirous of spending the evening at the park on the day of the presentation, which is also the day of the tri-state picnic of the Ben Hur tribes.

T. W. McCain was selected to respond to the presentation speech of the supreme chief and as he is an eloquent talker, the task will be accomplished in commendable style. The committees from the local lodges are hard at work to be in shape by Thursday to help entertain the visiting members.

PINKERTON - WELLINGTON

A Pretty Home Wedding Unites a Worthy Young Couple for Life.

One of the prettiest home weddings which has taken place this season occurred today at the home of Mrs. Emma Pinkerton, on Pennsylvania avenue, at which time her daughter, Miss Permelia, became the wife of Charles J. Wellington, of Alliance, the ceremony being performed by Rev. G. W. Orcutt, of the Erie street M. E. church. Promptly at 12 o'clock the bridal party entered the parlor to the sweet strains of the wedding march.

The bride is one of East Liverpool's best and fairest young ladies, and has for some time been the organist of the Erie street M. E. church choir. She is a musician of ability and has a host of friends who regret her departure from our city. She has been employed for about two years at McCrorey's store, where she has lately held the responsible position of cashier, she being one of their most trusted employes.

The bride carried a beautiful bouquet of bride's roses and was attended by Miss Julia Thomas, of Martin's Ferry, and Miss Janet Hill, of this city, each of whom carried a bouquet of beautiful flowers.

The groom was formerly employed in a local newspaper office, but now holds a position as linotype operator on the Alliance Review. He is a very prominent young man of that city and has bright prospects for the future. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Wellington, of Lisbon.

Immediately after the wedding ceremony the guests were seated at the table, where a seven-course dinner was served.

The residence was beautifully decorated throughout with palms, cut flowers and potted plants, and the parlor was a bower of perfect beauty.

About 50 guests were present to witness the ceremony, many of whom were from out of town, among them being Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Wellington and family, of Lisbon; Mrs. Martha Fife, of Dungannon; Mrs. Amelia Thomas and daughter, of Martin's Ferry; Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Hoiles, of Alliance; Mr. and Mrs. John Pinkerton, of Bellaire; Mr. and Mrs. Will Fife, of Dungannon; Mr. and Mrs. Will Hill, of Salineville; Miss Emma Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. John Henderson, of Martin's Ferry.

The newly wedded couple were the recipients of many handsome and costly presents. Mr. and Mrs. Wellington left on the afternoon train for a visit with friends in Lisbon and other towns, after which they will go to Alliance, where they will make their home.

The big railroad earnings are among the things that steady the stock market. Notwithstnding the recent flurry on Wall street, which has sent all shares, good and bad, down, the railroads of the country keep on increasing their income over a year ago and all former years. As the crop outlook, on the whole, is reasonably good, the earnings of the roads are sure to keep at a high figure for the next eight or ten months at least. An advance in stocks at an early day would seem to be inevitable. But whether the stock advance comes soon or late, the business situation is likely to remain safe. A heavy fall and winter trade is tolerably certain.

The Journal of the American Medical association figures up 4,458 cases of death or severe injury resulting from the last Fourth of July celebration, with the southern states yet to be heard from. Of this number there 415 deaths from lockjaw. Deaths from fireworks or explosives not causing lockjaw numbered 60. Ten persons were made blind; 75 lost one of their eyes; 54 lost hands, arms or legs; 174 lost one or two or more fingers; 3,670 received other severe injuries. The list of casualties resembles the report of a great battle rather than that of a peaceful celebration of our day of independence. There should be a change in methods of observing the Fourth of July unless we want to make it a day of sorrow rather than of joy. The first step should be to abolish the toy pistol, which is responsible for most of the fatalities.

The West End is not the only portion of the city where dives have thriven and flourished. The police should keep after the disorderly houses until none are to be found anywhere in the city. A good beginning has been made, but eternal vigilance will be necessary if the city is to be rid of numerous resorts which ought to be suppressed.

Tom Johnson will have three sets of enemies in the coming canvass—the John R. McLean men, the Zimmermanites and the Republican party. If Tom gets within 60,000 or 70,000 of winning he will be more surprised than either Herrick, Hanna or any other person in Ohio, says a western paper.

Interest in the international yacht race is on the wane. If Sir Thomas Lipton wants to revive it, let him change crews with the American boat.

Turkish provinces can't complain that they are governed too much. Their troubles arise from being taxed to death and not governed at all.

The breach in the Ohio Democratic party is widening. The Bryan and anti-Bryan wings cannot be induced to flap in harmony.

Even China shows an inclination to desert the silver party. There is no encouragement for Bryan Democrats anywhere.

Murders are becoming so common in Jefferson county that the newspapers dispose of them in a stick or two of matter.

Carnegie is coming back to America. Towns without libraries and churches without organs will please take notice.

Republicans will rejoice to hear that Mr. Bryan has no idea of abandoning his proposed stumping tour of Ohio.

Rev. Charles Laughlin, Formerly of This City, Doing Great Work in Columbus.

Columbus, Sept. 1.—Rev. Charles Laughlin, the pleasant and affable pastor of the Gift street M. E. church, lives at 115 Martin avenue with his wife and five children, enjoying a busy, useful life. It is his second year on the charge and in the two years he has lifted a debt of $600, which has been a nightmare for the congregation for a number of years, and started a successful movement for the rehabilitation of the church, both spiritually and materially, the former by adding to the interest and membership and the latter by renovating, repairing and repapering the church edifice.

Mr. Laughlin was born in Racine, Meigs county, O., and incidentally this statement brings about a discovery that three of the leading ministers of Columbus came from the same county, namely, Dr. McElroy, of the Broad street M. E. church; Rev. W. C. Hardinger, of the Gleenwood church, and Rev. Laughlin. Mr. Laughlin obtained his education wholly from the common school system of Ohio and is in every sense a self-made man. His father, John Laughlin, died in Racine some years ago, but his mother still lives near East Liverpool. Mr. Laughlin has been married twice, having two children by his first wife. His second wife was Miss Emma West, of Wellston, and they were married in Wellston during Mr. Laughlin's pastorate there. Three children have blessed the home from the last marriage. The home life of the family is a most pleasant one.

Fifteen years ago Mr. Laughlin began his ministerial career in a little charge embracing most of Lawrence and Gallia counties. The work was arduous and exacting, but the young minister went into it enthusiastically and had considerable success. The next year he was detailed to the Wellston church and remained there two years. Logan one year and New Plymouth one year were the next assignments, followed by a four years' itinerary in New Straitsville. Then came a four years' successful residence in Milford Center, from which Mr. Laughlin was transferred to the Gift street church. The work has all been in the Ohio conference, in which Mr. Laughlin has borne an influential part.

Mr. Laughlin has become known pretty generally over Ohio by reason of the fact that he has been engaged in lecturing for some time. Two of his lectures, "The Big Four of 1809" and "The Man for the Age," have won him many commendations in the press of the state.

FRIENDS AND VISITORS

Lyman Rinehart was a Pittsburg visitor today.

Miss Tilly Poole has gone to Sebring to visit friends for several days.

Mrs. K. E. Spencer, of Thompson avenue, is visiting friends in Salem.

Miss Marguerite Barnes left yesterday for Sebring, where she will visit friends.

Edward Wertheim, of Toledo, is visiting his aunt, Mrs. A. K. Adams, of Fourth street.

Dr and Mrs. W. R. Clark have returned from Barnesville., where they have been visiting relatives.

Misses Gertrude and Shirley Hannan, of Gallipolis, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. U. G. King, of Bradshaw avenue.

Mrs. S. J. Cripps and Mrs. J. T. Smith left this morning for Athens, where they will spend a few days visiting.

Miss Estella Trainer, who has been spending the summer with her mother, Mrs. M. Trainer, has returned to Chicago, to school.

Prof. C. E. Phillips, of the Ohio Valley Business college, has returned from a vacation trip passed with relatives in Muskingum county.

Jason Neville, of Fourth street, left for Williston, N. D., this morning to look up his claim of government land which he has owned for several years.

Mrs. Emerson Bowman and daughters Olive and Zora have returned home after an extended visit with Mrs. Bowman's mother at Columbiana. During their stay they visited a number of other cities, including Cleveland.

Go Prepared.

In preparing for your summer outing a little forethought may save you no end of trouble. Mr. John H. Manly, a dry goods merchant, of Bellville, R. I., while packing an outfit for camping a few weeks on Narragansett Bay, put in a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for emergency use. The second day in camp his little boy was taken with cramp colic. The first dose of this remedy gave relief and the second dose effected a cure. Think of the pain and suffering this boy would have had to endure without this remedy at hand to relieve him. Such cases often result fatally. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

WELLSVILLE

IN POLICE COURT

Mrs. Geisse's Hearing Postponed. Batch of Fines Imposed.

The case of Mrs. Hettie Geisse, which was to have been given a hearing last evening, was postponed until next Tuesday, so that more witnesses can be subpoenaed. Mrs. Geisse pleaded not guilty to the charge of selling intoxicating liquor on Sunday, August 30. Dan and Frank Kindle, who reside in the West End, near Eighteenth street, were arrested last evening by Officer Canaday for fighting. One of the boys was slightly under the influence of liquor. Both pleaded guilty and were fined $5, which they were not able to pay.

Anthony Crowley, an East Liverpool potter, was corraled in the West End last evening by Officer Henthorn, who entered a drunk and disorderly charge against him. He was assessed $5. Mike Murphy, an Irondale character, was arrested last evening by Officer Henthorn. A charge of being drunk and disorderly was filed. He was fined $9 which he was unable to pay.

A FIERCE COMBAT

In Which an Italian Got a Blow That Knocked Him Out.

A fistic combat took place on Commerce street between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets last evening which resulted in a knockout for an Italian named Tony Lazzioni.

A niece of John Connor, who was playing in the neighborhood was asked by her uncle to go home, as it was getting late. He scolded the child. Two or three Italians who were passing at the time made insulting remarks to Mr. Connor. Benjamin Connor, a brother of John, it is said, struck Lazzioni a blow on the neck which felled him to the ground and rendered him unconscious.

Fellow workmen carried the man to an Italian boarding house. It is said he did not regain his senses for four hours. It was reported this morning that the Italian had died, but the report is without foundation. No arrests were made.

COUNCIL MEETING

Important Matters to Engage the City Father's Attention Tonight.

The regular monthly meeting of city council will be held this evening and a lengthy session is anticipated. Several important issues are to be brought up and petitions to be acted upon. It is thought that the city water works trustees will make another request of council to supply the necessary funds with which to complete the new pumping station. About $7,000 is actually needed to put up buildings to house the machinery of the plant.

The board of public service will probably ask council to order the issuing of enough refunding bonds with which to replenish the road fund, which is now overdrawn, so that many much needed repairs to the streets can be made.

Where He Got His Liquor.

Mayor Fogo was called upon this morning by Mrs. William Stitts, of Fourth street, who entered complaint against her husband. She stated that he was beastly drunk and that he had been giving her endless trouble. Saloon keepers had been notified not to sell liquor to him. The mayor assigned Officer Elliott to locate Stitts and arrest him. Elliott found his man in the office of a well known Main street dentist and immediately brought him to the city jail. Stitts carried a 16-ounce bottle in his hip pocket, which was nearly empty. The bottle bore the label of a druggist and a prescription number, signed by a well known physician.

Eells Saying Nothing.

Leonard Eells, the Lisbon scoundrel who shot Chief Houser last Friday evening, was taken to Lisbon yesterday by Acting Chief Canaday, where he was lodged in the county jail. He is held under bond of $1,000, and it is believed here that he will be unable to find a bondsman. Eells had little to say to Officer Canaday during the trip to Lisbon and made no attempts to escape.

No Arrests Made.

J. Mosey and Gus Weaver, two well known railroaders residing in the West End, had an altercation in Bert Whitney's barber shop, near Eighteenth street, yesterday afternoon which resulted in a black eye for Mosey. No arrests were made.

STORIES OF THE STREET

East Liverpool People Are Talking About It on Every Corner.

It is sometimes an easy matter to fool the public, but you can't keep it up very long. They are sure to find you out; and every time a man is fooled another skeptic is made. Skepticism is allowable when reading in a home newspaper about some incident occurring in San Francisco or Philadelphia, but the circumstances are entirely different when it refers to some one right here at home, friends and neighbors, people you know, whom you can see and with whom you can talk it over. This is the kind of evidence at the back of Doan's Kidney Pills, home statements by home people, and the astonishing local work they have been doing has caused more talk among our citizens than the doings of any other modern wonder. Read the following:

Mrs. Edward Orr, of 220 Thompson street, says: "My sister, Mrs. Borlan, while visiting us, recommended Doan's Kidney Pills so highly that I was induced to try them. I had severe attacks of kidney complaint. Sometimes I was so bad I could not get up. Many times my neighbors came and found me lying on the lounge suffering when I intended doing a big day's work. I was so miserable I could do nothing. After my sister told me of the pills I made up my mind to try them and got a box at the W. & W. Pharmacy. They did just what they claimed they would do—cured me sound and well in a few days. My little girl was feeling poorly and had a sallow complexion for some time. I gave her a few doses and after the treatment she felt splendidly."

A GOOD BILL

Park patrons will be pleased this week over another good offering, although, as to be expected, it suffers by comparison with that of last week. There are two numbers on the program this week, however, that are well worth going to see, the Sully family and Barker's dogs. The other numbers also provide entertainment.

Ely and Harvey have a rather clever singing skit, introducing in a catchy way some of the latest songs. The Sully family puts on one of the best acts seen in the vaudeville circuits this year. The two youngsters can act wonderfully well and both were roundly applauded. Elizabeth Estelly introduces some coon songs in a vivacious manner, but with a voice only ordinary. She can dance, however. Barker's dogs were the whole show. The little animals surpass anything seen on the stage in this section. The usual nonsensical part of the performances of this nature was not apparent. The tricks the animals have been trained to do are original and highly entertaining. Of particular interest is the long distance jumping and leaping by the greyhounds. The kinetoscope pictures are interesting.

BY SPECIAL REQUEST

The Zara Trio Will Repeat Its Admirable Bicycle Act Tonight.

Upon special request of many of the summer theater patrons, Manager Franklin has arranged for the reappearance tonight of the Zara trio in the laughing bicycle skit that made such a great hit at the theater last week. This trio has certainly been the most popular of the season and the skit put on by them has been the biggest hit. Besides some wonderful tricks and fancy bicycle riding many mirth provoking incidents are introduced. It is worth while to see this act.

The minstrel people at the park last week will shortly leave for McKeesport, Pa.

A NICARAGUAN CANAL

Senators and Representatives Being Consulted and Decisive Action Expected—Protocols Permit Immediate Beginning of Work.

Washington, Sept. 1.—Secretary Hay has invited senators and representatives interested in the Isthmian canal to meet and discuss the advisability of going ahead with the canal by the Nicaraguan route. This would indicate that the administration does not intend to be longer delayed by the whims of Colombia. Senator Cullom, chairman of the committee on foreign relations of the senate; Representative Hitt, chairman of the committee on foreign affairs of the house; Senator Morgan and Representative Hepburn, chairmen of the canal committee of the senate and house of representatives, respectively, are among those who have been called into conference.

They will be asked to state their views as to whether "a reasonable time" has been given Colombia to ratify the treaty.

Delay Will Not Be Tolerated.

The condition of affairs in Colombia has now become so complicated that it appears to be futile to longer pursue negotiations. The course now being taken by the secretary of state, it is believed, shows conclusively that the administration does not intend to longer permit any dallying with this important question, and it is asserted that active operations looking toward the building of a canal may be expected in the near future.

The report that the department of Panama is on the verge of a revolt tends to make the situation in Colombia an impossible one, so far as building a canal there is concerned. The situation has in this way became a very delicate one.

Protocols Give Ample Authority.

There has been some disagreement as to the course that should be adopted by this government under the Spooner amendment in turning to Nicaragua for the route for a canal. It is understood that the secretary of state, as well as prominent members of the senate and house, believe that the protocols that were agreed to between the president and Costa Rica and Nicaragua in December, 1900, give ample authority to proceed with the building of the canal in Nicaragua.

In the event of the ratification of the treaty for the building of a canal in Panama there would have been a necessity in the near future for further treaty negotiations for the settlement of many details that were not disposed of finally by that document.

The treaty was ratified by the senate in the exact form that it was negotiated, with the understanding that corrections to some of its provisions might be made. It was admitted by many senators that probably all of the amendments proposed by Senator Morgan were desirable, but they took the ground that if the treaty were changed it would delay its final ratification, as the form in which it went to the senate was satisfactory to the Colombian government.

It is exactly in this same way that additional treaty stipulations between this country and Nicaragua and Costa Rica will have to be made. They are not, it is declared, of a nature to interfere with the immediate beginning of the work. It is also understood that if the United States wishes to begin the construction of the canal in the near future there is no reason for delay.

Body Exhumed Proves Murder.

Steubenville, O., Sept. 1.—There is no longer any doubt as to the murder of Ignatius Sobolewski, whose body was found in the bushes at D'Henvale. Coroner Campbell exhumed the body and a bullet was found in it, in addition to the cuts on the head. Antonio Sfko, a suspect, could not be located, but four other men suspected of murder, the men were arrested.

REALM OF SPORTS

John Wallace's Spectacular Play the Feature of Yesterday's Ball Game.

With Niles Was a Superb Exhibition and Was Highly Enjoyed By Large Crowd of Enthusiastic Fans—Long Hits Made By Each Side.

Those millions of tadpoles and frogs living in the West End park since the heavy rains of last week had the greatest laugh of their lives yesterday afternoon, and according to Park Tender Bert Hunter their fat sides are still heaving. To Attorney John Wallace they certainly feel greatly indebted. For it was this student of Blackstone that produced their mirth.

It was during the first game of the series of three being played with Niles in which the locals were beaten by a score of 5 to 3 that members of the frog family were greeted with the stunt. Wallace had already entertained the little things by prancing around them for at least four times. They thought before his last that no man ever danced a more comical jig and all had decided to make their appreciation known last evening by giving the West End residents a rousing serenade by the rendition of that solemnly beautiful hymn, entitled "Take Your Feet Out of the Mud." But after his closing scene they were not equal to the occasion and only gave poor John a big laugh.

The people, 500 or more, who witnessed the act, also joined in. They knew it was the most spectacular performance ever presented in the famous park and it was beyond them to hold their glee. Ortleib, catcher for the visitors, had made a hit and was dead anxious to add another. And it was at his expense that Wallace made the show. The athletic coal shover landed on the little sphere for at least three bases—that is, if it had gone most any other direction.

While it was sailing over the pond and almost too far to be handled, Wallace made a shirt tail shoot for the center of the swamp and with a "swing your partner" stunt made a desperate lunge into the air, and he closed in on the precious ball. But alas! the worst was yet to come. His equilibrium was lost and among those pesky little animals he sprawled. An uproar, both from the pond and the grand stand, that could be heard from hill to hill immediately ensued and Wallace walked to the bench, not covered alone with mud—there was a mixture of glory in it.

Though the fans would have been better satisfied had the score been somewhat different, there are few who will say other than that the exhibition was full of expert plays and that the game was one worth anybody's time. A large crowd assembled at the park, every one knowing as a result of the last series with Niles that it has a team of merit, and considering that it was the first of a continuous string of six games, the management feels elated over the gate receipts.

It is probably a little unsafe to say or try to say why the locals met defeat. One things sure, they hit the slabbist hard enough. Maybe it was because they did not hit him to the right spots in that mud-covered area. And maybe the defeat was the result of extraordinary good batting on the part of Niles. It might have been because the visitors were just two runs faster than Captain Reark and his gang. Those points are all left to the fan for decisions.

The first man up for Niles, that fellow who so narrowly escaped the gallows last week because he was envious of a pretty ball he happened to spy, put a sort of damper on the game. He whaled away at the ball and never did stop until he could spit on third. It resulted in a run, the score being made when Murphy put a long one out to Wallace. In this inning the locals failed to turn a trick. They fell easy prey and continued such work until the third, when Houser and Brown tried their best to put the ball clear out of the business. By their terrible efforts they scored two runs, and that was the only time they had the game won.

In the fourth the visitors piled up three runs, one three-bagger, one two-bagger and a single. They were equivalent to two runs and when they scored one in the seventh they had gone so far ahead that the locals never trotted in their class again, notwithstanding that Gibson scored in the same inning after he had made a pretty single. After that the locals went out in order, while Niles was not satisfied to quit without rubbing it in. They did so when another run was tallied in the eighth.

The score:

Notes of the Game.

Brown called forth merited applause when he handled two hot ones in rapid succession in the third.

Webb was there to the finish. He accepted all but one chance, and did so with credit.

Heckathorn only (?) had 11 chances. He is surely up against it. They throw them to him any old way and if he don't fall all over himself some one gets an error.

Krueger played a faultless game at second. He is about the cleanest player in the Niles bunch, fielding over an enormous area.

Third Year of the Club Promises to Be Successful—Good Games Booked.

The foot ball season is again with us and with it comes the reorganization of one of the fastest teams that ever donned uniform in this city, the Oakland Athletic club. This club was first organized three years ago by Emmett Mylar, a young athlete from Steubenville, who successfully played the game for three years with Steubenville high school, and who diligently studied the tactics of "Slab" Burns, of that city.

The first year was very successful, the team having been scored on but once during the season, and that by Toronto high school, and having themselves scored as many as 38 points in one game against opponents. Last year the team was not reorganized until the season was nearly over, thus enabling them to play but two games. But great things are expected of them this season, as can be seen by the line-up. A schedule of games is being arranged by Manager Harry A. Weaver which will include such teams as Sebring, Wellsburg, Steubenville, Bethany, Coraopolis, New Brighton and other teams in the vicinity of Pittsburg.

The initial game will probably be played with the Bruno Athletic club of Wellsville the latter part of September.

Following is a list of the members who will take part in the game this season:

Albert Price, who is very popular with sports throughout the city and who is recognized as one of the best centers in town, having played that position for the Diamond Indians. The position of right guard will be filled by George Mauts, who is in his third year and who is a very promising young player. Rudolph Sanford will play right tackle, in which position he distinguished himself with the Marine Athletic club of the East End. Lem Harvey, a former star of Carrollton, will take good care of right end, and the opposing team can consider themselves lucky if they get around him. Left guard will be played by Ed Wilson, who played excellent foot ball for the Royal Tigers. Left tackle and left end will be filled by James Miles and "China" Weikert, respectively. Both men are from Sebring, where their playing with the Sebring Athletic club was considered sensational. The qualities of John Little, who will play quarterback, are well known by every rooter in town. He is also an ex-Diamond Indian. Carl Angle, formerly of Toronto high school; Fred Mountford, of East Liverpool high school, and Will Maple will be the half backs. Willis Orr, who is one of the best fullbacks in the city; Grover Laughlin, whose qualities are yet to be developed, and Emmett ("Ducky") Myler, whose reputation is already established, will be the trio who will look after the position of fullback.

The team expects to win the majority if not all the games they play, and will be a credit to East Liverpool.

Another club woman, Mrs. Haule, of Edgerton, Wis., tells how she was cured of irregularities and uterine trouble, terrible pains and backache, by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—A while ago my health began to fail because of female troubles. The doctor did not help me. I remembered that my mother had used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound on many occasions for irregularities and uterine troubles, and I felt sure that it could not harm me at any rate to give it a trial.

"I was certainly glad to find that within a week I felt much better, the terrible pains in the back and side were beginning to cease, and at the time of menstruation I did not have nearly as serious a time as heretofore, so I continued its use for two months, and at the end of that time I was like a new woman. I really have never felt better in my life, have not had a sick headache since, and weigh 20 pounds more than I ever did, so I unhesitatingly recommend your medicine."—MRS. MAY HAULE, Edgerton, Wis., Pres. Household Economics Club.

When women are troubled with irregularities, suppressed or painful menstruation, weakness, indigestion, leucorrhœa, displacement or ulceration of the womb, inflammation of the ovaries, general debility, and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faintness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, "all-gone" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feelings, blues, and hopelessness, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles. Refuse to buy any other medicine, for you need the best.

Frances Cook, Box 670, Kane, Pa., says:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I suffered for ten years with leucorrhœa, but am glad to say that through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and her Sanative Wash I am cured, for which I am very thankful."

Saved

From Horror of Sudden Death.

Terribly Bloated, Severe Pain.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure Cured Completely.

When your heart is right you are unconscious that you have one; when anything goes wrong you know it at once—if you take heed. The heart warns by shortness of breath, palpitation, fluttering, hard beating, pain in chest, left side, or between shoulder blades, fainting, smothering or sinking spells. The only reliable remedy that any one knows of is Dr. Miles' Heart Cure. It has always cured when nothing else would even help. Read the remarkable statement of Mrs. Ingram:

"Dr. Miles' Heart Cure saved my life and Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine saved me from insanity. I was very skeptical when I began using them but my boy begged me to give them a fair trial and I bought three bottles of the Heart Cure and four of the Nervine. My heart fluttered so and I could hardly walk because from my knees to my feet my legs were terribly bloated in the afternoon. I suffered from terrible burning in my throat. The top of my head was sore, suffered pain in the small of my back, I lost my appetite and could not sleep. I suffered from pains in my left shoulder, swelling under left arm, pain around my heart, shortness of breath and extreme nervous spells. My doctor gave me up but Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nerve and Liver Pills cured me completely. My pains and aches and palpitation are all gone and I am now enjoying good health. I cheerfully recommend Dr. Miles' Remedies and hope that others may experience the same benefit that I have."—Mrs. N. A. Ingram, Stanton, Mich.

The way the Handlers put the bug on the Jiggermen yesterday in Chester was a shame. They simply wiped the earth with them. The score was 19 to 8. The teams having each won a game there was considerable interest displayed in the result. Cain struck out five times. The Handlers challenged the losers for a game at $5 a side. The score:

NAU'S DYSPEPSIA CURE—IT CURES THE CAUSE.

"For 20 years until within the last 15 months I have been greatly troubled with indigestion and have used a great many remedies without obtaining any permanent relief. About the 15th of June, 1900, I commenced using Nau's Dyspepsia Cure, and am pleased to say that I consider myself entirely cured of all stomach troubles. I have delayed expressing to you my opinion of your valuable remedy until such a time has elapsed as to convince me of my entire recovery. At the time I began to use Nau's Dyspepsia Cure, my health was in a critical condition and my friends had almost given up hopes of my recovery, and I am satisfied in my opinion that had it not been for Nau's Dyspepsia Cure, I would not be alive to write this letter." KODOL
Digests What You Eat.

Weak Hearts

Are due to indigestion. Ninety-nine of every one hundred people who have heart trouble can remember when it was simple indigestion. It is a scientific fact that all cases of heart disease, not organic, are not only traceable to, but are the direct result of indigestion. All food taken into the stomach which fails of perfect digestion ferments and swells the stomach, puffing it up against the heart. This interferes with the action of the heart, and in the course of time that delicate but vital organ becomes diseased.

Kodol

Digests What You Eat

Mrs. Loring Nichols of Penn Yan, N. Y., writes: After eating, my food would distress me by making my heart palpitate and I would become very weak. Finally I got a bottle of Kodol and it gave me immediate relief. After using a few bottles I am cured.

Kodol cures indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach disorders, and gives the heart a full, free and untrammeled action.

Synopsis of Preceding Chapters.

CHAPTER I.—Grenfall Lorry, a wealthor occupant who refuses or neglects to do quaintance with a charming foreign girl on the train from Denver to Washington. The pair are left behind when the fler stops for repairs in West Virginia. II.—Lorry wires ahead to hold the train. He and the unknown girl ride twenty miles at a tearing pace in a mountain coach. Lorry knows it is a dangerous ride. There is no love-making, but a near approach to it as the rolling stage tumbles the passengers about. III.—Lorry dines with the foreign party, consisting of Miss Guggenslocker, Uncle Caspar and Aunt Yvonne. They are natives of Graustark, a country Lorry had never heard of before. IV.—Lorry shows the foreigners the sights of Washington. They leave for New York to sail on the Kaiser Wilhelm. Miss Guggenslocker naively calls Lorry her "Ideal American" and invites him to come and see her at Edelweiss. V.—Wildly infatuated, Lorry hurries to New York. The name Guggenslocker is not on the steamer list. He sees the steamer off Miss G. waves him a kiss from the deck. VI.—Lorry joins his old friend, Harry Anguish, an American artist in Paris. Graustark and its capital Edelweiss, are located by a guide book. The Americans get no trace of the Guggenslockers there. VII.—Lorry sees his charmer driving in a carriage with a beautiful companion of her own sex. He gets a glance of recognition, but the carriage rolls on, leaving the mystery unsolved. Later he receives a note at his hotel signed Sophia Guggenslocker, inviting him to visit her next day. VIII.—In the evening Lorry and Anguish ramble about the grounds of the castle where dwells the court of the princess of Graustark. They overhear a plot to abduct the princess and resolve to capture the plotters red handed. IX.—Following the conspirators, Lorry finds himself in a room he heard them designate as that of the princess. X.—Lorry tells the princess of the plot. Mutual recognition; she is Miss Guggenslocker. Dannox, the guard, is in the abduction plot. He fells Lorry with a terrible blow. Anguish to the rescue. XI.—Lorry quartered in the castle. The princess visits him, but forbids all talk of love. XII.—Graustark is bankrupt and owes the neighboring princedom of Axphain $30,000,000. The creditor demands cash or the cession of the richest districts of Graustark. XIII.—The Prince of Axphain offers to extend the loan if the princess will marry his son Lorenz. Prince Gabriel, of Dawsbergen, also bids for the princess' hand with offer of a loan. Yetive tells Lorry that she belongs to her people and will marry Lorenz. XIV.—Lorry discovered kissing the princess while she is seated on the throne. He quits the castle by royal command. XV.—Betrothal of the princess to Lorenz. The Americans recognize Gabriel as chief conspirator in the abduction plot. XVI.—Lorenz toasts the princess lightly in a cafe. Lorry dashes the glass from his hand. Challenge to a duel. Lorenz assassinated. Lorry charged with the crime. XVII.—Princess Yetive commits Lorry to prison. All Graustark rejoices at the death of Lorenz. XVIII and XIX.—The princess helps Lorry to escape. Disguised as a soldier, she conducts him to a monastery. XX.—Axphain offers Graustark grace on the loan if Lorry is executed before Nov. 20. Yetive offers a reward for the capture of Lorry. XXI and XXII.—Lorry prevails upon Quinnox, an emissary of the princess, to conduct him secretly to the castle. He will surrender himself to save the realm. The princess spurns the offer of Gabriel.

Under the stealthy hand of Quinnox the panel opened, and they listened intently for some moments. There was no one in the dimly lighted chapel, so they made their way to the door at the opposite end. Before unlocking the door the captain pointed to a lance which stood against the wall near by.

"You are to carry that lance," he said briefly. Then he cautiously peered forth. A moment later they were in the broad hall, boldly striding toward the distant stairway. Lorry had been instructed to proceed without the least sign of timidity. They passed several attendants in the hall and heard Count Halfont's voice in conversation with some one in an anteroom. As they neared the broad steps who should come tripping down but Harry Anguish. He saluted Quinnox and walked rapidly down the corridor, evidently taking his departure after a call on the countess.

"There goes your hostage," said the captain grimly. It had required all of Lorry's self possession to restrain the cry of joyful recognition. Up the staircase they went, meeting several ladies and gentlemen coming down, and were soon before the apartments of the princess. A tall guard stood in front of the boudoir door.

"This is your relief, Bassot. You may go," said Quinnox, and with a careless glance at the strange soldier the sick man trudged off down the hall, glad to seek his bed.

"Is she there?" whispered Lorry, dizzy and faint with expectancy.

"Yes. This may mean your death and mine, sir, but you would do it. Will you explain to her how I came to play her false?"

"She shall know the truth, good friend."

"After I have gone twenty paces down the hall do you rap on the door. She may not admit you at first, but do not give up. If she bid you enter or asks your mission, enter quickly and close the door. It is unlocked. She may swoon or scream, and you must prevent either if possible. In an hour I shall return and you must go back to the passage."

"Never! I have come to save her and her country, and I intend to do so by surrendering myself this very night."

"I had hoped to dissuade you. But, sir, you cannot do so tonight. You forget that this visit compromises her."

"True. I had forgotten. Well, I'll go back with you, but tomorrow I am your prisoner, not your friend."

"Be careful," cautioned the captain as he moved away. Lorry feverishly tapped his knuckles on the panel of the door and waited with motionless heart for the response. It came not, and he rapped harder, a strange fear darting into his mind.

"Well?" came from within, the voice he adored.

Impetuous haste marked his next movement. He dashed open the door, sprang inside and closed it quickly. She was sitting before her escritoire, writing, and looked up, surprised and annoyed.

"I was not to be disturbed—oh"—

She staggered to her feet and was in his arms before the breath of her exclamation had died away. Had he not supported her she would have dropped to the floor. Her hands, her face, were like ice, her breast was pulseless, and there was the wildest terror in her eyes.

"My darling—my queen!" he cried passionately. "At last I am with you! Don't look at me like that! It is really I—I could not stay away—I could not permit this sacrifice of yours! Speak to me! Do not stare like that!"

Her wide blue eyes slowly swept his face, piteous wonder and doubt struggling in their depths.

"Am I awake?" she murmured, touching his face with her bewildered, questioning hands. "Is it truly you?" A smile illumined her face, but her joy was short lived. An expression of terror came to her eyes, and there was agony in the fingers that clasped his arm. "Why do you come here?" she cried. "It is madness! How and why came you to this room?"

He laughed like a delighted boy and hastily narrated the events of the past twenty-four hours, ending with the trick that gave him entrance to her room.

"And all this to see me?" she whispered.

"To see you and to save you. I hear that Gabriel has been annoying you and that you are to give up half of the kingdom tomorrow. Tell me everything. It is another reason for my coming."

Sitting beside him on the divan, she told of Gabriel's visit and his dismissal, the outlook for the next day, and then sought to convince him of the happiness it afforded her to protect him from an undeserved death. He obtained for Quinnox the royal pardon and lauded him to the skies. So ravishing were the moments, so ecstatic the sensations that possessed them, that neither thought of the consequences if he were to be discovered in her room, disguised as one of her guardsmen. He forgot the real import of his reckless visit until she commanded him to stand erect before her that she might see what manner of soldier he was. With a laugh, he leaped to his feet and stood before her—attention! She leaned back among the cushions and surveyed him through the glowing, impassioned eyes which slowly closed as if to shut out temptation.

"You are a perfect soldier," she said, her lashes parting ever so slightly.

"No more perfect than you!" he cried. She remembered, with confusion, her own masquerading, but it was unkind of him to remember it. Her allusion to his uniform turned his thoughts into the channel through which they had been surging so turbulently up to the moment that found him tapping at her door. He had not told her of his determination, and the task grew harder as he saw the sparkle glow brighter and brighter in her eye.

"You are a brave soldier, then," she substituted. "It required courage to come to Edelweiss with hundreds of men ready to seize you at sight, a pack of bloodhounds."

WHY WE ARE AGENTS

Here Are Some of the Convincing Facts That Caused us to Take the Agency for the Fulton Compounds, the First Things Known that Cure Chronic Kidney Diseases.

First, let it be distinctly understood that every one of the cases below had been diagnosed by one or more physicians as chronic and incurable; second, note the certainty of the results as shown by the recovery also of the friends they told who were similarly afflicted with supposed incurable kidney diseases.

N. W. Spaulding, President Spaulding Saw Co., San Francisco, had a recovery in his own family and told several others who recovered.

Adolph Weske, capitalist, San Francisco, recovered himself and told two friends who recovered.

Dr. Carl D. Ziele, pioneer druggist, 522 Pacific street, San Francisco, recovered himself and gave it to more than a dozen patients who recovered.

Charles Engelke, editor of the German paper, San Francisco, recovered himself and told it to a number who recovered, one of them being Charles F. Wacker, the Sixth street merchant.

The kidneys are the sewers that strain the poisons out of the system. We can stand the derangement for a short while, but when the interference becomes chronic (permanent), as first explained by Bright, it is only a question of how long before death will ensue. It is then called Brights Disease and incurable. All kidney troubles develop into this form about the 8th to 10th month. The above cases were incurable by all other known means. People having kidney disease should begin at first with the only known thing that will cure it if it has reached the serious stage. Fulton's Renal Compound for Bright's and Kidney Diseases, $1; for Diabetes, $1.50. John J. Fulton Co., 409 Washington street, San Francisco, sole compounders. Send for pamphlet. WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

TRADE GOOD AT TRENTON.

Trenton, N. J., Sept. 1.—(Special.)—Trade among the local potteries is steadily assuming a healthy proportion. Not since the closing of the spring trade has the order files been so well filled. Orders are arriving quite steadily and this may be accounted for by the fact that nearly all the traveling men are out on the road. Now is the season with the local potteries when they sell considerable ware, especially in the finer qualities and novelties for the holiday trade. While business is picking up there is still some room for improvement. Most of the plants report good kilns, which is in decided contrast to the conditions last spring, when tons of ware had to be deposited in the ash heap because of some defect in the firing or of a general run of bad clay.

The crockery trade has been joined by the lamp factories, which are also making quite a bid for business. All of the lamp factories have men out soliciting orders for the new fall goods, which include many new and artistic shapes and designs.

The Maddock Pottery company, the Mercer pottery and the Glasgow pottery are all working on large hotel orders, some for the common heavy ware and others for decorated dinner sets of the finest quality. The sanitary trade notices about the same run of affairs. While there is still quite a demand for closets it is not so great as it was in the spring when building took a decided boom.

An important work on the clay industries of New Jersey is being compiled under the auspices of the state geologist and will be ready soon. It is being prepared by Dr. Heinrich Reiss, who is a recognized authority on clay, both in this country and Europe. The report will consist of his opinion upon the economic and technical phases of the clay industries of the state. The importance of such a report can be judged from the fact that the annual value of manufactured clay products in the state is more than $11,000,000, and that the value of raw material, mined and sold to manufacturers is about $500,000. The report will contain chapters on the following subjects: "The Origin of Clay," "The Technology of Clay-working Industries" and "The Manufacture of Pottery." It is planned to include in the report maps showing the general formations of clay and the capacity of each of the clay working industries throughout New Jersey. Much progress has been made in this report. A large number of samples of raw clay and the selection of these has been pretty nearly accomplished. Not only have samples been taken from localities now being worked, but of others in the hope of aiding in the development of new regions.

POTTERIES OF DENMARK.

In Denmark the trade in potting in fine ware is represented by the famous Royal factory, whose porcelain is known over the world; there is also a private firm which makes excellent ware. The strong feature of the Royal factory is the excellence, hardness and brilliancy of the glaze; some of the most successful pieces take the form of animals, such as polar bears, otters with fish, and other similar subjects, all beautifully modeled without being extravagant.

The earthenware factory is also an excellent and well-appointed concern, the proprietors of which have shown a most enterprising spirit. They have succeeded in doing that which has so long been desideratum in the potteries, viz., firing ware by gas, and so completely consuming their own smoke. No greater boon could be conferred on the pottery towns than the introduction of a system that would completely abolish smoke.

So far as the Copenhagen works are concerned this has been accomplished, for the factory chimneys give off nothing but a little steam. There are in Denmark also a number of terra cotta makers, some of whom are very successfully introducing on their ware colored glazes, splashed, mottled and agate effects; somewhat old in treatment, but very pleasing.

NEW YORK NOTES.

While business in the crockery line cannot yet be termed brisk, a fairly large number of orders have been received from the regular trade during the last week. The individual purchases, though not large, have amounted to considerable in the aggregate and a constantly increasing volume of business is confidently expected from now on, says the Commerciay. The traveling salesmen have also not been behind in turning in their quota or orders and they generally report excellent business prospects along their route. Most of the potteries are pretty well stocked up just now in anticipation of a sudden demand as soon as the fall buying gets livelier. For American goods a better demand than in former years is noted, with the higher grade of ware in the best request. In foreign goods the German lines receive considerable attention, while French and English wares are much sought after in the more elaborate patterns.

RUNNING FULL.

POTTERY NOTES.

F. S. Crowl, one of the representatives of the Hall China company, left a few days ago for Iowa to visit his trade.

Ed Veith and family, of Fourth street, have been spending a week or so at Niagara Falls, enjoying a rest. Mrs. Veith has been somewhat indisposed of late, but is improving.

Claude Gigax, of Zanesville, formerly a decorator at the K., T. & K., has returned to this city and will accept a position in the decorating department of one of the local potteries.

The membrs of the committee are unable to figure out how it comes the officials of the gas company were of the opinion that the committee had any intention of meeting with them in Pittsburg. The matter was never discussed at any length, but it was certainly expected that the conference would be held in East Liverpool, where are located the lines in which East Liverpool is interested. The action taken by the council Saturday night was due to the fact that the authorities had given up hope of hearing from the gas company, and it must stand.

MAY RESULT IN WAR

INSURGENTS CROSS FRONTIER

Turkish Troops in Vilayet of Uskub Spread Destruction Along Route. A Number of Bulgarian Villages Burned—Revolt Becoming General.

Sofia, Sept. 1.—Both in official and revolutionary circles the opinion is freely held that war between Bulgaria and Turkey is imminent and can be averted by nothing short of a miracle. It is not expected that either government will formally declare hostilities, but that the prevailing conditions will force on a war.

There is no question that large numbers of insurgents have recently crossed the frontier. An extensive out break in northern Macedonia is possible any day.

The Autonomic prints a telegram from Constantinople declaring that the sultan, influenced by the counsels of Germany, now favors a war with Bulgaria. The Turks here, however, take an optimistic view, asserting that there is no danger of a war, as Turkey does not desire one, and Prince Ferdinand and the present Bulgarian government are not in a position to force hostilities.

Population Subjected to Outrage.

The Bulgarian agent at Uskub reports that the detachments of Turkish troops sent to garrison the small towns in that vilayet have spread destruction along their route; the villagers have been robbed and beaten; the women violated, and the Christian population subjected to every conceivable outrage, while the local authorities appear to be helpless to stop the atrocities.

At the village of Drachevo, six miles from Uskub, the soldiers attacked all the peasants without the gendarmes interfering on behalf of the latter. The Bulgarian agent specifies similar excesses in many other villages, and the position of the Bulgarian residents is reported to be terrible, as the cruelties committed by the Turkish authorities exceed all limits.

Prince Ferdinand has not yet arrived in Sofia and the court officials declare that they are without information as to his movements.

Amnesty Offered Insurgents.

Salonica, Sept. 1.—The Turks have occupied Klissura, Albania, without resistance. A number of Bulgarian villages in its vicinity were burned.

Inspector General Hilmi Pasha recently sent a cimmission, composed of five Christians and five Turks, to offer amnesty to the insurgents on condition that they lay down their arms before the great feast in honor of the sultan's coronation.

Sarafoff, the revolutionary leader, has arrived in the neighborhood of Salonica for the purpose of directing the movements in this district.

London Firm Supplied Mad Mullah.

Aden, Arabia, Sept. 1.—The principal sources for the supply of rifles and ammunition to the Mad Mullah's forces in Somaliland have been traced through a complete identification of trade marks to a London firm. Since the commencement of the operations in Somaliland an aggregate of 3,000,000 rounds of Lee-Metford rifle ammunition and correspondingly large numbers of Lee-Metford and Gras rifles have been shipped by this London firm to Jibutil and Harrar by way of Manchester and Marseilles.

Dan Patch Makes Good Race.

St. Paul, Sept. 1.—Sixty thousand people saw Dan Patch unsuccessfully attempt to lower his world's pacing record of 1:59 at the state fair grounds. Despite the fact that the great pacer had gone against time on last Friday at Readville, Mass., and had been almost continuously on the cars ever since, he went a mile in 2 minutes flat. The day was ideal, being warm, with scarcely a breeze stirring, and the track was in first-class condition. Time by quarters—30, 59¾, 1:30¼, 2:00.

Bryan to Boost Ohio Campaign.

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 1.—W. J. Bryan left for Ohio to begin his campaign in behalf of the Democratic state ticket. Mr. Bryan said his telegram to Tom L. Johnson had been misunderstood; that he had not canceled any dates in Ohio, but business matters kept him at home. He would, he said, fill postponed dates later in the campaign, probably in October.

Lawyer Thrashed on Street.

Quarantine Established.

El Paso, Tex., Sept. 1.—Acting upon instructions from Austin, the local state health officers has established a quarantine at this port of entry against Monterey, Victoria and Rinales, Mexico, where yellow fever is said to exist.

OFFICIALS ON TRIAL

Millionaires Before Chief Justice Grummere in Circuit Court of Newark.

INDICTED FOR MANSLAUGHTER

New York, Sept. 1.—Indicted for manslaughter, Alexander J. Cassatt, John D. Crimmins, Dr. Leslie D. Ward, Edward F. C. Young and other millionaire trolley officials were placed on trial before Chief Justice Gummere in the circuit court of Newark, N. J.

"These men were the executive committee of the board of directors of the North Jersey Street railway, the managing directors," said Prosecutor Riker. "As such they took upon themselves the responsibility of the management and safe operation of the trolley lines of the company. They did not have to assume that responsibility, but, having done so, it became their duty to provide safe transportation for its passengers.

"They owed to Ernestine Miller a duty involving the responsibility to provide her with a derailing switch at the steam railroad crossing, a clear track and such other safeguards as would insure her safe travel."

Nine School Children Killed.

Ernstine Miller, 15 years old, was one of nine high school pupils killed on the morning of February 19 last in a collision between a crosstown car and the Bernardsville express train on the Lackawanna railroad at Clifton avenue. Her case was made the basis of the official investigation which ended with the 11 indictments. At the session of the court the jury selected, two witnesses disposed of and the third was under cross-examination.

There was no questioning of jurors, the procedure being by peremptory challenge. Each defendant had the right to 20 challenges, a total of 220, and the state was allowed 12 challenges.

The first witness was Edward G. Kempf, a surveyor, who showed diagrams and measurements he had made of the Clifton avenue crossing and the immediate vicinity.

Sister on the Stand.

He was followed by Mrs. Minnie M. Horle, sister of Ernestine Miller. The defense admitted the death of Miss Miller and also that she was a passenger on the wrecked car. This was done to relieve Mrs. Horle from the pain of a prolonged examination as to her sister's death.

The last witness of the day was James Kay, a letter carrier, who was at the crossing at the time of the accident. He described the condition of the approach to the crossing and said that the motorman of the trolley car apparently made every effort to stop the car, but could not do so on account of the ice-covered condition of the tracks. He was still on the stand when court adjourned for the day.

RACE IS AGAIN DECLARED OFF

Wind Dies Down at Critical Point. Reliance's Ultimate Triumph Now Conceded.

New York, Sept. 1.—Again the beautiful cup defender Reliance failed to register her third victory over Lipton's challenger because the wind died to nothing, and the time limit of five and a half hours expired before she could reach the finish line. Her margin was approximately the same as on Thursday last. She was less than half a mile from the finish when the gun sounded. The Shamrock III. was a faint blur on the horizon fully two and a half miles astern.

Reliance's failure to score the race was the more exasperating because her ultimate triumph is now conceded even by Sir Thomas himself, to be simply a formality. The superiority of the Herreshoff boat in any kind of weather is acknowledged by the yachting critics of both sides of the Atlantic, and the fluke only prolongs the agony of the contest that has already been decided.

The waning interest in the cup races was strikingly illustrated by the size of the observation fleet, if the ships which went down to the ocean race course could be dignified by such a title. Outside of the revenue cutters which patroled the course it consisted of half a dozen side wheelers with almost empty decks, a few sea-going tugs and a score of steam yachts.
